

MUST REPORT ON ALL NEW DETOURS

State Highway Department Moves to End All Complaints

Because of the great number of detours made necessary through the unprecedented amount of road construction now under way, the State Highway Department, it was announced today, each week will make public through the newspapers a list of all existing detours and their locations.

Assistant State Highway Commissioner George H. Biles has instructed the fifteen district engineers in Pennsylvania to file with the Department each week complete information concerning every detour in their district. In his letter to the engineers, Mr. Biles said: "The placing, marking, maintenance and advertisement of detours is a subject of vital importance to the public. It calls for the application of a more comprehensive and systematic plan of handling. It is of great importance at this time and contributes to the success of our efforts. Complete co-operation must be had from all persons connected with the State Highway Department."

Beginning Monday, June 9, the State Highway Bureau of Information will furnish to all the daily newspapers in Pennsylvania information of the following description: Location of detours; description and conditions of detours (whether State highway, State-aid, township or private road); the approximate date detour was placed or is to be placed; approximate date detour is to be removed.

The various engineers in making their reports will also furnish information of a more general description concerning their detours. Post card reports are to be made to the State Highway Department each week and a large map has been prepared in the Department offices of Harrisburg on which the various detours will be outlined. It will be possible for marketers or automobile travelers, if they will clip the daily newspapers of each Monday, to secure adequate information concerning all detours in the State. The Bureau of Information will also supply detour data to the motor clubs of Pennsylvania many of which are preparing to place special bulletin boards in their headquarters. Motor clubs in cities of other States on trans-continental highway routes, will also be supplied with this information. The Department has placed an order for a large number of metal detour signs, which are to be used instead of the heavy cards which have heretofore marked detours. These metal signs will point the proper road in an unmistakable manner.

Demand For Steel Has Improved, Says Iron Age

New York, May 29.—Extracts from the Iron Age to-day say: "Demand for steel has improved measurably and sentiment throughout the trade has turned for the better. Some of the change is due to the failure of the railroad administration to break the price of rails and to the belief that the 200,000 tons grudgingly placed must be followed by a much larger amount. Here and there slight reductions are made from the March 21 schedule on finished steel, but manufacturers generally have been firmer than buyers expected them to be.

"Predictions of lower prices are now less frequent and less confident. Yet there is thus far no distinct improvement in the scale of mill operations. The business of the past week is thought much of because the trade has got on so long on so little. Significant contracts are those just closed by two large automobile companies, one amounting to more than 200,000 tons of billets, sheets, wire and tubes, on which deliveries extend into 1920. A third motor car builder is now in the market for a large tonnage. While no formal guarantee of prices was made on these contracts, they are considered to be subject to revision on undelivered portions if the market declines."

Japan Will Make Her Own Tin Plate

Tokio, May 29.—In view of the present shortage of tin plate as a result of the insufficient supply from abroad, the government iron foundry at Yawata, Kyushu, will shortly start the manufacture of this metal. In 1916, the United States, the principal exporter, supplied from 60,000 to 65,000 pounds of tin plate to Japan and in 1917 about 45,000 pounds. Though the supply from abroad will possibly become greater it will not be enough to satisfy the enormous demand in Japan.

ARMY SCHOOLS FOR AMERICANS

About 200,000 Soldiers in France Being Educated by Uncle Sam

Paris, May 29.—Uncle Sam is now a fully certified schoolmaster with about 200,000 khaki-clad pupils. This is the result of the establishment of the Educational Corps of the United States army to provide for vocations and academic instruction for young men in the army.

The Educational Corps is under the direction of Brigadier General Robert I. Rees, who militarized the American colleges last fall. Under him is an executive commission of three educators, Dr. Frank E. Spaulding, Superintendent of Schools in Cleveland; Dr. John Erskine, Professor of English at Columbia; and Dr. Kenyon L. Butterfield, President of the Massachusetts Agricultural College. In all about 7,500 instructors, including a number of men of high standing in American education, are teaching the American soldiers the way to progress. Everything from a, b, c to university subjects and from stenography to engineering is included within the curriculum of this great and unique college.

The army schools were in full operation by January, equipped with $1,500 worth of books specially ordered from America and provided in part by the American Library Association. But there has been a shortage of books and often one book has had to serve for a whole class. Many hundreds of army schools have been established throughout France wherever there are enough American soldiers to warrant General Pershing's order required a post school in every place where 500 or more men were stationed and as the schools had to be opened at once all sorts of queer places, from cafes to monasteries, were used as schoolrooms, until regular quarters could be provided. The soldiers are studying in barns, stable lofts, aerodromes, army barracks and in one case in a convent. Meantime the army is endeavoring to provide adequate quarters and sufficient books for its 200,000 students. In cities like Coblenz, the city school buildings are used without interfering with the regular school life of the children.

JAP STATESMEN FEAR AMERICA

Think Japan Is Being Replaced in China by United States

Tokio, May 29.—Several political groups in the House of Peers have joined in an indictment of the government's foreign policies, especially toward China. As summarized in the Jiji, the Peers expressed the opinion that the race question is unimportant compared to the Chinese question, and that the real injury which Japan suffered at Paris was the disclosure of Chinese antagonism.

The Peers expressed the view that true friendship between Japan and China should be cultivated. China should be helped in the laying of a foundation for a stable administration. They voiced the fear that Japan is fast losing her position in China and that America is replacing Japan.

The Jiji summarized the Peers' view on the Russian question as follows: "What about our policy towards Siberia? America's plans are fast being carried out and as a result of America's success in Siberia it is possible that the peace of the Orient will be destroyed. But there is no one among the government authorities here who can clearly answer the question what shall be done with Siberia?"

As far as Korea is concerned the Peers said that the government should establish a permanent policy of befriending the Koreans so as to give them ease of mind and contentment.

Return Eiffel Tower to a Peace Basis

Paris, May 29.—The Eiffel tower has joined the ranks of the demobilized—its military role being ended although its wireless telegraph station will be maintained and indeed strengthened to bring it equal to the German post at Nauen. It will again be accessible to tourist visitors after being unapproachable for over four years.

During the war a dozen machine guns were mounted on the highest platform as protection against air attacks. On the first platform were four-inch guns and searchlights, and later a powerful siren to give warning against air raids.

Many Circus Beasts Sacrificed For Food

New York, May 29.—An unusual phase of the food shortage situation in Germany which has just come to light is the fact that German children will look in vain for the circus of pre-war splendor during some time to come. The jungle beasts, which once so delighted them, were sacrificed for food during the hungry days their country suffered before the signing of the Armistice.

This information is contained in a late report issued by the American Relief Administration. Francois de Tossan in an interview with Wilhelm Hagenbeck, which appeared not long ago in "L'Opinion" of Paris, is quoted as saying that Hagenbeck's collection shrank from 200 to 60 animals during the four years of the war. American doughboys had an opportunity to see the remnant of the Hagenbeck menagerie when they arrived at Coblenz early this Spring to exhibit to the Third American Army.

The only foundation for the report that the Germans used his collection for food, Mr. Hagenbeck is reported to have said, was that during the war, ten of the elephants were killed at Chemnitz, and the choice bits of the carcasses were sold to the local butchers. Many persons "have a taste" for this kind of meat, Mr. Hagenbeck added.
