Kavalla, Macedonia, May 29.—A desperate fight is now being waged by Greek, British, French, American Red Cross and United States Army physicians to confine the outbreak of typhus raging in Macedonia to its breeding ground and to prevent its spread to Europe and America.

Red Cross workers in Macedonia are fighting conditions of a most discouraging nature. The Struma valley is low, swampy and malarial. Here thousands of British and Allied soldiers died of disease during the war.

An American Army doctor who has waded through Flanders writes: "To-day we carry our supplies of medicines and food to distant villages through roads several feet deep in mud. Rains are frequent and heavy and the fog penetrates our bones.

The typhus dead are removed from the tobacco warehouses at Kavalla in groups each day.

When the Flag Goes By

Hats off as the flag passes; that has always been the rule; but Americans had to go to war to learn what the flag means, and how to pay honor to it—Decoration Day is no longer a memorial day of the Civil War; it's a day of tribute to all heroic souls who have shown devotion to the highest patriotism; to those who gave their lives, and those who were willing to do so. The clothing business can wait on this day of all days when the flag goes by.

Yanks in Germany Look to Opening of Game Season.—With the American Army of Occupation, May 29.—American soldiers fond of wild game hunting are looking forward to July 1, when the season for duck, snipe, plover, wild swans, cranes and other swamp and bog game fowl begins. It was decided recently by Third Army officers that the soldiers of the Army of Occupation should abide by the German regulations regarding wild game. The open season for birds of the swamp will be the first opportunity of the summer for the Americans to try their hand at this kind of shooting. But the American soldier will not be allowed to have the pleasure of eating the game even after he has victory in the field. To prevent the soldiers from depleting the food supply of the country, all meat obtained as a result of hunting by any army personnel will be turned over to the poor people of the locality in which the game was killed.
