

TECH VS. READING HIGH AT 3 P. M. TODAY ON ISLAND; WEST END GAME THIS EVENING

LAST APPEARANCE HERE OF DR. ROLLER WILL BE HISTORIC GRAPPLE

If Doctor B. F. Roller, eminent New York physician-wrestler, carries out his present plans, Harrisburg wrestling enthusiasts will have the extraordinary opportunity of seeing the grand old man of the mat...

continue his headlock. Draak met Lewis and wrestled for two hours with him without either man gaining a fall. Lewis tried several headlocks but Draak wiggled out from all of them, but finally, enraged, the giant Belgian champion picked up Lewis and hurled him over the ropes into the press box and following scrapping. Neither man was injured but the incident goes far toward showing that Draak is a man who will fight to the finish and never give up.

If these plans of Roller's are carried out, their Harrisburg will be graced with a great privilege on Tuesday night when the great mat artist will grapple with Tommy Draak—the privilege of seeing the greatest exponent of the wrestling game in his grand finale. The doctor will bring all his skill, strength and science into this match for he will want to quit with a win. Draak is anxious to draw revenge for his defeat last week and will force the New York physician to exert his best.

Tickets for the show on Tuesday night in the Chestnut Street Auditorium are on sale at Shenk and Tiele's sporting goods store and Harry's cigar store. Seat reservations for out-of-town fans will be made if a check or money order is enclosed with the order.

The fans are wondering whether, with the doctor going his hardest, whether Draak will become rough in the contest. Several years ago in the New York State Wrestling Tournament an effort was made by several contestants to have the headlock, used by "Strangler" Lewis, barred. Tommy Draak, Doctor Roller and Charley Cutler were the leading factors in this movement. However, their efforts were of no avail and the Strangler was allowed to

It looks as if Dr. Roller will have the battle of his life for his swan-song in Harrisburg, judging by a letter received at the sporting editor's desk this morning from Draak. He writes from Grand Rapids as follows: "Dear sir: I am in a special training camp out here and feeling fine. I am sure Harrisburg will witness the best match they ever saw, as I will be in fine condition. It will be two or three days before the match and I will take some light workouts and a short restup. Hoping you're feeling well, yours very truly, Tom Draak."

East End Juniors took the lead in the City Junior League once more, when they defeated the Algonquins last evening by a 4-2 score. In the last frame, when Bowman sent a Texas leaguer into deep left for two bases, Himes also singled to left, scoring Bowman and going to second on Stouffer's throw to the plate. Reel repeated another single to left, scoring Himes. Lutz followed with another single to center, but Reel was caught at the plate and Lutz was called out trying to steal second. Snyder reached first on an error and Block singled, while Zimmerman was thrown out at first, thus ending the rally for that inning. Saturday afternoon's game will be postponed on account of the track meet on the island crippling both teams. Monday evening the East End and West End Juniors meet at Nine-

Reading in the Allison Hill League kept coming afloat last night and stepped another rung in first place ladder by trouncing Rosewood 7-4. Rosewood scored in the first inning: Lymé went to first on balls, stole second and scored on Bender's triple to left field and Bender scored on Hoerner's single. Reading scored in the second inning: C. Swartz to first on fielder's choice, G. Swartz singled and both scored on Cocklin's single. Reading gathered another when Levan smashed one out for a home run to deep right center and she cinched things by taking four in the seventh. H. Swartz was safe on Harmon's error and sacrificed to second by Shartle and scored on Ellenberger's two bagger. Ellenberger scored on Conner's two bagger and Bowman given base on Levan's single. Rosewood started a rally in their half of the inning by sending G. Killinger in to bat for Campbell and the Penn State star responded by rapping out a double to right center; Beck, the Tech High star, sent in to bat for Kent scored Killinger on a single, but here the scoring stopped. To-night there will be no game as the majority of the players are playing out of town.
