

JUNE 26 SET AS ADJOURNMENT

Members of the Legislature Agreed Upon the Last Thursday of This Month

Thursday, June 26, at noon, was agreed upon as the date for adjournment of the Legislature of 1919 last night.

The Senate committee in charge of the House resolution fixing June 19 as the time for adjournment, amended it to read June 26 and when the upper house agreed to it, the lower branch did so too, although some opposition was manifested.

This means that things will be rushed and as the revenue problem will be settled in a day or so and the Philadelphia bills be cleared up in another week, the appropriation bills will be started out and given right of way before many days.

Outside of Philadelphia and appropriation bills, there are not many things to be taken up. The administration has some bills which it hopes to get through at once.

STARTLING HEADLINE In the first line of battle there were 5,000 colored troops, supported by a second line some distance in the rear of 10,000 white Yankees, Henry, a colored soldier, recently arrived, was faintly nervous. Some of the other boys began to "kid" him.

"Suppose," asked one of them, "suppose Henry, that ten million billion trillion of them bush Germans suddenly popped out of the ground here?"

"Well," asked Henry, "what would you do?"

"I ain't tellin' what I'd do," said Henry, "but I know what the rest of you would do, and I know the papers back home to-morrow morning would have big headlines: 'Ten thousand white folks trampled to death!'"—Ontario Post.

TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are too fat, or if your figure has become flabby and you are carrying around a burden of annoyingly unwholesome flesh, the cause is, ten chances to one, lack of oxygen carrying power of the blood and faulty assimilation of the food.

Every man and woman reader of this paper who is too fat, whose flesh is soft and flabby should try the new preparation, Phenylola, a simple, but remarkably efficient formula put up for convenient home use.

EYRE BILL GOES THROUGH SENATE

Despite Penrose Declaration the Measure Gets Thirty Votes

In spite of Senator Boies Penrose's declaration against it, the Eyre bill repealing nonpartisan judicial act was passed in the Senate. The vote was 30 to 11 and following are the Senators who voted against the measure: Barr, Craig, Dewitt, Gray, Herron, Leiby, Martin, Miller, Salus, Sassaman and Snyder.

Senator Smith, Dauphin, voted against his own bill which would raise the salaries of the officers of the Workmen's Compensation Board. Under the provisions of the measure the chairman of the State Workmen's Compensation Board would receive $8,000, in place of the $7,500 he gets now, and the other members of the board would receive $8,000, as contrasted with their present salary of $7,000.

Senator Smith said that he had presented the bill at the request of the Attorney General, and that he did not believe that the members of the compensation board should receive more in some instances than the heads of State departments. The measure passed finally, 30 to 7.

A resolution appropriating $10,000 toward the expense of the convention of the Pennsylvania Branch of the American Legion, composed of men who saw service in the war against Germany, which is scheduled to meet in this city September 25 and 26, was presented to the Senate last night by Senator Leslie, Allegheny.

More than a half score of measures were passed finally by the Senate last evening, including the Heat-on bill, which raises in some instances the salaries of the legislative employes.

Senator Davis, Lackawanna, presented a bill which would make it a crime to cause a mine cave under any cemetery. The responsibility for the damage is placed upon the officers of the company involved in the damage.

Senator Scott S. Leiby, Perry, was absent from his seat in the Senate last night when Senator Eyre's resolution calling for an investigation of alleged unfairness to Twenty-Eighth Division officers in France, went through without a dissenting vote.

The Senator from Perry was in his seat immediately before the resolution was called for a vote and returned soon after it had been passed, but his vote in the negative was lacking. Last week, when Senator Eyre introduced the resolution, Senator Leiby immediately raised objections to its passage, and had it laid over for a day. The House concurred.

VALUABLE ASSET "How many in your family?" asked the census taker.

"Nine dawgs, fourteen chillun an' the old woman," answered the resident of "queer Hollow."

"Dogs don't I count?" "They do in these here parts, stranger. Chillun come an' chillun go an' a wife is sorter washed on a man, but as long as the mountain's are full of pigs, sums and coons, dawgs is dawgs." (Birmingham-Age Herald.)

Only One Month Before Coal Advances

One month more to buy your coal for next winter before the advanced price goes into effect. For on July 1 prices advance 30c.

June is one of the best months to buy coal. Summer conditions at the mines — transportation to the market — and local deliveries — all contribute to a higher quality of anthracite.

Knowing that you must anticipate next winter's fuel needs, if you would be sure of having coal in your bin when cold weather comes, we urge you to get your orders in during June — the earlier the better.

ROTTAN BILLS GO TO GOVERNOR

Only One Vote in Opposition to the Much Discussed Measures

The Philadelphia District Attorney bills, which were the subject of a lively Senate hearing last month, were passed finally in the House with one vote in opposition. They are the first of the much discussed Philadelphia bills to pass. They give the District Attorney his own detective force of sixteen men under a chief county detective; add four assistant district attorneys to the staff, and establish fees.

Reconsideration of the defeat of the bill enlarging the Allegheny county board of tax revisors was accomplished after a long debate between Allegheny county members and a verification of the roll. The vote was 103 to 72. When reconsidered, the bill was put on the postponed calendar. Messrs. Martin, Vickerman, McVicar and Marcus assailed the bill as a useless increase of places and it was defended by Mr. Simpson.

The West bill to increase salaries toward the expense of the convention of legislators was recalled from the Governor for amendment for the second time amid considerable laughter. The bill was amended after having been recalled some time ago.

Resolutions calling on Congress to enact pensions for Spanish War veterans were adopted on motion of Mr. Reber, Schuylkill.

The Senate bill reorganizing the force of the State Insurance Department was passed and resolutions of sympathy with Mr. Sprowls, Washington, on the death of his father.

Resolutions calling upon the United States Government to protest against massacres and ill treatment of Jews in Poland were adopted in the House, the rules requiring that resolutions be printed being waived. The first resolution came from Mr. Glass, Philadelphia, who provided that the matter be brought to attention of Congress. The second was introduced by Mr. Golder, Philadelphia, and asked that American peace delegates be requested to act.

Tells of Experience in the Far East

Tokio, June 3.—Major John Reifsnider, formerly of Frederick, Md., now of Tokio, who is attached to the American Red Cross in Siberia, has arrived here preparatory to escorting 1,500 Czech-Slovak soldiers from Vladivostok via the Suez Canal to Trieste and thence to France. The troops are chiefly those incapacitated by illness.

Major Reifsnider, who is assistant to Colonel R. B. Toussler, of Virginia, the head of the Siberian Red Cross, has had some exciting experiences in Russia. He has conducted Red Cross trains on two different occasions. Difficulties were created by Cossacks as he conducted his trains into the heart of Siberia, he said. Small detachments living in railroad cars in various places would connect their coaches to his train on the plea that they must reach the front. Sometimes the cars numbered nine and ten, thus overburdening the long Red Cross train.

ARTILLERY IN THE WAR "This division believes that this is an artillery war. We believe that, given a thorough artillery preparation, good infantry can advance and take any German position up to the limit of the range of the guns. When that range is reached the infantry must stop and a new artillery preparation be begun."

The speaker was the commander of one of the most famous British attack divisions, giving me a resume of his tactics at the close of the first day of war in January, 1918. We were sitting in his hut in one of the ruined villages of Picardy. A few thousand yards in front of us lay the ridge whose summit peeped the spires of Cambrai and along which ran the mass of wire and entrenchments of the Hindenburg line. Even then on the other side of that ridge German divisions were practicing for the effort which was seriously to modify the general tactics as thus laid down and to prove that under certain conditions infantry could push forward without waiting for a new artillery preparation. But in spite of this the essence of his statement remained true through all the varying fortunes of the campaign. The war remained an artillery war to the end of the chapter.

House D. The Repeal Plan

A resolution sponsored by Mr. Ringler, Berks, calling on Congress to repeal the prohibition on beer and light wines, effective on July 1, was defeated in the House of Representatives, the vote being 85 yeas to 85 noes.

The resolution was called up by Mr. Ringler and was regarded as a test vote on liquor bills. Mr. Wallace, Lawrence, declared the resolution had no business in the Legislature, but was a matter of only inviting trouble by acting on the resolution. Mr. Lanus, York, said it was entirely proper to bring up in the House and that members should quit "camouflaging" and "dodging." The roll was ordered verified and several votes were questioned.

The Powell bill reorganizing the State Police Department and adding one troop to be located here, is now up to the Governor.

When the measure came up for final passage in the Senate, Senator Leslie, Allegheny, moved its recom-mittal to committee, seconded by Senator Mearkle, Allegheny. After a conference with Senator Crow, Fayette, however, the bill was reported from committee and Senator Daix, Philadelphia, moved for reconsideration. The vote was then taken, resulting in a 36 to 6 tally.

Senate amendments to the bill were concurred in by the House, 137 to 13. Owing to members claiming they did not understand what bill was being voted upon, the roll call had to be repeated. The bill now goes to the Governor.

13 Errors in Beer Suit, U. S. Attorney's Claim

New York, June 3.—Thirteen errors on the part of Federal Judge Mayer in granting a temporary injunction restraining the government from interfering with the production of beer of 2 3/4 per cent. alcoholic content, pending a judicial determination of the brewers' claim that such a beverage is not intoxicating, were alleged in the appeal papers filed yesterday by United States District Attorney Caffey.

Crex De Luxe Rugs Embody the Characteristics of High Priced Rugs

It seems scarcely conceivable that a floor covering made of grass could attain such originality and distinctiveness in fabric and design.

The soft tonal effects of Crex De Luxe Rugs are made possible by the intermingling and criss-crossing of binding threads and warps in neutral colors; the stenciled designs, carefully applied, producing an effect altogether most effective and pleasing.
