COLLEGE OUTING AT GILBERT HALL

Members of University Club Planning Wonderful Time Saturday in Country

The University Club is planning a real old time college outing for Saturday of this week at the country place of Henderson Gilbert, "Gilbert Hall," near Bowman'sdale. The idea is to give every loyal and sport-loving University man a chance to have lots of fun and to get better acquainted with his fellow members. The party will go and come in automobiles. All afternoon there will be some thing doing. Baseball, golf, swimming, canoeing, volleyball, quito, tug-of-war. All of this in the afternoon. Then a big, juicy, savory, beefsteak dinner and all that goes with it. After that a bit of rest with smokes and July 1 drinks. Then some songs, college and otherwise. Reports at last meeting of committee indicated that the outing will be well attended.

This will be a distinctly "college" affair. College penants will fly gaily from the machines in which the jolly bunch of University Club men will ride. College yells and college songs, will also add to the gaiety of the occasion.

The subcommittees on contests promise plenty of real pep and keen competition. Many of the boys who have been in the service will find a most happy opportunity to again rub shoulders with their old pals at home.

THOUSANDS OF PEONIES BLOOM

Display of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Bailey Is One of Handsomest in State

What is pronounced by florists who have viewed it as the finest privately owned peony display in Pennsylvania is attracting widespread attention at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Bailey, at Paxtang. Photographers from some of the largest plant catalog, seed and nursery houses in the country have visited Paxtang this week in order to picture the blooms, which are just now at the height of perfection.

The Bailey peonies have won ribbons at many shows, being awarded last year a prize for fifty varieties "true to name," a remarkable exhibit the judges said considering that it came from private growers. Every year the Baileys add to their large assortment and now have over 200 fine flowering varieties, some of them extremely rare and valuable. In all there are hundreds of plants now in full bloom and a photographer who made pictures of the garden yesterday estimated the number of flowers at 6,000. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey took off 1,000 blooms a day or two ago and made no appreciable impression upon the garden, which resembles a huge bouquet of all colors, from pure white to deepest scarlet, and varying in size from buds that look like American Beauty roses to great waterlily and like blooms of all manner of shades and hues.

The peonies form a border around the lawn in front but by far the biggest and best display is in the rear of the house. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey have lavished care upon the plants and have given them careful personal attention over a period of eight years. Thousands of people have visited their home the past few days to see the wonderful display.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Little, of Saxton, Pa., are the guests of Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Rhodes, 800 North Second street.

Miss Essick charmed the audience with two delightful musical selections, a piano solo and a vocal solo. Mr. Siddall played a violin solo and Lewis Menell favored the men with two well-rendered selections. Mr. Menell also took charge of the community singing with H. F. Sigler at the piano. The Rev. Mr. Williams, of the Methodist Church, gave two humorous selections.

BOAT-ROCKING DROWNS THREE

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 3.—Two men were drowned in the Susquehanna river at Nanticoke, and Miss Lillian Nacklecki, aged 16, was drowned in Lily lake by the overturning of rowboats. Joseph Baldooviz and John Baron were in midstream near the Nanticoke dam when their boat was started. The craft overturned and neither man could swim. They sank quickly. Miss Nacklecki, with three others, was on Lily lake when the rocking of the boat was started. It soon overturned. Three of the party held on to the sides until help came, but Miss Nacklecki sank at once.
