

B. OF R. T. GROWS DESPITE LOSSES SUFFERED IN WAR

Loyalty of Working Man to Flag Shown by President Lee

Special to the Telegraph. Columbus, O., June 5.—Loyalty of the members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in the war was given much prominence by President William G. Lee in his annual report yesterday at the closing session of the order. He said in part: "Some people have said that labor unions were opposed to Government, were opposed to law and order, and would not be loyal to the colors. Records which are now history disprove this. I am proud of this one fact, that never again can anyone justify that accusation against the working man, and especially the railroad man. Never again can it be claimed that labor unions will not do their full duty. In addition to the thousands of members who were willing to give their all, the Brotherhood purchased $1,000,000 of Liberty bonds, and this at a time when the epidemic of influenza raged throughout the country, resulting in more deaths of our members than resulted from the war. All this was done without a dollar of special assessment."

Railroad Men in War. Since the last convention 15,166 Brotherhood men gave up the occupation of railroading and chose that of fighting the enemy. Of this number the Brotherhood has paid 505 death and disability claims, and there is to-day sleeping in foreign soil 468 heroes from the ranks of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The total membership in United States and Canada is 186,000. Of this number Pennsylvania has 104 lodges with a membership of 30,000 and Harrisburg has four lodges with a membership of 2,000.

Finances in Good Shape. The finances of the Brotherhood are in excellent condition. The receipts for the biennial period from 1917 to 1918 were $14,590,395, and disbursements $13,225,849, leaving a net gain of $1,364,546. During this period the Brotherhood has paid 6,289 death and disability claims amounting to $9,351,116, averaging for each claim $1,473. This is a gain of 1,014 in claims and $88 per claim as compared with 1917 to 1918, three years, or from 1913 to 1916. On December 31, 1918, the total membership was 181,446, showing a net gain since 1915 of 48,226, carrying an insurance amounting to $252,600. The total financial standing of the Brotherhood is $4,808,344.50. From this amount will be deducted the cost of the present convention, which will be paid in full by the members of the order. The greatest but under present conditions, the costliest in the history of the Brotherhood, the amount being nearly $400,000.

Changes were made in rates of pay on recommendation of the Salary committee. These changes will be followed until the next convention. Each convention will fix the rate of officials and rates of pay for the delegates. The salaries fixed follows:

Delegates Get Increased Pay. President, $4,000 per year, with $6 per day expenses when away from home; assistant president, $3,000, and $6 per day; vice-presidents, $2,500, and $5 per day; secretary-treasurer, $2,000, and $4 per day; editor, $1,000, and $6 per day; "The Trainman," $8,000, and $6 per day; chief clerk to the president and the secretary-treasurer, $4,000.

A flat increase of $50 a month was given to all other grand lodge employees. The board of trustees, executive board and insurance boards salaries were raised to $15 per day, with $4 per day expenses, while on duty for the Brotherhood. All deputy presidents will receive the same as the committee. $15 per day, and $4 expenses. All grand lodge employees will in the future be given two weeks vacation during the year with full pay.

The generosity in salaries does not only apply to the grand lodge, as the delegates took care of themselves as follows: All delegates and appointed officials at the convention will receive $10 per day salary and $4 per day expenses, with mileage to and from Columbus, at the rate of 5 cents per mile. This allowance raises the pay of delegates from $8 per day and 3 cents mileage, with no previous allowance for expenses.

New Officers elected. After a spirited contest Toronto, Canada, was selected as the place for the convention in 1922. Twelve cities, including Denver, were in the contest and it was an all-day battle before the decisive battle was taken. Many changes due to the conditions of the country, some of vital importance have been made to the grand and subordinate lodge constitutions. These changes will be effective August 1 this year. Due to the fact that Director General W. D. Hines in his address to the convention said the railroads would be returned to private ownership in the near future no changes were deemed necessary regarding the operation of railroad.

These Officers were Elected. President, W. G. Lee, Lodge 355; assistant president, T. R. Dodge, 479; vice-president, Val Fitzpatrick, 175; vice-president, James Murdoch, 415; vice-president, A. F. Whitney, 138; vice-president, G. H. Sines, 555; vice-president, John Bannon, 629; vice-president, J. A. Farquharson, 80; vice-president, W. M. Doak, 533; vice-president, G. W. Anderson, 637; general secretary-treasurer, A. E. King, 36; editor "The Trainman," D. L. Cease, 2; grand lodge trustees, William Dougherty, 140; George H. Thomas, 160; James Conley, 156; grand executive board, J. W. Rhoades, 397; R. J. Powers, 71; H. Walters, 208; T. W. Donnelly, 460; I. E. Donagan, 426; grand board of insurance, J. P. Ogden, 90; W. L. CHEERING HORDES AT TRACKMEET the songs and exhilaration of the youngsters who were prepared to root for their champions. Perhaps the greatest interest centered in the relays, which assumed no important function in last year's meet, for Forney and Witherspoon were tied for first place in total points and the finish, in Forney's favor, was due to success in this event. The one disappointment today was Forney's absence, due to the fact that the school had no trainer.

Island Is Crowded. As the huge crowds flocked over the bridge and emptied into the grandstands it was found that over two hundred contestants would be in the events. The heads of the Harrisburg track committee: Dr. Charles E. Fager, Jr., chairman; V. Grant Forrer, secretary; A. Reeder Ferriday, treasurer, were on hand to see that school children occupied the big grandstand, while adult spectators were accommodated on the long stands which surround the field. The committee in charge were present in full force, namely:

W. O. Hickok, rd, Ross A. Hickok, Vance O. McCormick, Daniel M. Duil, A. H. Hull, Dr. C. B. Fager, Jr., Jackson H. Boyd, John Fox Weiss, Francis J. Hall, Dr. John H. Fager, Jr., George W. Kehr, J. Montgomery Trace, R. G. Cox, G. M. Oves, Mercer B. Tate, the Rev. S. W. Herman, E. Gross, Dr. Harvey F. Smith, A. S. Patterson, H. A. Boyer, V. Grant Forrer, G. S. Davis, C. W. Davis, S. S. Leiby, F. E. Downes, A. R. Ferriday, R. D. Beman, M. Harvey Taylor, C. Harry Kain, Allen Sangree, Emory C. Lutz, A. E. Brown, J. A. Keen, Fred Keer, A. C. Stamm, Walter E. Severance.

Their First Chance. It was the greatest chance for a hero to identify himself, for, unlike Tech High, which boasts some national stars, the grammar schools have no contestant this year who stands head and shoulders above all. The school children banded in great multitude as they filed into the grounds on the big stand. Each school flaunted one big banner and many small ones, so that the scene was, as the saying goes, "colorful." W. O. Hickok predicted that some records would be damaged by the array of talent which showed up. Following were the schools in the contest: Cameron, Shinnell, Willard, Hamilton, Boas, Webster, Lincoln, Wickersham, Rely, Foose, Maclay, Melrose, Woodward and Camp Curtin.

One Hundred Yard Dash—Trial heats. First, won by Long, Rely; second, Edmund, Melrose. Second heat, won by Rosenberg, Lincoln; second, Bird, Camp Curtin. Third heat, Johnson, Allison; second, Stroup, Cameron. Fourth heat, won by Dicks, Woodward; second, Warren, Camp Curtin. Fifth heat, won by Yingst, Melrose; second in Wanbaugh, Boas. Sixth heat, won by Bender, Melrose; second, Handson, Woodward. Seventh heat, won by Lents, Shimmel; second, Mader, Maclay. Eighth, won by Bricker, Willard; second, Seltzer, Melrose. Ninth heat, won by Heagy, Melrose; Boyer, Cameron. Tenth heat, won by Johnson, Allison; second, Geary, Melrose; third, Dairs, Camp Curtin; fourth, Gault, Maclay; fifth, Atchley, Lincoln. Time, 2 minutes 19 4-5 seconds.

The annual commencement dance of the Harrisburg Academy, held last evening at the Colonial Country Club with the Mannix orchestra playing for the dancing, was a most successful event. The committee in charge comprised Mowell Hawkins, Jr., chairman; Dwight M. Ludington, Prof. H. M. Omwake, Nelson P. Shreiner, Robert A. Loose, Park Beckley and William Lascow. The patrons were Mrs. J. Mowell Hawkins, Mrs. George Kunkel, Mrs. Arthur J. Kunkel, Mrs. William P. Starkey, Mrs. Arthur D. Bacon, Mrs. Arthur E. Brown, Mrs. Dwight M. Ludington, Mrs. Howard M. Bingham, Mrs. H. R. Omwake, Mrs. George R. Tripp, Mrs. F. L. Morganthaler and Mrs. O. P. Beckley.

with high-class band music; the day will be paragoned by all sorts of uncommon stunts, such as an old-fashioned "spelling-bee." The spelling contest proved to be one of the most popular attractions at the last picnic and if one cannot get away with "tic-dou-lou-reux" he should train up for this event. In order not to drag out the spelling it has been decided that each building shall be represented in the theater by the three best spellers. Superintendents are herewith requested to submit to the Telegraph office for publication, not later than June 14, the names of the three selected in each school. The selection may be made either by appointment or by preliminary spelling matches. It should also be noted that only the seventh and eighth grades will be allowed to enter this competition.

There are to be prizes galore for track and field victories, the value totaling over $250. The Telegraph Cup, now held by the Harrisburg High, which is to be given to the school winning it three times, will again be competed for, and will be presented to the building winning the greatest number of points.

of the committee which secured so many new members during the year, has been named as chairman of the general committee in charge of arrangements, and as chairman, he is promising many good things for the "tired business men" who will make the trip to the Colonial Club. Complete details of the program are lacking, and those in charge are very taciturn about disclosing their plans. "Wait and see," they say with a mysterious smile that seems to forbid that there will be very much to see indeed, when the proper time comes, and the program begins. These workers, who are getting up the stunt fight shy of reporters; they won't say a word about what they are planning for the summer time. Enough has been learned, however, to state with authority that the trip will be made at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, that "eat" will be served in a way conducive to good-fellowship, and that the entertainment furnished will not make any one wish he had stayed away.

IRELAND ASSURED OF REFORMED MEASURES

London, June 5.—The Daily News prints the following from an Irish correspondent: "There has been a vast amount of speculation regarding the intentions of the Government toward Ireland, and the prevailing idea is that the Government intends to embark on a larger policy of repression. I have reason to know from an authority of very high standing in regard to Irish politics, but whose name I am not in a position to disclose, that the prospect of a large measure of reform for Ireland is very bright."
