48th ANNIVERSARY SALE

To-morrow is the second day of the big sale. New sales offerings make their appearance today. More opportunities for you to save on the purchase of needfuls! Lest you forget—This Anniversary Sales merchandise in many instances costs as much wholesale today as the prices we're selling it for and in some instances articles are sold for less. The tendency of the wholesale cost on many articles is upward rather than down, and as we purchased in ample quantities months ago preparing for this sale, we reaped the advantage of the lower market and received many special concessions from those with whom we have done business for years. The following articles are conclusive arguments in favor of your buying now your needs for Summer and many of your Autumn needs!
