GERMAN PEACE TREATY IS TO BE HELD SECRET UNTIL HUNS PUT NAME TO OFFICIAL TEXT

Senate Is Not to Know in Advance of Approval

AMERICANS AT BOARD REFUSE

Allied Powers in French Capital Active Today

Paris, June 7.—The American delegation to the Peace Conference is apparently firm in its decision not to authorize the publication of the German peace treaty until it is signed and not even to communicate the official text in its present form to the United States Senate.

Washington, June 7.—Administration officials believe President Wilson's reply to the Senate resolution asking for the peace treaty with Germany will be that it is not compatible with the public interest to furnish the text at this time.

This belief was strengthened by dispatches to-day from Paris saying the American peace delegation apparently is firm in its decision not to authorize publication of the treaty until it is signed.

There is every evidence that the leading figures of the Peace Conference in Paris are endeavoring to hasten the delivery of the Allied reply to Germany's counter-proposals to the terms of peace. According to advices, the Council of Four has instructed all commissions working on the reply to complete their reports by Monday. If this order is carried out, the reply probably will be framed early in the week and immediately presented to the enemy delegation.

Paris reports indicate a growing sentiment in the Council of Four that alterations must be made in the Treaty, but in what particulars the terms will be modified is not yet indicated. Premier Lloyd George is attending meetings of the British commission studying the reparations phase of the Treaty.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace mission, left Versailles last night for Paris. It is reported from Paris that he is expected to return Sunday. French official circles are said to expect the Germans to refuse to sign the terms of the peace treaty, but that as delay would favor the Germans, there is necessity for haste in bringing exchanges between the Allies and the enemy to a close. A more optimistic sentiment is said to be apparent in Berlin.

Orlando Demands Settlement The Italian claims to territory on the eastern shore of the Adriatic are causing uneasiness in the Peace Conference circles. The Italian Parliament will meet June 18, and Premier Orlando is demanding that a settlement be reached by that time. Dispatches from Paris indicate that the deadlock over the situation regarding Fiume and the Dalmatian coast is still causing concern, and that efforts to reach an agreement have been futile.

Admiral Koichak's forces operating in European Russia, are admitted, checked by the Bolsheviks. Winston Spencer Churchill, British War Secretary, declared yesterday that no attempt had been made to encourage extravagant hopes regarding operations in Russia.

Hungarian Bolshevik Drive Hungarian Bolshevik forces continue to advance against Czech troops between Budapest and Vienna. They are reported to have crossed the Danube from Hungary to menacing Pressburg. French generals are said to be in command of the Czech army there.

Pershing Looking Homeward

Paris, June 7.—General John J. Pershing, commander of the American Expeditionary Forces in France, will come home early next month if by that time the probability of a renewal of war with Germany is removed. It is expected that with the signing of the German Peace Treaty General Pershing will start for the United States without delay. Secretary of War Baker, to whom General Pershing confided his plans, is quoted in the American capital as saying: "General Pershing told me not to expect him before July 1," and then quickly added: "That is, of course, if nothing happens—and there is nothing very sure about it, either."

COMMISSIONS ON PEACE TREATY TO REPORT MONDAY

Members of Conference Show Evidence of Impatience

Paris, June 7.—Positive instructions were issued to-day by the Council of Four to all commissions working on the reply to the German counter-proposals to complete their reports by Monday.

There are many evidences of impatience among the prominent members of the Peace Conference. Premier Lloyd George, because of a division of opinion and differences among the British experts working on reparations, is acting as his own

Campaign Against the Mosquito Is Planned by State Health Department

Elaborate plans to demonstrate how effectively modern methods can be used to rid town and country of the mosquito pest are being built up on the Crow bill now pending in the Senate to authorize the State Department of Health to determine what are mosquito-breeding places and to order abatement. It is understood that one of the communities where this work would be undertaken would be Harrisburg as part of the scheme of Col. Edward Martin, the State Commissioner of Health, to make the State capital a model in sanitation and health.

The terms of the bill would enable the health authorities to locate mosquito places, as General Gorgas did at Panama, and thus provide for joint steps for abatement. In case of plague spots being found in cities, or in plague or first-class townships, the municipality and the properties directly benefited would bear the cost, but, if outside such divisions, the cost would be borne by the county and the properties getting the benefits. Authority is given to go as far as to order drainage of swamps, in which work the State would pay a third. There is also a provision that any place can undertake extermination of the mosquito on its own accord, the State being given power of supervision to prevent waste.

The idea of Col. Martin is to make whatever work is undertaken through the bill of an educational nature.

It appears that Captain Funck was in Paris before the war began and remained in the city throughout the hostilities, and it was alleged at the trial that he made the enemy acquainted with information regarding air raids and long-distance shelling of Paris.

The specific accusation upon which he was convicted was: Communicating information concerning the bombardments by Gothas and Berthas to the German military attaché at Madrid.

Wilkes-Barre's Period of Sorrow Starts With Burial of Explosion Victims

Refutes Trolley Theory Seward Button, chief of the mine department, continued his investigation of the disaster to-day. Button does not accept the theory that electric sparks caused the disaster. He is satisfied that the trolley was loose but he does not believe it came in contact with the powder or the cars. He hints that sparks from a match, pipe or naked lamp dropping in a powder keg probably caused the powder to ignite.

Milk, Cream and Ice Cream Report Shows Product to Be in Good Shape

Milk, cream and ice cream samples tested during May by the city bacteriologist show that a large majority of the dealers sold products which were up to the city standard, according to Health Officer J. M. J. Raubick.

Of the milk samples only 5 of 40 contained colon bacilli or disease germs; 15 contained percentages of gas, and 6 contained more bacteria than allowed by city standards. Only two were below the butter fat requirement.

Thirteen of the 36 cream samples were below the butter fat standard. Of the total 15 were taken in restaurants by the food inspectors and eight of these samples contained only from 5 to 15 per cent. butter fat, while the requirement for cream is 18 per cent.

Only three of the 14 ice cream samples which were tested contained disease germs, but nine contained more than 500,000 bacteria, the highest amount allowed.
