

HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH A NEWSPAPER FOR THE HOME

Published evenings except Sunday by THE TELEGRAPH PRINTING CO. Telephone Building, Federal Square

E. J. STACKPOLE President and Editor-in-Chief F. R. OYSTER, Business Manager G. S. M. STEINMETZ, Managing Editor

Members of the Associated Press—The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

Member American Newspaper Publishers Association, the Audit Bureau of Circulation and Pennsylvania Association of Daily Editors.

Entered as the Post Office in Harrisburg, Pa., a second class matter.

By carrier, ten cents a week; by mail, $2.00 a year in advance.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11, 1919

Take short views, hope for the best, and trust in God.—Sydney Smith.

SHEER WASTE OF EFFORT

THE Philadelphia Record, not always very friendly to prohibition, is not so blindly partisan that it cannot see the futility of attempting to set aside the force of the "dry" amendment to the Federal constitution.

As the Governments of Canada and Great Britain are pointing out to their citizens, one way to do this is to buy standard securities when general prices are high and hold them for redemption when prices are lower.

Money spent to halt prohibition now is money wasted. The brewers, the distillers and others in the liquor trade would do well to keep their dollars against the time they will have to change their line of trade.

WHY THE PUSSYFOOTING?

A STORM of indignation is sweeping the country as a result of the recent bomb outrages and the activities of the Department of Justice at Washington are being watched with increasing interest.

Until the American government assumes an attitude of vigorous prosecution in the treatment of these alien propagandists of everything un-American we may expect the sporadic outbreaks to continue with the inevitable loss of life and property.

There is a ray of hope that something in the way of sanity in the policy of our government respecting the deportation of the anarchists who have been operating in this country may develop through the decision this week at Boston by Judge Aldrich in the United States District Court refusing the petitions of certain anarchists fighting against their deportation for writs of habeas corpus.

These titles and presents have been accepted without the slightest reference to Congress to obtain the consent of that body. If the Constitution of the United States is a hollow mockery, by all means have it scrapped at once.

There is a ray of hope that something in the way of sanity in the policy of our government respecting the deportation of the anarchists who have been operating in this country may develop through the decision this week at Boston by Judge Aldrich in the United States District Court refusing the petitions of certain anarchists fighting against their deportation for writs of habeas corpus.

These titles and presents have been accepted without the slightest reference to Congress to obtain the consent of that body. If the Constitution of the United States is a hollow mockery, by all means have it scrapped at once.

These titles and presents have been accepted without the slightest reference to Congress to obtain the consent of that body. If the Constitution of the United States is a hollow mockery, by all means have it scrapped at once.

Politics in Pennsylvania By the Ex-Committeeman

The Philadelphia bills, storm center of the General Assembly of 1919, are as good as in the Governor's hands and the ways are now cleared for the winding up of the session.

When you stroll about Harrisburg aren't you glad that you are privileged to live in this good old town which is going to be still more attractive in the days to come?

THE United Waist League is puzzled. It has a question that might have given old man Solomon pause for thought. "When is a waist not a waist, and when is a waist a blouse?" asks the League.

When the bills left the House there was a general sigh of relief and members turned to postponed calendars and began to call up measures in a way that indicated that the House was laying out the closing fortnight opened.

Senator Boies Penrose, who has been here a couple of days this week to help along legislation, expressed his opinion on the passage of the Philadelphia bills, which he says, are now up to the people of the city to use for their advantage.

—Defeat of the prohibition enforcement bills yesterday was the cause of considerable talk among the members of the Physical Science' will be published by E. P. Dutton & Co. in a fortnight.

—According to what folks from the hard coal regions say the mine cave bills are dead for this session. The bill reorganizing the State Compensation Bureau is in the hands of the House manufactures committee.

—Dr. C. F. Swift, State superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, has issued a statement regarding the prohibition enforcement bill in which he says the action "was practically an annulment of the eighteenth amendment which was ratified in the legislative session."

—The Philadelphia Inquirer in the course of a discussion of the Supreme Court, says "There is considerable speculation as to the possible successor to Chief Justice Brandeis."

—The Philadelphia Inquirer in the course of a discussion of the Supreme Court, says "There is considerable speculation as to the possible successor to Chief Justice Brandeis."

—The Philadelphia Inquirer in the course of a discussion of the Supreme Court, says "There is considerable speculation as to the possible successor to Chief Justice Brandeis."

—The Philadelphia Inquirer in the course of a discussion of the Supreme Court, says "There is considerable speculation as to the possible successor to Chief Justice Brandeis."

—The Philadelphia Inquirer in the course of a discussion of the Supreme Court, says "There is considerable speculation as to the possible successor to Chief Justice Brandeis."

—The Philadelphia Inquirer in the course of a discussion of the Supreme Court, says "There is considerable speculation as to the possible successor to Chief Justice Brandeis."

—The Philadelphia Inquirer in the course of a discussion of the Supreme Court, says "There is considerable speculation as to the possible successor to Chief Justice Brandeis."

SOMEBODY IS ALWAYS TAKING THE JOY OUT OF LIFE

THE GRAY MAN OF CHRIST

THE story which illustrates the beautiful painting on page nine of this issue of The Home Journal is told by a California boy serving in the American Army in France, and was published in the Los Angeles Times.

—The American boy—Evans by name—had gone into an old church in France to have a look at it; and as he stood there with bare head, satisfying his respectful curiosity, a gray man with the air of a general on his shabby uniform also entered the church.

—It was Foch. And now Evans counts the experience as the greatest of his life. When once I knock and fail to find you in' For every day I stand outside your door And bid you wake and rise to fight and win.

—Lieut. Camillo de Carlo is an Italian aviator who during the war undertook a very hazardous task and carried it through to triumphant success, although every minute of his life was a life of peril and thrills and threat of death.

—E. P. Dutton & Co. announce for June 18 a new book by Arthur Symonds, "Studies in Elizabethan Drama, a series of critical and historical essays on early plays which have not had previous publication in book form."

—E. P. Dutton & Co. announce for June 18 a new book by Arthur Symonds, "Studies in Elizabethan Drama, a series of critical and historical essays on early plays which have not had previous publication in book form."

—E. P. Dutton & Co. announce for June 18 a new book by Arthur Symonds, "Studies in Elizabethan Drama, a series of critical and historical essays on early plays which have not had previous publication in book form."

—E. P. Dutton & Co. announce for June 18 a new book by Arthur Symonds, "Studies in Elizabethan Drama, a series of critical and historical essays on early plays which have not had previous publication in book form."

—E. P. Dutton & Co. announce for June 18 a new book by Arthur Symonds, "Studies in Elizabethan Drama, a series of critical and historical essays on early plays which have not had previous publication in book form."

—E. P. Dutton & Co. announce for June 18 a new book by Arthur Symonds, "Studies in Elizabethan Drama, a series of critical and historical essays on early plays which have not had previous publication in book form."

—E. P. Dutton & Co. announce for June 18 a new book by Arthur Symonds, "Studies in Elizabethan Drama, a series of critical and historical essays on early plays which have not had previous publication in book form."

By Briggs

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE

—General H. C. Trexler, of Altoona, came here yesterday to look up some legislative matters.

—C. F. Huber, Wilkes-Barre, coal operator, here for hearings at the Capitol, is one of the big coal producers of the West.

—Provost E. F. Smith, of the University of Pennsylvania, was among people here to-day.

—An interesting bit of old Edinburg, dating back to about 1800, has been burned.

—An interesting bit of old Edinburg, dating back to about 1800, has been burned.

—An interesting bit of old Edinburg, dating back to about 1800, has been burned.

—An interesting bit of old Edinburg, dating back to about 1800, has been burned.

—An interesting bit of old Edinburg, dating back to about 1800, has been burned.

—An interesting bit of old Edinburg, dating back to about 1800, has been burned.

—An interesting bit of old Edinburg, dating back to about 1800, has been burned.

—An interesting bit of old Edinburg, dating back to about 1800, has been burned.

DO YOU KNOW

—That Harrisburg third-class city methods are being studied by people in various parts of the State?

—Historic Harrisburg—French traders are supposed to have been near here as early as 1650.

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]

—Historic Tavern Burned [From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.]