

FIND COBBLER WHO REPAIRED BOMBER'S SHOE

Police Believe They Will Soon Identify Man Who Lost Life

By Associated Press. New York, June 11.—The most important clue yet discovered to the identity of the anarchist who was blown to pieces while planting a bomb at the home of Attorney General Palmer, in Washington, was found here, according to William J. Flynn, chief of the Bureau of In-

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."

Mrs. A. W. BINZER, Black River Falls, Wis. It is just such experiences as that of Mrs. Binzer that have made this famous root and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. Any woman who suffers from inflammation, ulceration, displacement, backache, nervousness, irregularities or "the blues" should not rest until she has given it a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. vestigation of the Department of Justice. Eight inches long, fastened in obscure shoe repairing shop, the proprietor of which positively identified one of the shoes worn by the dead man as having been repaired by him. The cobbler has a clear recollection of the man for whom he did the work.

Boy Finds Bomb Jersey City, N. J., June 11.—A crudely constructed dynamite bomb with a burning fuse was discovered in the hallway of a house at 356 Third street yesterday by six-year-old Morris Dullier, son of a grocer, whose store occupies the ground floor of the building. The boy called a clerk in the store who extinguished the fuse with his fingers and summoned the police.

Examination showed that the bomb consisted of a stick of dynamite eight inches long, fastened in an iron pipe and attached to a two-foot fuse. The dynamite was marked "X Colliery L. F. Daurge, Etch."

The second floor of the building where the bomb was found is occupied by Dr. Frank Compa, but neither he nor Dullier could give any reason why they should be the targets of dynamites.

Tolledo, June 11.—In the arrest here of Paul Grottker, 42 years old, police claim to have apprehended a man suspected of knowing something concerning the bombing of homes of government and city officials in Washington, New York, Cleveland and other cities a week ago.

Grottker, a German, was arrested shortly after police received a letter from United States officials at Washington asking that he be taken into custody.

RATIFY SUFFRAGE By Associated Press. Lansing, Mich., June 11.—The Michigan legislature late yesterday ratified the Federal woman's suffrage amendment. The action was by unanimous vote in both houses.

What Causes Wrinkles? What's the Remedy?

Stop to consider what produces wrinkles and sagging of skin. Premature aging, mal-nutrition, etc., cause the flesh to shrink, lose its youthful plumpness and firmness. The skin then is too large for the flesh underneath; doesn't fit tightly and snugly as it used to—it wrinkles or sags.

It must be plain that to tighten the skin, make it fit the face perfectly in every place, will effectually remove the hateful wrinkles and bagginess. This is easily and harmlessly accomplished by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel and using the solution as a face wash. The ingredients you get at any drug store. The results are surprising. The skin immediately tightens up, becoming firm and fresh as in youth. Every wrinkle and sag are affected at once.

MANY PERSONS STARVE TO DEATH IN SIBERIA OWING TO HIGH COST OF LIVING

Horse Meat Sells at Fifteen Dollars a Pound; a Box of Matches Cost Over Seven Dollars in American Money

Omsk, Siberia, June 11.—Horse meat sold at thirty rubles a pound, dog meat at twelve rubles, rye flour at twenty-two rubles and potatoes at seven rubles a pound in Moscow last February, according to an American, Mr. Dillon, who has just arrived here from that city. Mr. Dillon, who represented a large farm machinery firm, left Moscow February 9 and arrived at Omsk after many difficulties on April 2.

A box of matches, if obtainable at all, cost fifteen rubles in Moscow, he said. A ruble before the war was normally worth fifty cents. Its value now is problematical owing to the vast amount of paper money which has been printed by the Bolshevik government.

Many Are Starving Bolshevik workmen in Moscow who can find employment receive 650 to 1,500 rubles a month, and, Mr. Dillon said, are barely able to live through receiving special concessions in foodstuff prices in Bolshevik stores. Non-Bolsheviks, who cannot buy in such stores at any price are in desperate straits.

There have been many cases of starvation and many suicides. There is much sickness resulting from malnutrition and unsanitary conditions. Gladders is common and results from eating infected horse meat.

The city was full of unemployed workmen when Mr. Dillon left. There were 75,000 idle metal workers and a great number of idle textile workers. People were burning furniture to heat their rooms because of a shortage of firewood.

Moscow, according to Mr. Dillon, was half deserted. All signboards of formerly prosperous business houses had been removed after the places had been "nationalized."

Drunkenness was prohibited under penalty of death. There was an endless Bolshevik propaganda and proselytizing was carried on feverishly among returning Russian war prisoners from Germany. Strikes in other countries were halted with delight and a world-wide revolution was represented as being in progress.

What Not Planted Insurrections among workmen were on the increase. The peasants were desperate over the merciless requisitioning of their property. Forty per cent of the winter crop remained unplanted for lack of horses and seed. The annual partition of land among the peasants did not occur and little preparation was made for spring planting. Railroads were without fuel except such supplies as were brought from day to day from the forest. All reserve supplies had been exhausted.

Church services were being suppressed. Factories had closed owing to lack of fuel. This was true even of munitions and arms factories and there was a noticeable shortage of rifles and ammunition. Discipline in the army was maintained by terroristic methods but even so, mutinies constantly occurred and desertions were frequent.

In the opinion of the narrator, all that was necessary to cause the early collapse of Bolshevism was a vigorous offensive by the Siberian army.

$100,000 Pledged For Cause of Free Ireland

Boston, June 11.—Pledges totaling about $100,000 were made for the cause of free Ireland at a mass meeting in Mechanics Hall last night under the direction of the Irish Freedom Fund Association. Addresses were made by Cardinal O'Connell, Michael J. Ryan, of Philadelphia, one of the three Irish Americans who sought an audience of the Peace Conference to present the cause of the Irish nation, and Justice Daniel P. Cohalan, of the New York Supreme Court.

Mr. Ryan said the real objection of the English to granting Ireland the right of self determination was "that England fears Ireland as an independent power between her and the western world. As the English naval league expresses it, Ireland is the Heigolund of the Atlantic."

Americanized Italians Helping to Make Their Own Country Up-to-date

Rome, June 11.—The Italian who has lived long in America is helping to Americanize Italy more potently than other factors could. He has introduced American ideas and American ways of doing things at every possible turn when it is practical and more efficient than the Italian.

The Italo-American has brought back from America an idea of better housing conditions and if he decides to settle again in Italy he builds a home patterned along American lines with plenty of space around it and with its division of rooms. Most Italian families of the farming sections are accustomed to dot the sides of mountains hidden among the trees and brush. Several families live in what would seem an ordinary American family's habitat.

WOMAN FOUND SLAIN ON FARM NEAR CEMETERY

Police Believe She Was Attacked There and Then

Trenton, N. J., June 11.—The body of a prepossessing young woman about 25 years old, her hands bound behind her back with a man's handkerchief, her belt tied tightly about her neck and two gashes in her head, was discovered last night on a farm near here, a lonely place adjoining St. Mary's Cemetery just outside this city. The woman was strangled to death, County Physician Scammell declared, and the police are making every effort to find the murderer. Jacob Collisa, a laborer, returning home from work, and taking a short cut through the farm, discovered the body. The woman, it is believed, was killed some time last night.

A purse containing a dollar bill, some small change and a receipt made out to Mrs. T. Sabo, was found near the body. The police have been unable to identify the woman through any family of that name living here. It is believed she was a stranger and that she was enticed to the place where the body was found, attacked and slain.
