

PITCHERS "KID" SHAY AND "MOE" EVELER STAR IN WEST END AND HILL BATTLES

Sammy Schiff Will Have Real Battle When He Meets Mahoney Monday

Those who have read of the different ways Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey, are preparing themselves for their championship fight on July 4, can see for themselves just what a fighter must go through to get in condition for a real scrap. Barrett stated positively last evening, that Young Mahoney, the fast Baltimorean, Young (Bull Dog) Silar, Paul Wagner, and Young Wampler, all from York, will finish their training at Joe's gymnasium Sunday afternoon, for their bouts at Quartet Hall next Monday night, at Front and Washington streets, in Steelton along with four of Harrisburg's best boxers. All the outside boys are due to arrive in the steel town early Sunday morning, and will take immediately to the road on the outskirts, under the personal supervision of Barrett, in the afternoon, which is free to the fans. The boys will go through exactly the same routine followed by Willard and Dempsey. Of course the most interesting centers in the ten round bout between Schiff and Mahoney, as both boys have a large following in this section, and opinions are about divided as to the winner, but no manager in the world is more confident of his man winning by a knockout than Max Waxman, Mahoney's manager. This has reached Schiff's ears, and Sammy says he is in better condition at present than at any time in his career, and is fully prepared to uphold the honor of this city, against Mahoney or any other boxer in his class, so it is surely going to be a corking good fight. Mahoney who is known as a youngster, who does things instead of saying them, only smiles when told of Schiff's vision of the fight.

SAMMY SCHIFF

A great many of the fans are wondering if Nate Isaacman has not taken too big a contract on his hands when he signed to swap punches with Silar, who held his own with the best A. E. F. boxers in France while in the One Hundred Twelfth Infantry, of the Iron Division, Wampler is also from the same company, and did considerable boxing over there. He meets Billy Atticks of this city, who is also in for a warm time, while Billy Morton, another Harrisburg boy will meet the cleverest opponent of his career, when he faces the Clever Wagner, Morton's knockout of Ralph Leedy, several weeks ago, proved him to carry an awful punch, while Wagner is touted as the cleverest boxer in York with the exception of Johnny Gill, whom Barrett is grooming to meet Jack Britton for the world's welter weight title. Gill is now on the ocean, and expects to reach this city in time to handle the York boxers next Monday night. Tickets for the show are being bought up by some of the most prominent businessmen, and professional men, in this city and Steelton. They are on sale at Fairlamb, the Florence House, and at the Baldwin Hotel, in Steelton. Those who care to see the boys train should be on hand at not later than 2:30 Sunday.

To-morrow's Games
Marysville at Newport
Millersburg at Duncannon.

When Newport and Marysville line up on Marshall Field, Newport, and Millersburg and Duncannon on Rosboro Field, Duncannon, to-morrow afternoon, each of the teams will have faced the others of the circuit at least once. These teams were scheduled to face each other in the opening games of the season, but these contests were postponed because of unfavorable weather conditions.

The battle at Newport promises to be one of high class. Each of these teams have been pennant winners. Newport won the flag in 1917 while Marysville copped it in 1915 and 1916. And both have a number of players of their pennant-winning squads in the lineup this season.

Newport's lineup will be practically that which faced Duncannon last Saturday. The combination worked out to a high degree of satisfaction and it is expected that the Taylor combination will go on the field with largely the same team. The return of Roy Wagner from France and his getting into the game at first base added much to the team's strength. Kerns will catch and it is expected that "Buck" Gilday, formerly of Dauphin, will draw the hurling assignment. Ray Wertz, Manning or Darlington may be chosen, however.

"We'll lick the tar out of Marysville; it doesn't make any difference who we pitch," John S. Eby, a former Perry county representative who heads the Newport board of directors, is quoted as saying. But Manager Stees and his combination expect to make the upper end countians work the limit. Harry Biever, the old warhorse, will be on the mound. He formerly hurled for Halifax and always was a problem for Newport. Killinger will catch. Shortstop Gerdes suffered a badly injured hand in a twilight game on Thursday evening and may be unable to play. In that case, J. Lightner, recently returned from State College, who had been slated for an outfield position, may be sent to short.

The Duncannon-Millersburg game, too, promises to furnish considerable excitement for the fans. Both teams appear to have struck their stride and will put up a good fight. Duncannon's lineup will be practically the same as that which held Newport to a tie last week. "Buck" Ramsey is expected to be sent to the mound, although there are several other hurlers with the Duncannon combination who may be used. "Og" Witz will catch. "Abe" Dea, who recently returned from France with the 7th Division, is expected to be discharged soon and to return to Duncannon. He will likely go behind the bat and Waltz to an infield position.

"Dick" Salada will likely be on the mound for Millersburg with Kerr back of the bat. Manager Captain "Bud" Frye is expected to cover the short field. "Bob" Bowman, the versatile star, soldier and what-not, will cover the initial sack for the Dauphin countians. His clubbing, which has featured all of the games he has been in this season, promises to be a factor in to-morrow's contest.

Newport, Duncannon and Millersburg all looked considerably better on the playing field last Saturday but a hot battle for honors is expected. Although Marysville got off to a big start, the other three teams now look equally good and promise to make the leaders fight for every game.

Newport looks to have a winning combination. The infield is weaker than the remainder of the team and Manager Taylor promises that some changes will be made unless better results are attained.

Millersburg's overwhelming defeat of the strong Marysville team was somewhat of a surprise. The team looked equally as good as the leaders in their second battle. "Bud" Frye, removed from behind the bat to short, adds considerably to the strength of the contingent.

Salada got back in form for the Millersburg squad last week after getting off to a bad start against Newport. He held the leaders to four scattered hits, several of them of the scratch variety, in seven innings.

Joseph Lightner, after playing left-field with the Penn State varsity and leading the team at the bat, has returned to Marysville where he will team with the Marysville team in the remaining games. He played in both the Memorial Day games where hit batting and fielding featured. Lightner, together with Freddie Lightner and E. Stees, will form what is considered to be the fastest outfield in the league.

Eisenberger, who has been hurling good ball for several twilight league teams, has not been showing good form in the Dauphin-Perry. On Memorial Day it was necessary to pull him from the Duncannon game and last Saturday Millersburg hammered his offerings in all directions.

New Baseball Club, the Naudain, Will Enter City Competition

Frank Stiles, 1428 Naudain street, announces that the Naudain Athletic Club nine has been organized and is ready to go on the field at once for games with teams whose players' ages range from 14 to 17 years. The line-up includes a number of members of the Swatara team, and, according to Manager Stiles, the Naudain Club is likely to take a place in the City Junior League within the near future.

TENNIS PLAYERS FOR EXTRA HOUR

They Urge Every Sportsman to Demand Continuance of Present System

Tennis players throughout the country are uniting in a protest against the repeal of the daylight saving law contemplated in a rider on the agricultural appropriation bill. This proposal brought forth vigorous protests last winter, and now that long afternoons have given the players renewed opportunities to realize the benefits they derive from this extra hour of daylight, the protest against its possible loss will be even more earnest.

George T. Adee, president of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, has sent a letter to all its members urging them to inform their congressmen immediately of their opposition to the proposed repeal. All the local associations also are advising their membership to take similar action.

"The attitude of the National Association is well known," said Mr. Adee, "for ever since the bill was introduced in 1917 the Association has been on record in favor of daylight saving. Last summer the public had its first opportunity to enjoy this extra hour of daylight and the results were even more favorable than had been anticipated.

"It should be unnecessary to point out the splendid results of a plan that makes it possible for thousands of men and women as well as boys and girls, to enjoy wholesome outdoor exercise and recreation. Daylight saving enables those who follow the outline of city life to enjoy on every pleasant day the benefits of outdoor activities which previously were confined to weekends and holidays. These benefits are not confined to club members by any means. Among the thousands of users of parks and public recreation grounds are found those to whom the repeal of this law would work the greatest hardship.

"The campaign to repeal the daylight saving law is well under way, so it is important for everyone who desires to continue to enjoy its benefits to make his wishes known immediately. The Association is requesting its members to write their congressmen and senators protesting against the repeal and similar action should be taken at once by everyone interested in the welfare of a great part of our population.

Swatara vs. Peerless, Hickock diamond, Eleventh and Herr. Umpire, C. White.

The Algonquins fell before the East End Juniors last evening by a 7 to 4 score at Nineteenth and Greenwood streets. Books allowed but four hits. "Red" Zimmerman started for the Algonquins making three out of four himself.

The Algonquins tied the score in their half of the third when Haehnlien fled out to Ellenberger, the next two men were given a base on balls. Reel fanned and Lutz hit a hard grounder to Reed who fumbled it thus scoring Gutschall. The Algonquins next pulled off a double steal and Red Zimmerman's heavy clout to left scored both men. Zimmerman was caught stealing second thus ending the scoring for the frame.

In the next inning East End came back strong and tallied three runners which the Algonquins could not overcome.

The Swatara team is to meet the Boys' Brigade of New Cumberland at New Cumberland to-morrow afternoon and Saturday afternoon Algonquin plays East End Jr. at Seventeenth and Chestnut streets. The score:

Two-Cylinder Williams, of Colored Monarchs, to Face West End

The West End A. A. will meet the Harrisburg Monarchs in a contest to be played on the West End A. A. grounds at Fourth and Seneca streets Saturday afternoon at 5 p. m. The Monarchs are a colored aggregation made up of the best known colored ball players in Central Pennsylvania. Williams, the star twirler for the Monarchs, should be remembered as the wonderful pitcher of the old Harrisburg Giants. He is a right-handed twirler when the bases are empty, but when there is a man on first base he switches and twirls with his left arm.

This contest should be one of the most exciting contests played on the West End grounds this season for the reason that the colored aggregation is full of life and is always accompanied by a large crowd of real rooters. The seating capacity has been increased by the erection of bleachers on both the right and left field sides. These bleachers, together with the grandstand, will seat about 2,000 fans. A very large crowd is expected to attend this game.
