Camp Hill Carnival Continued Tonight

Since the weather man spoiled the plans for Saturday evening's festivities at the Camp Hill Civic Club Community Day Carnival, the stunts arranged for that time will be given this evening. The midway, one of the most popular features of the event, will be in charge of Carl K. Deen, who has on hand some beautiful and useful prizes, donated by the members of the club. There will be the dance, which no one can afford to miss, and for the thirsty there will be—but why tell about it here? The best plan by far, is to go find out for yourself what will happen.

COL. AND MRS. THOMAS HERE

Col. and Mrs. W. S. Thomas, of New York City, former residents, will arrive here to-morrow for a little visit with their daughter, Mrs. Helen T. Forrer, at 218 Locust street. They will attend the commencement exercises of the Central High School, where their granddaughter, Miss Virginia T. Forrer is one of the graduates. Miss Forrer will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Thomas home to New York for a fortnight's visit.

OUTING IS POSTPONED

The Hebrew Ladies' Aid Society has been forced to postpone its outing this afternoon and evening at Summerdale because of the heavy rain and dampness. It will be held next Monday instead with a dance following the afternoon's picnic diversions. The officers in charge are Mrs. David Cooper, president; Mrs. Herbert, vice-president; Mrs. E. Goldstein, secretary; and Mrs. L. Cohn, treasurer.

TO BE WEDDING GUESTS

A New York Maker's Estimate of My Clientele

It was in a manufacturer's showroom during my last trip to New York. The proprietor was busy on the long distance when I entered and a new salesman who didn't know me from Adam undertook to display the line. I found nothing which pleased me and was getting ready to leave. The proprietor suddenly appeared. He grasped the situation at a glance. "This is Miss Sachs, of Harrisburg," he exclaimed impatiently. "She has one of the smartest and most fashionable clienteles in the country. Of course, she's not interested in this grade of goods." And, leading me into another room, he began to display some really charming frocks. "The fellow didn't understand," he remarked apologetically. "He was showing you the kind of thing you find in department stores and ordinary shops. This is what we make for a few customers with clienteles who demand the latest and best." And I bought an assortment of beautiful dresses, which have just now been unpacked. They are ready now for your inspection.
