

NATIVES WILL ATTEND M. E. FETE

Will Come Here in Their Costumes From Far-away Points

Columbus, O., June 17.—Plans are being completed for what is expected to be the greatest religious gathering in the history of America, to be held here in celebration of 100 years of foreign missionary work by the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Directors of the big centenary celebration, which will mark the end of the church's campaign to raise $115,000,000 for foreign missionary work, declare that besides the thousands of visitors from the United States and Canada, there will be 100,000 accredited delegates.

Scores of natives in costumes from China, India, the South Sea Islands, Africa and Asia and exhibits from every missionary field in the world will be brought here for the purpose of vividly portraying native life in the countries receiving missionary aid. Pageants will depict the work of the church at home and abroad. A choir of 100 trombones will lead congregational singing in the open air. To care for the army of visitors, a "Drive to Make Democracies Safe" is the slogan for the exposition. The celebration will be conducted by laymen of the church with the co-operation of the general conference, the Methodist Church South, the Board of Bishops and allied church organizations.

Handled More Raw Gold Than Any Other Person in Alaska

Corofva, Alaska, June 17.—E. E. Beraud, of Fairbanks, is believed to hold the distinction of having individually handled more raw gold than any other in the history of Alaska. During the eleven years he has spent in work as assayer for the First National Bank of Fairbanks, Beraud has assayed $45,000,000 worth of the precious yellow metal for which men have yielded up their lives in the silent places. The aggregate weight of this metal was eighty-eight tons. After a visit to Paris, he says, he will come back to work in the gold dust once more.

CATHOLICS ISSUE FIRST BULLETIN

Record Leading Features of the Work of National War Council

Washington, D. C., June 17.—The National Catholic War Council, composed of the fourteen archbishops of the United States, and functioning through an administrative committee, and a committee on special war activities, has issued the first number of a monthly bulletin, of which Michael Williams is editor. Nearly twenty thousand organizations of Catholic laymen and laywomen have been co-ordinated and are now directed by this organization.

The bulletin records the leading features of the work of the council, which acts in close co-operation with the United States government, and with other welfare organizations. The varied nature of the work is shown by the articles in this first number. The Rt. Rev. Peter J. Muldoon, bishop of Rockford, chairman of the administrative committee, is the author of the leading story, which reviews the past work of the council and outlines the important activities in the field of social reconstruction which lie ahead.

In the course of his article he quotes from the recent letter of Pope Benedict XV. to the American bishops, in which they are exhorted to carry on the work, and place it on a permanent basis through two commissions, to be appointed at the annual meeting of the bishops. One of these commissions is to deal with educational problems, the other with social questions and the other with educational problems. The work of the Knights of Columbus is reviewed by John D. Kennedy, and the Catholic program of reconstruction by Michael Williams. Miss May M. Murphy tells the story of the National Service School for Women established at Washington, while a number of other articles deal with the overseas women workers; Catholic co-operation with the Boy Scout movement; the rehabilitation school for disabled fighters, and the hospital social service. There are also brief reviews of the various publications issued by the council, the chief of which, the program of reconstruction issued by the committee has attracted national attention in the press. It is regarded by social experts as one of the most important pronouncements on social reform ever issued in this country.

Germans Planned to Land Troops on Isle of Wight

London, June 17.—Secrets of the war work of the British secret service now revealed show that German spies or agents of the German government were making active preparations, even before the beginning of hostilities to use the Isle of Wight as a landing place for German forces and for the bombardment of Portsmouth. One of the first precautions taken in August, 1914, was to place close restrictions on persons trying to land upon or leave the island. From Harwich to Hampshire, along the south and southeast coasts of England, nests of German spies and agents were engaged in desperate missions, in the early days of the war. One of the urgent tasks of the British secret service was to stamp out the operations of these men.

NEWS OF LEGISLATURE

HOUSE PASSES DAWSON'S BILLS

Important Measures to Increase Auditor General's Revenue Getting Power

Bills authorizing the Auditor General to appoint the mercantile appraisers in all counties, except Philadelphia and Allegheny and making greater the powers of the Auditor General in county collections passed in the House last night with no debate. The vote on the first measure was 189 to 2.

Two bills relative to inheritance taxes were dropped, as their provisions are embodied in the inheritance tax code. The bills passed include those giving State right to appeal in various cases in court, to proceed against officials who do not file correct reports and to move for removal of those who fail to file reports.

Mr. Dawson, Lackawanna, briefly explained the bills, saying they were part of the series referred to by the Governor of some of the bills intended to raise revenue for the State. No one spoke against the bills.

Flynn Saves Bill
An attempt by Mr. Fowler, Lackawanna, to have the anti-education bill dropped from the calendar was defeated in the House after a dramatic appeal by Mr. Flynn, Elk, sponsor for the bill. Mr. Flynn said that the motion was an "unholy and discourteous" action undertaken in the absence of the sponsor. He declared he was out of the chamber when it went in. There is no doubt that the bill will be acted on, but this bill postponed last week, when there was a light House, and I propose to call it up in due time and have it considered in order.

Big Bill Out

The general appropriation bill, amended so that it carries approximately $40,000,000, out of $2,000,000, was reported out in the House for third reading by Chairman McCaig of the Appropriations Committee. It will be acted upon before the House adjourns this week.

The State College bills were also reported to the House by Chairman McCaig. The bill for $1,250,000 for maintenance, $250,000 for agricultural, summer and other schools and $8,000 for tobacco-growing experiments.

The committee also reported $500,000 for mothers' pensions, $750,000 for teachers' retirement, $100,000 for School of Industrial Art, Philadelphia, $125,000; Stevens Institute, Lancaster, $2,713.57; Philadelphia Museum, $40,000; Lackawanna Hospital, Philadelphia, $20,000; Associated Aid Societies of Lackawanna County, $3,000; Third Infantry Regiment, taxes on army, etc., Philadelphia, $20,000; county relief for losses, deficit $53,016.88; salary of Morgan O. Morgan as mine inspector, $2,500.

The committee also reported out the various Senate appropriations passed by the upper house last week.

The Senate bill creating the Department of Conservation was sent back to the Game Committee on motion of Chairman Baldrige. The sausage bill, recalled from the Governor, was amended and passed.

At 12:20 A. M. the House started in to clear its calendar of twenty-six appropriation bills.

Willson Bill Goes to Governor Again

The Willson bill repealing the nonpartisan election feature of the third-class city code was sent back to Governor Sprout as it was when recalled last month by action of the House, concurred in by the Senate. An unsuccessful effort was made in the House to reconsider the action and later a resolution recalling the bill again was defeated, 132 to 53, after much debate.

The resolution sending back the bill, which has been on the Speaker's table since recalled, was among the first business items of the night session and went through without much attention being given to it. Some time later, Mr. Wallace, Lawrence, moved to reconsider the action, but Mr. Simpson, Allegheny, raised the point of order that the resolution had left the House and was sustained. Mr. Wallace declared the bill had been "kicked out" of the Governor's office and that the resolution recalling it had gone through the House "pretty fast." He asserted very few members knew what they were voting on and that the third-class cities did not want the bill.

Mr. Wallace next moved that the bill be recalled from the Senate and Mr. Simpson again raised a point of order, but the Speaker declined to sustain him. Mr. Wallace said all he wanted was "fair play," but Mr. Simpson said it was all wrong to act one way and then try to undo it in half an hour, especially after the Senate had concurred. Mr. Millar, Dauphin, made his first oratorical effort, saying that the House had given due consideration to the bill, and Mr. Willson said the bill had been recalled for amendments which had been found unnecessary after passage of Mr. Wallace's own bill had become a law.

Appropriation Bills Sent Into Senate

The following appropriation bills were reported to the Senate last night: State-aid for agricultural exhibitions, $100,000; University of Pennsylvania, $900,000; University of Pittsburgh, $875,000; Temple University, $200,000; Duquesne University, $50,000; University of Pittsburgh, $50,000; Capitol Park office buildings, $1,250,000; Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Bridge, Harrisburg, $50,000; Gallatin, Pennsylvania monument, $25,000; College of Pharmacy, Philadelphia, $15,000.

FUNDS CARRIED FOR THE BRIDGE

Senate Committee Recommends $500,000 as a Starter For It

The proposed improvements to the Capitol Park zone were taken care of last night, when the Senate Appropriations Committee reported out bills carrying $1,250,000 for the new office building to be erected adjacent to the south wing of the Capitol, and $500,000 for the Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Bridge.

The bills will come up for first reading to-day and no obstacle will be placed in their path for a speedy trip through both houses. Both bills were presented in the Senate some time ago by Senator Frank A. Smith, Dauphin.

The Senate committee last night reported out Senator Smith's bill appropriating $25,000 to the Camp Curtin Park Commission. The park is to be erected on the site of the old Camp Curtin of Civil War days, in the Tenth ward.

The fund is to be administered by the following board: Robert A. Williams, Haverhill; Noah A. Walmer, Alvin S. Williams, William E. Bailey and John A. Herman.

Senator Snyder, Blair, last evening created in the Senate a prohibition enforcement bill along the lines of the Vickersman bill. Power to enforce the prohibition laws will be given to a State prohibition commissioner. Elaborate provisions for dealing with offenders are made.

The McCaig bill, prohibiting the sale of old eggs as the fresh article, and against which Senator Leiby, Perry, has maintained an aggressive fight all this season, was defeated, 21-21, on final passage. In all probability it will be called up later for reconsideration.

The McCaig bill permitting the manufacture of ethyl alcohol for medicinal, scientific and like purposes, was passed finally on reconsideration. The measure was previously voted down.

A great number of appropriation bills were recommended for amendment due to typographical errors. They will reappear in substantially the same form.

PICNIC AT PARK

Mount Wolf, Pa., June 16.—The Mount Wolf United Brethren Sunday school has set aside Saturday, July 12, afternoon and evening, as the occasion for an annual picnic, which will be held at Cold Springs Park. The following committee has been appointed: Harry Livingston, Harry Kates, Charles Brenner, Albert Schaubers and Jacob P. Bore.

RAMSEY BILL IS PASSED ALONG

Measure Adds to Its Legislative Experience in the Lower House

The Ramsey bill defining any liquor containing more than two three-fourths per cent. of alcohol an intoxicant was passed in the House early this morning after having been defeated and reconsidered a week ago. The measure now goes to the Senate. Governor Sprout has said such matters were for Congress to act upon.

The bill received 107 votes, or three more than required to pass it. The negative vote was ninety.

Mr. Ramsey called up the bill and made an extended argument for it, contending that the bill would give the poor man his beer and would be good for the welfare, health and commercial interests of the State.

Mr. Lawrence, argued against the bill, saying that forty-five States had ratified the Federal amendment and that it was not a legislative subject for the States. Alcohol, he asserted, has been proved by medical men to be an intoxicant, no matter in what quantity taken. Such a bill, said he, is against the Federal amendment and in violation of the Federal Constitution.

Mr. Palmer, Schuylkill, took issue with Mr. Wallace and attacked his citations of decisions. Mr. Ramsey rejoined that the bill was to become operative when the Federal amendment was in force.

Mr. Jordan, Lawrence, jocularly referred to Mr. Ramsey as a Gabriel trying to raise the dead and said the House should "quit fooling" with liquor legislation. Alabama and Georgia, said he, had tried two per cent. liquor and found it intoxicating, being forced to reduce it. Mr. Whitman, Westmoreland, said a Republican Congress had refused to pull "beer and light wine chestnuts" out of the fire and there was no reason for the Legislature to do it now. The vote followed and when announced there was a rush of the liquor lobby to the telegraph and telephone offices.

In the affirmative votes were Beightol, Hickernell, Millar, Miller and Zimmerman.

"No" votes were cast by Beckley, Bower, Bowman, Brooks, Cook, Corbin, Benchoff, Magill, Griest, Shelberger, Crum, Showalter, Woodruff and Commerer.

Mr. Uish was absent. It is not believed the Senate will pass the bill. The Governor it is said, will veto it if it does.

Americans Studied Relics of Chaumont

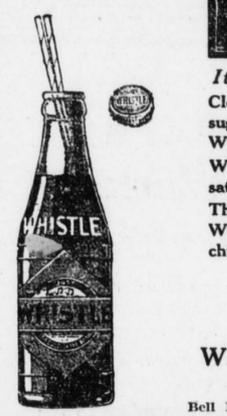

Chaumont, France, June 17.—In such spare time as their duties permit many of the officers of the American Headquarters Staff have studied the interesting historical relics of this little city. While not so old as some of its neighboring towns, nevertheless Chaumont is a fertile field of investigation. It was once the seat of stronghold of the Counts of Champagne. On the edge of a tree-clad precipice that commands a wide sweep of field and forest still stands the large Tour Hauteville, a relic of the castle of the Counts of Champagne. A massive square structure of masonry, lichened and gray with age, it now forms one angle of the more modern Palais de Justice and is in such good condition that it is hard to realize it dates from the eleventh century. Below it are the cells of the courthouse, and around its base is a quaint walled garden shaded by ancient trees. This was once the castle garden, and from a deep ravine a stairway tunneled from the rock leads to the old tower.

WHISTLE

It is cloudy in the bottle Cloudy with the heavy pure cane sugar and fruit. It would not be Whistle if it was not cloudy. Whistle is full bodied, substantial, satisfying—with a smacking flavor. The sugar energy in every bottle of Whistle is the reason you and your children will prefer Whistle.

What is BORAX?

BORAX is a natural crystal of magic properties not possessed by any other substance on earth. When placed in the water used in the laundry, kitchen and bath, it becomes an invisible giant, working wonders for the cleansing and brightening of the home and the lessening of household labor.

Borax is a marvelous aid to soap wherever soap is used. It's the Borax with the soap that does the work because Borax is the greatest water softener known to man, and soap works better in soft water.

Used in the laundry it saves soap, time and rubbing. Makes clothes hygienically clean and sweet smelling.

Used in the kitchen it cuts the grease from pots and pans, puts a polish on china and glassware and keeps the kitchen sink clean and sweet.

Used in the bath it cleanses the pores, refreshes the skin and removes perspiration odors.
