GERMANY WILL SIGN PACT ON FRIDAY; PARIS NOW IS IN GAY MOOD OVER PEACE

Wilson Transport Held in Readiness to Sail Home With President When Germans Sign the Peace Treaty

POWERS WILL INQUIRE INTO SINKING OF GERMAN FLEET AT SCAPA FLOW BY HUNS

PARIS, June 24.—The German delegation which will sign the Peace Treaty will arrive at Versailles on Friday morning, the French Foreign Office has been informed. It is thought probable in French circles that the signing of the Treaty will take place at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The signing of the Peace Treaty with Germany will take place on Friday afternoon, it is indicated in Paris advices to-day. There is some doubt about the date, however, because of lack of word from Germany regarding her new representation at Versailles. Dr. Haniel Von Haimhausen, who was named as plenipotentiary to sign the Treaty, has telegraphed his resignation to Weimar.

Wilson Will Stay For Signing President Wilson has ordered the transport George Washington to be held ready at Brest for his departure for home. He has agreed, it is said, to remain in Paris until the Treaty has been signed. Final arrangements for the ceremony are being made at Versailles by Premier Clemenceau, president of the Peace Conference, who has announced his intention to resign the premiership as soon as the Treaty is ratified.

To Investigate Sinking of Fleet Work on the Austrian Treaty was resumed by the representatives of the great powers in Paris to-day and their intention of hurrying the document to completion is evident. The Council has referred the question of the sinking of the German ships in Scapa Flow to a commission for determination as to whether the armistice conditions were violated by the Germans' act.

Italy Maintains Attitude Tommaso Tittoni, the new foreign minister of Italy, will be the leading Italian delegate at the Peace Conference, according to advices from Rome. It is said that declarations that he has made do not reflect any disposition to recede from the position taken by former Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino as to Italian claims on the eastern shore of the Adriatic.

Weimar, June 24.—Haniel Von Haimhausen, who was in Sunday designated as the German plenipotentiary to sign the Peace Treaty, has telegraphed his resignation from Versailles, rather than attach his name to the instrument.

The German delegation to sign the peace treaty probably will be named to-day. Before the National Assembly voted yesterday to sign the peace terms unconditionally, fiery appeals of opposition were made by the Democrats and Conservatives, but they apparently had little effect. When the vote was called all but a few members rose to signify their affirmation of the government's decision to sign.

Gloom on Assembly Once the vote was taken, gloom appeared to descend upon the assembly. The most vigorous opponents of signing were speechless and seemed to accept the inevitable with resignation.

Many wild rumors of what would happen when it became known the assembly had voted almost unanimously to accept the terms gained currency. One that appeared to get most support was that all the officers of the German army would resign if the government did not refuse to surrender German leaders, especially Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General Ludendorff and defy the Allies to seize the former emperor.

In military and semimilitary circles a strong insistence has developed that the document be signed innocently and that under no circumstances must he be placed on trial except in a neutral court.

In some quarters the threat of the officers to resign was taken most seriously.

GERMANS BURN FRENCH FLAGS

Paris, June 24.—Word of the burning of the French flags by the Germans has been received here. Peace Conference opinion is apparently unanimous that this is a distinct violation of the Peace Treaty, inasmuch as that document stipulated that the flags should be returned to France by Germany.

A commission probably will be appointed to consider taking action in the matter.

Presumably the foregoing refers to French battleflags taken by the Germans in the War of 1870-71. Article 245 of the Peace Treaty, in the original draft, stipulated that within six months after the Treaty should take effect Germany must restore to France the trophies, works of art, etc., carried from France by the German authorities in the Franco-Prussian War, particularly the French flags taken in the course of the war of 1870-71.

Measure Now Goes to Governor, Who Is Said to Oppose It

LONG DEBATE IS HEATED Senator Frank A. Smith, of Dauphin, Votes Against the Bill

Governor Sproul announced this afternoon that he intended to veto the Ramsey bill permitting the manufacture and sale of beer containing 2 1/2 per cent alcohol. The measure was passed finally by the Senate to-day, 29 to 19.

The Senate this morning put its mark of approval on 2 1/2 per cent beer, when it passed 29 to 19 the Ramsey House bill, permitting the manufacture and sale of that product. The passage of the bill was marked by a heated debate, led by Senator Snyder, Blair, the "dry" leader in the Senate who bitterly condemned the measure.

The bill now goes to the Governor, who expressed his disapproval of the measure in a letter to Senator Eyre, which was read on the floor of the Senate.

Senator Baldwin, Chester, explained his affirmative vote, by saying that the constitutional amendment had specifically put it up to the States to determine what an intoxicating beverage is. Senator Frank A. Smith, Dauphin, voted against the bill.

WILL HEAD GERMAN ENVOYS Herman Mueller, the new German foreign secretary, will head the German delegation to sign the peace treaty, La Liberté says. The Germans probably will arrive at Versailles Wednesday morning.

GUNS OF PARIS BOOM AS ENEMY ACCEPTS PEACE

Bells Peal Out as Token of Weimar Assembly Action on Treaty

Paris, June 24.—Long months of strain during the peace negotiations and weeks of doubt whether Germany would accept the conditions offered or would invite by her refusal of them a further invasion of her country ended yesterday when a note announcing Germany's unconditional acceptance was delivered to the Supreme Council of the Conference.

The announcement during the early morning of the Council's decision to refuse a further extension of time in which Germany might answer inaugurated a day of extreme tension. It was generally known to the public and conference diplomats that only a few hours

IT'S --- HARD TO BE LOVED BY TWO WOMEN

So Mrs. Mary E. Watson Was Told by Her Husband, Who Gave Up Trying Experience

"It's hell to be loved by two women," Mrs. Mary E. Watson in divorce court said her husband had told her just before he left their home in Hollidaysburg, supposedly with another woman, who resided in Roaring Springs.

Mrs. Watson told Judge McCarrell her husband left her and said he was going to Newport News. She did not hear from him for more than a week, and inquiring where he worked she found that he had not been sent to that place. Further investigation also showed that the woman to whom he had been paying attentions also had left. Mrs. Watson said she has not heard from her husband since that time, more than two years ago.

Mrs. Margaret M. Arnold, charging her husband, Anthony Arnold, with desertion, said she came to Harrisburg from County Donegal, Ireland. When she arrived in New York with her husband, he was met by a woman who said she was his sister. Later he attempted to make her go to work, Mrs. Arnold continued, and then his sister came from Philadelphia and took them both to that city. Two days later her husband

STATE IS SEVENTH IN U. S. TO RATIFY WOMAN SUFFRAGE

House Accepts Senate Resolution While Women Cheer Victory After 50 Years of Strenuous Political Work

PARADES AND LUNCHEONS TO CELEBRATE HARD-WON VICTORY

Pennsylvania has endorsed woman suffrage. The women of the Keystone State to-day received with mixed emotions news that the General Assembly had accepted the proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution, the seventh State to endorse it. The Capitol was thronged with hundreds of women from all walks of life who came from every corner of the Commonwealth to see that no kinks got into the driving chains that have been urging the Legislature to action.

Victory has come to the women after nearly a half century of effort in Pennsylvania. Several times the victory has almost been within the grasp of the workers only to slip through their fingers. Memorable fights were made in the Legislatures of 1913 and 1915 when, in the face of strong opposition, for many men have now, a proposed amendment to the State constitution was adopted. The women lost the ratification of this amendment by a small majority at the polls, although close to 400,000 votes were cast in its favor.

Alive With Workers The city was alive very early to-day with women workers. They thronged the Pennsylvania lobby, they jammed the gallery and aisles of the hall of the House of Representatives and cheered the efforts of their friends. While the climax that comes in a hard battle which has to be won by a last minute rally was lacking, still the women plainly showed their elation when the clerk of the House announced that the Senate resolution had passed finally.

The women were united in praising Governor Sproul and the Legislature for their work they were not as a unit in their celebration. The workers are divided into two camps. There is the National Woman's Party and Pennsylvania Woman's Suffrage Association. Which comes first in the hearts of the women is a little hard to determine. Both sides have brilliant and earnest workers, both have faithfully groomed adherents and both have members who are descended from the first Pennsylvania families, and are claiming their share of the credit.

The National Party folk this afternoon will celebrate with a parade in which the Pennsylvania Suffrage Association will join, and in addition the Suffrage Association members attended a jubilee luncheon at the Penn-Harris.

The Seventh State Pennsylvania became the seventh State to ratify the Federal woman suffrage amendment. The House of Representatives adopted a resolution ratifying the amendment by 153 to 44 at 12:55 P. M. The Senate adopted it last week by 32 to 6.

The Hall of the House was the scene of a remarkable demonstration when the vote was announced. Hundreds of women were present and the purple, white and gold of the National Woman's party and the gold of the Pennsylvania Woman's
