

CREEL FORTUNES ARE FOUND IN MEXICO CITY

Had Been Held Unidentified by National Treasury For Long Time

Mexico City, June 24.—When representatives of the famous Creel family of Chihuahua recently appeared before the government officials here with requests for information regarding the whereabouts of mining, railway and other valuable stock valued at close to 2,000,000 pesos, they were astonished to learn that the stock, as well as about 2,000,000 pesos in paper money, was held by the national treasury for identification of ownership and that it only had been discovered a few months ago.

According to published accounts, workmen, while cleaning out a spare room in the building used by the federal district government, found a score of locked boxes which contained the paper money and shares. Neither the governor of the federal district, General Alfredo Breceda, nor the district court after guarded investigations, could determine who owned the treasure, so it was turned over in trust to the national treasury.

The theory is that, during the first revolutionary troubles which resulted in the downfall of Porfirio Diaz, the boxes were sent from Chihuahua to a private residence of the Creels here and that, when the Zapatistas first entered Mexico City, they were placed in charge of the federal district government.

The Creel representative stated that a large sum of metallic currency and a valuable collection of jewels also were being sought, but of these easily realizable riches, no trace has been discovered.

COURT'S OPINION ADDED EXPENSE IN HARDCRABBLE

Cost May Mount to $148,644 to Develop the Park System

To take over the properties in HarDCrabble on the west side of North Front street, from Herr to Calder streets, will cost the city at least $107,374.70, and possibly $148,644.40 depending upon decisions in cases now pending before the Dauphin county court.

With the decision of the Supreme court on Saturday that in contested awards of viewers on the west side of the street, the city must pay for all property built since 1871, $22,000 was added to the amount of the damages sustained by the property owners through condemnation proceedings. The total amount of damages awarded for properties on the west side of the street now is $148,644.40.

The city, however, brought actions against property owners on the east side of the street, to assess benefits against them because of the proposed improvements which city officials claimed would increase property values. The total amount of the benefits which have been assessed or which were allowed by the court in contested cases is $41,269.70. If the county court rules that the city cannot collect this money, it is likely property owners will appeal to the Supreme court. If the decision of the county court were affirmed it would cost more than $41,000 from the cost of taking over the properties on the west side of the street. If the city cannot assess and collect the benefits the cost will be more than $148,000 to take over properties on the west side.

HUN OFFICERS SHOT THEIR MEN

Killed Them When They Tried to Shut Seacoaks on Ships

By Associated Press. Thurso, Scotland, June 24.—German sailors were shot by their own officers when they attempted to obey the commands of the British officers to return to their ships and shut the seacoaks. This statement was made by Lieutenant Nuttall, of the steamer Alouette, who reached here to-day from Scarpa Flow, where the German ships were sunk.

"I pulled along side a German destroyer when I saw the ship begin to settle," said Lieutenant Nuttall, "and ordered the Germans back to close the seacoaks. Four or five of them turned back, whereupon the German officers shot three of them dead. We then opened fire on the officers and several of them dropped."

"Others among the Germans then returned and closed the seacoaks. The Germans were also driven back to four or five other destroyers; they closed the seacoaks in time to keep the Emden from being pumped out and now afloat. The Baden's crew was forced back to that vessel and compelled to shut the seacoaks."

Harrisburg Firm Gives New Foundland an Idea of American Methods

A Harrisburg firm has had the honor of introducing American money-raising methods in New Foundland. Mark D. Holtzman, representing the Hockenbury system, of which E. J. Hockenbury is president and manager, returned to Harrisburg after a two months' stay in St. Johns, Newfoundland, where he made a survey and built the organization which raised a total of $24,000. The original goal was $50,000, but this objective was reached in two days, after which a new goal of $200,000 was set by the workers. This was again exceeded by nearly $50,000.

The same plan was used as the American war drives and it was a revelation to the businessmen of St. Johns. This was the first short-term campaign ever conducted in New Foundland. The money was raised for St. Johns' Active step of the Methodist (Wesleyan) College Residence, a new public school building and an institutional building. The campaign also had the effect of merging the three funds into one. The Anglican Church is now so much encouraged as to put on a similar campaign for at least a quarter-million dollars.

According to a further statement made by Mr. Holtzman, all educational and human work in New Foundland. The largest denominations are the Methodists, the Anglicans or Church of England and Roman Catholics. Active steps are now being taken by the laymen through their boards of education to establish a semipublic school system.

Mr. Hockenbury spent a week in St. Johns prior to the campaign and personally conducted the drive, June 1-15. He is now on a fishing trip near Trepassy and, after attending the Methodist Conference, will return to Harrisburg.

Whitla Bitter at Parole of Woman Who Stole Son

Sharon, Pa., June 24.—Although ten years have rolled by since the kidnaping of Billy Whitla, time has not worn the edges of Attorney James P. Whitla's bitterness toward Helen Boyle, who will be released on parole to-morrow from the Western Penitentiary. Helen, with her husband, Jimmy Boyle, kidnaped Whitla's son in 1909.

Attorney Whitla expressed no feeling against Jimmy. This attitude is leading to the belief that within a few years he will not be averse to approving steps toward paroling Boyle.
