

COUNTESS SCRUBS STAIRWAYS IN A BUDAPEST PRISON

the vaunted proletariat, with such results as might be expected. Stovepipes stick from the lace-curtained windows, and the silk-covered walls are smoky, grimy and greasy. Protective covers have been torn from rich divans and hand-some chairs to be used for dishes. Costly bronzes, chipped and mutilated, are being used as playthings by the proletariat children.

Aged Count Held Prisoner Under the Regime of Bela Kun

Vienna, June 25.—Conditions in Budapest and the surrounding country under the fantastic government of Bela Kun and his soviet are grotesque. It has just become known the Countess Julia is scrubbing stairways in one of the city prisons. Count Jullia Szechenyi, aged 90, formerly master of the King's horse, is one of those who has incurred the displeasure of the ruling forces. In spite of his age, he has been forcibly removed from his home and imprisoned. What disposition will be made of him is not likely to reach the public until it has been ordered and executed.

For Quick Relief From Indigestion

Take three or four Bi-Nesia tablets immediately after eating or whenever you feel full. Those who have tried it say that relief and comfort almost invariably result within five minutes. You would like once more to enjoy the pleasure of eating a hearty meal of good things without the pain and discomfort to follow, go to Geo. A. Gorgas or any other good druggist and get a package of Bi-Nesia. Use and use as directed. Inasmuch as every package contains a binding guarantee contract of satisfaction, money back, you don't risk a cent by making this test, and the chances are that to-morrow you will be telling your dyspeptic friends that if they want to enjoy life they should

TAKE BI-NESIA

Geneva, June 25.—The federal authorities have taken measures to demobilize the Swiss army.

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded, Men and Women. It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime. Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork. By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drinks—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others. It is time to temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses. Timidness, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to abused nerves. People with plenty of red blood corpuscles and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shrink work and lean on others for guidance and support. There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind; vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks and at little cost. To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery; to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance; to be not only a man but an even more so, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Bio-ferin every day for seven days—and take them faithfully. Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted. Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them. Bio-ferin is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

State College Training Camp For High School Boys

The United States Boys' Working Reserve, which was in operation last year under the Public Council of National Defense, will continue its activities this year under the Department of Agricultural Education, of whom L. H. Dennis is director.

A training camp for high school boys, who meet the physical requirements, will be in operation at State College the second and third weeks in July. In this two week's course the boys will be given an intensive agricultural and military training, under competent leaders and teachers. An enrollment fee of $10 will be required of each boy attending the camp. This will include his board, tuition and uniform while at the camp.

It is also the purpose of the Boys' Working Reserve to enroll all boys above the years of age, weighing 110 pounds and are 5 feet 1-inch in height, who desire to spend their vacations working on farms. Suitable conditions will be arranged by the supervisors so that the experiences of the boys on the farms will be interesting and valuable to them.

Dr. C. B. Fager has been appointed director for Dauphin county. He advised all boys desiring to enroll in the Boys' Working Reserve or who seek further information concerning the program of the organization to call at room 84, Union Trust building, any day between the hours of 9 a. m. and 12 noon and 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. He also urges all boys to enroll for either the camp or the farm work by June 25 in order that proper records and arrangements can be made for each boy.

Nine Graduates in Class at Scotland Orphan School

Chambersburg, Pa., June 25.—The annual commencement exercises of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School of the State, at Scotland, which began Monday, was concluded yesterday. The class was one of nine boys and girls from 16 to 18 years of age and the exercises were interesting and were enjoyed by many visitors including relatives of the children and veterans of the Grand Army Posts, who are always guests of honor. Col. William H. Stewart, a brother of the late General Thomas J. Stewart, is superintendent, and Colonel W. C. Bambrick, is principal. A band concert by the boys' band and a song recital by the pupils formed Monday night's program. Yesterday the campus exercises, such as battalion drill, dress parade, setting up exercises and calisthenics were given, then came the graduation exercises and the declamation contests by the Curtin Literary Society. A feature was the exhibit of the classroom work of the boys in the various trades acquired and the girls in domestic science and householding including relatives of the children and veterans of the Grand Army Posts, who are always guests of honor. Simple Home Remedy For Wrinkled Faces

Thousands of the fair sex are spending fortunes in frantic efforts to remove the signs of premature age from their faces. Such women willingly pay almost any amount of money for worthless skin remedies, of which there are many. If they only knew it, the most effective remedy imaginable is a simple, harmless face wash which can be made up at home in less than a minute. They have only to get an ounce of powder, sachette and half a pint of which hazel at the drug store and mix the two. Apply this daily for a while as a refreshing lotion. The effect is almost magical. Even after the first treatment a marked improvement is noticed and the face has a tingling, firm feeling that is most pleasing.

SCHAFFER WARNS OF PERILS AHEAD

Attorney General Outlines For State Lawyers Nation's Peace Problems

Bedford Springs, Pa., June 25.—It is always hard to tell whether the sessions of the Pennsylvania Bar Association, which is holding its twenty-fifth annual meeting, are held indoors during the formal assembly, or out of doors under the trees.

It is the one time of the year when the many picturesque characters in the legal profession of the State hold formally and informally their general symposium, replete with wit, on all the problems of the universe. At the formal evening meeting last night former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, dealt some verbal uppercuts to the League of Nations, while the Attorney General of Pennsylvania, William I. Schaffer, in his presidential address urged that the "Federal government be speedily reformed by an extraordinary and dangerous power conferred under the stress of war."

Mr. Schaffer gave a remarkable and startling summary of war legislation, conferring upon the President and the executive branch of government authority and power over the rights and property of the citizens such as had never been dreamed of and which probably never existed except under the rule of the most absolute autocrats. This summary showed how far the United States had traveled away from the ancient landmarks of the republic and how great has become the concentration of power in Federal hands. This had been submitted to in time of war in a most unhesitating manner in time of peace every effort was necessary to see to it that these surrendered rights of the citizen and of the states were restored.

"It seems to me," the speaker said, "that our problem of making democracy safe for the United States is to incorporate in the formula for our government as much of the democratic principles as it will stand and as little of the oligarchic principle as we can safely get along without causing an explosion; that we shall keep away from the compound all anarchistic detonators and that we shall see that the oligarchic principle must gear into the larger democratic wheel if it is to properly work; that there are well-defined limits to pure democracy which if exceeded the man who founded this Republic clearly apprehended—there are not real dangers to our institutions, in view of the vast powers now lodged and sought to be lodged in the departments of Federal government with the opportunity which this would afford for the perpetuation in place of the oligarchy of the Republic."

"Having seen how vast are these powers, realizing that the formula, if continued, entire dominion over our marine, our railroads, our telegraphs and telephones, that this means control of billions of dollars worth of property (the railroads alone when taken over represented a value in property of twenty billions of dollars and in employment provided for one million or eight hundred thousand persons), and that this insidious thing, crawling over the country, is reaching out tentacles to take within its grasp the mines, the water power, the electric plants, and many kinds of manufacture, under the claim that their ownership by government is to the advantage of the people at large, is it not time for us to call a halt and to resolve not only that it shall not further go, but that all these enormous powers and possessions, acquired under the stress of war, shall be surrendered and that the Republic shall be brought back to its ancient ways and to the simplicities as Hamilton and Jefferson, Washington and Adams, Webster and Lincoln, Lincoln and Cleveland mapped its course? If this is done, then whatever party may for the time being be in power matters not so far as the foundations of the Republic are concerned."

In conclusion the speaker said: "Do not allow the old-fashioned ideals to depart from us. Let us continue to be plain men and plain women, with a plain man's government such as ours was designed to be with the balance of power all kept true, with the States fulfilling their allotted places in the Union, as the units of the whole scheme; We the People of the United States preserving our individuality and our independence; thus we will preserve and make safe democracy for the United States; our kind of democracy, with no foreign labor on it, placed there by men not understanding our institutions. If thus we purpose and perform, this nation shall continue to shine as the world's brightest beacon for mankind."

Hundreds of New Homes Planned at Waynesboro

Waynesboro, Pa., June 25.—The "build more homes" movement here for Waynesboro as the goal, was given a mighty impulse when the Landis Machine Company closed the purchase to-day of seventeen acres on the side near their works, from the Amberson heirs. It is the purpose of the company to begin the erection of a number of homes for its employees this season. Several other local companies have under consideration the purchase of land in other sections for the same purpose.

The Manufacturers' Association is strongly back of the building movement. About twenty houses have now been started, or soon will be under construction, and plans are being discussed that will mean an increase in this number in the near future.

TRAIN KILLS COW

New Bloomfield, Pa., June 25.—A Susquehanna River and Western Railroad train struck and killed a valuable cow belonging to George Krlok, near King's Mill, on Monday.

COCCHI CRIES OUT GUILT TO FOREIGN JUDGE TRYING HIM

Slayer of Ruth Cruger, in Broken Voice, Has Courtroom Aghast at Murder Narrative; Saved Body of Victim in Two When Door Was Too Small, He Confesses

Bologna, June 25.—The trial of Alfred Cocchi, charged with the murder of Ruth Cruger, in New York in 1917, has been interrupted for an indefinite period to enable the court to examine the papers in the trial of Cocchi's wife.

There was a spirited exchange between Signor Bagnoli, president of the court, and Cocchi yesterday over the latter's change of attitude toward the crime, in which the court spoke vehemently in citing incidents narrated in the confession made by Cocchi and the findings of American tribunals.

Cocchi told of having saved the body of Miss Cruger so that she might hide it. Then he broke down, crying in a broken voice: "I took the body and tried to conceal it in the cellar, but the door was not large enough and I saw the body in two. The girl was dead when she was done."

Benjamin Hershey Dies. Marietta, Pa., June 25.—Benjamin Hershey, 84 years old, a veteran of the Civil War, and who served in the Indian outbreak in New Ulm, Minn., in 1862, died from paralysis. He was one of the pioneers of the Hershey family. His wife and two sons survive.

MAN'S RIGHT TO STORE LIQUOR IN HOME ATTACKED

Prohibition Bill Will Be Reported Out Today or Tomorrow

Washington, June 25.—A man's right to store liquor in his home for the long dry period after July 1, stood yesterday against an attack on that provision of the prohibition enforcement bill before the House judiciary committee.

The bill as it will be reported out today or tomorrow is considered all-embracing. So drastic are its provisions, members of the committee said, that while a man may put a keg of beer in his cellar, he may be convicted, and fined if he wears a watch fob on which there is a picture of the keg as an advertisement.

In a general consideration of the measure the committee made a number of minor changes, but the principal fight was over the question of the right of home storage for personal use. Representative Morgan, Republican, of Oklahoma, endeavored to have stricken out the section reading "it shall not be unlawful to possess in one's private dwelling while the same is occupied and used by him only as his dwelling."

that nothing was to be gained by enacting a law so drastic as to arouse the hostility of a people who rejoiced that the day of the saloon had ended. Prohibition members supported an amendment eliminating the proviso that the liquor must be obtained and placed in storage prior to date the act would become effective, as amended the section reads "That such liquor need not be reported, provided the burden of showing that possession is legal is upon the possessor."
