

THRILLING WAR STORIES TOLD

Sergeant in Artillery of Forty-First Division Has Photographs of Great Interest

Mount Wolf, Pa., June 27.—J. L. Graybill, of Parkman, Wyo., a member of the 148th Field Artillery, 41st division, recently discharged from the army, is visiting his sister, Mrs. C. E. Hartman. Sergeant Graybill narrates thrilling war experiences and also tells of the ruthlessness of the Germans. The artillery of which he was a member assisted in the capture of "Big Bertha," the monster gun which bombarded Paris from a distance of approximately 50 miles. In this drive the Yankees had the Hun on a mad retreat, and when "Big Bertha" was reached the American found that German soldiers had been chained fast to their post, this being done in order to permit the Boches to make a more rapid retreat. Some of the men in chains were dead, while others were alive, it is alleged. Not only were men chained to "Big Bertha," but also to machine guns. To one machine gun were chained the bodies of a dead man and a woman, the latter being almost nude, it is said. Sergeant Graybill says that there were stacks of ammunition stored about the big range gun. This was captured by the Allied army. Huge piles of bones, the skeletons of dead Germans, were banked in the vicinity of "Big Bertha." Sergeant Graybill has actual photographs of the scenes of men chained to the guns, to verify his statements. He will visit his sister here for a short while, after which he will go to his home in Wyoming. He stated that during the advance of the 148th artillery, replacements had to be furnished on three occasions, the casualties being heavy.

Plan For Minimum Wage For Women in Porto Rico Approved

San Juan, June 27.—The project providing a minimum wage for women and girls employed in Porto Rico was approved in the lower house this week, after a many stormy sessions. The bill provides that women under 18 years of age shall be paid not less than $1.50 a week, and over 18 years $2 a week. The first three weeks of apprenticeship are exempt from this requirement.

No More Physically Normal Persons in Russia

London, June 27.—Physically normal persons no longer are to be found in Petrograd nor in all Russia, says T. Hoasen, a well-known Moscow journalist and member of the second Duma who has arrived in Copenhagen after a long stay in Petrograd. The mental state produced by starvation, disease and nervous strain, he says, forces Russians to lose their mental balance. "Their mental condition so changes their appearance that often one cannot recognize one's nearest friend. I remember the impression I had when I met the well-known lawyer, Rajefski. At first I did not recognize him. Soon afterward I learned that he had hanged himself. Similar things happen daily. I think it is to be wondered that such suicides do not become general. In all the streets one meets still well dressed people, men and women, begging. There they stand some of them with their heads down, dumb as if turned to stone; others ceaselessly repeating 'I am dying. Give me something to eat.'"

Baker Injured When Lid of Mixer Falls on Him

Gettysburg, Pa., June 27.—Working about a new mixer in making a test of the machine before it was permanently set in the bakery of William A. Hennig, M. S. Yohe, the head baker, was painfully hurt when the lid of the machine fell on him. A batch of bread was about to be mixed in the machine and a piece of scumming was used to prop the lid up beside the chains which would hold the lid and not yet been placed in position. When working at the mixer the prop was knocked out and the heavy lid, weighing about 300 pounds, fell. Mr. Yohe saw it coming and tried to get away, but he was struck. A big gash was cut in the top of his head, while a hook at the top of the mixer which holds the chain pierced several holes in his forehead. A bag of flour was lying on the top of the mixer which broke the force of the fall of the lid and prevented more serious injury.

Civil Governor Named For Japanese District

Tokio, June 27.—An indication of the tendency of the military influence in Japan to work more closely in harmony with the civic elements in the Japanese government is seen in the recent appointment of Baron Gonsuke Hayashi, former Minister to Italy and China, as Governor General of the Kwantung District in Southern Manchuria. Hitherto the governors have always been military officers. It is considered probable here that the Hara cabinet will seize the first opportunity of also appointing a civil governor for Korea and inaugurate an important reform in the gendarmerie system, if not its abolishment altogether.
