

HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH A NEWSPAPER FOR THE HOME

Published evenings except Sunday by THE TELEGRAPH PRINTING CO. Telegraph Building, Federal Square

E. J. STACKPOLE President and Editor-in-Chief F. R. OYSTER, Business Manager GUS M. STEINMETZ, Managing Editor

Member American Newspaper Publishers Association, the Audit Bureau of Circulation and Pennsylvania Associated Dailies.

Entered at the Post Office in Harrisburg, Pa., as second class matter. By carrier, ten cents a week; by mail, $2.00 a year in advance.

FRIDAY JUNE 27, 1919

Know how sublime a thing it is To suffer and be stronger

—Longfellow.

THE SESSION ENDS

THE end of the first legislative session of the new administration finds Governor Sprout stronger and more popular than when he was inaugurated last winter, which is saying much when it is considered that he was at that time by far the most popular Governor-elect in the memory of living Pennsylvanians.

COMPENSATION RATES

THE new workmen's compensation bill increasing benefits to injured workmen in a distinct advance over the old act and places Pennsylvania well up to the front among commonwealths that have provided generously for workers who have been incapacitated while in the performance of their duties.

A LAWLESS LOT

MUCH is appearing in the newspapers concerning the intention of the city to continue to sell intoxicants next week despite Federal restrictions. This is a plain defiance of the law of the land by a body of men who, as a whole, have for many years acted as though they regarded themselves as above the law.

must go the credit for the new provisions, all of which are advantageous to working people. They stood out against those who believed the old law good enough and were instrumental in the enactment of the measure to which the Governor in a few days will give his approval.

TRIBUTE TO WOOD

PRACTICALLY all soldiers returning from France, who speak on the subject, pay as great a tribute to General Leonard Wood as a factor in American successes as they do to any other one man, not excepting even General Pershing.

What of Our Children?

[See Wilson Doid in Yale Review] For better or for worse we are struggling through years of accelerated change, and our brains grow fatigued by so much up and down as they see the bill carrying around $14,000,000 pass the House at 2 o'clock in the morning.

MORE LAWRENCE GUFF

DAVID LAWRENCE, official press agent for the Wilson administration, sends out of Washington a dispatch in which he says that the United States is not better prepared now than it was when General Pershing was ordered into Mexico to put an adequate air service on the border, and tries to place the blame on the Republican Congress.

NO FAITH IN HUNS

THE English announce that they "have no faith in the Huns," and the French say they "must renew their vigil along the Rhine," which leads one to the conclusion that universal peace is a long, long way in the future and that the League of Nations will be little more than an insurance policy for Europe against the aggression of a powerful enemy without assistance from America.

Tar and Feathers

Most persons think of tar and feathers as a punishment limited to mobs in wild America, but it is a shock to read that it was the form of vengeance recently applied by an English army officer to an English naval officer who had committed an unpardonable social offense against him.

A Suggestion

[From the Los Angeles Times] A good deal of talk is going the rounds just now as to what should be the attitude of the nation. Nobody has thought about suggesting the home.

the I. W. W., the Bolsheviks and others to whom law is a joke and government a farce. The saloon men will find that the will of the people will be imposed and that whether they like it or not they will be forced to abide by the decision of the majority and the statutes of the States and of Congress.

Politics in Pennsylvania

Close of the session of the General Assembly of 1919 has been marked by so many incidents out of the ordinary that it will take a long time for the real story of the Legislature to be told. The record of achievements is in itself a notable one, but there was much outside of the routine of passing laws and much that will have political effect.

What of Our Children?

[See Wilson Doid in Yale Review] For better or for worse we are struggling through years of accelerated change, and our brains grow fatigued by so much up and down as they see the bill carrying around $14,000,000 pass the House at 2 o'clock in the morning.

MORE LAWRENCE GUFF

DAVID LAWRENCE, official press agent for the Wilson administration, sends out of Washington a dispatch in which he says that the United States is not better prepared now than it was when General Pershing was ordered into Mexico to put an adequate air service on the border, and tries to place the blame on the Republican Congress.

Tar and Feathers

Most persons think of tar and feathers as a punishment limited to mobs in wild America, but it is a shock to read that it was the form of vengeance recently applied by an English army officer to an English naval officer who had committed an unpardonable social offense against him.

A Suggestion

[From the Los Angeles Times] A good deal of talk is going the rounds just now as to what should be the attitude of the nation. Nobody has thought about suggesting the home.

SOMEBODY IS ALWAYS TAKING THE JOY OUT OF LIFE

By Briggs

Evening Chat

"The West is taking to prohibition as though the country had always been dry," said a Harrisburg man yesterday who recently made a tour of Colorado and Utah, both of which have barred John Barleycorn.

Is the "Maid of Anzio" Really a "Laurel Bearer"

A SILVER model of one of Italy's most famous art treasures, the Fanciulla D'Anzio, was the gift of the Roman municipality to President Wilson during his recent visit to Rome.

No Wonder Germany Quit

"One of the things that amused our men when they first landed in France were the dinkey little French engines and railroad cars," said Major Frank C. Mahin, of the Army Recruiting Station, 325 Market street in Harrisburg.

Judge Gary's Labor Views

There would be no labor question if labor and capital practiced what Mr. Gary preached, namely, placidly with which he discusses the subject is equally admirable and amiable. Nobody would imagine that he is the administrator of a labor's leading organization.

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE

—Attorney General William I. Schaffer is receiving many telegrams of congratulation on his address to the State Bar Association.

JIMMY

[Joseph Andrew Galahad in Life] A ragged newsy stopped me on the street the other morning.

Classics Lose French Favor

[Continental Edition London Mail] Changes in the system of examination for the French degree of licentiate in letters are under consideration at the Ministry of Public Instruction.

Deacon's Going Home

[From the Kansas City Star] The new Korean republic has applied for a place in the League of Nations.

Elisha Healeth the Water

And the men of the city said unto Elisha, Behold, I pray thee, the situation of this city is pleasant, and my lord saith, but the water is naught, and the ground barren.

DO YOU KNOW

—That Harrisburg pretzels are being sent to army camps? HISTORIC HARRISBURG The first Legislature to sit here convened in 1813.