MISS BRUMBAUGH BRIDE OF WEEK

Former Governor's Daughter
Marries Musician, Her
Piano Teacher

A late June wedding of much interest was celebrated quietly yesterday when Miss Mabel A. Brumbaugh, daughter of ex-Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh, was married to Ralph C. Lewars, a widely known musician of Philadelphia, at her father's home, 214 West Walnut street, Germantown. The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. C. F. Steck, of the Epiphany Lutheran Church, Washington, uncle of the bridegroom. He was assisted by the Rev. Edward Yates Hill, of the First Presbyterian Church, Seventh and Locust streets, where Mr. Lewars is organist. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a handsome gown of white satin, trimmed with rare family lace, and tulle veil crowned with orange blossoms. She carried white sweetpeas and white roses. Miss Ruth Pennock, who acted as maid of honor and only attendant, wore a smart frock of pink tulle over pink satin, with a tulle hat to match, and carried pink roses and blue larkspur.

Charles Lewars, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. A reception followed the ceremony. After a wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Lewars will spend the summer at Mount Gretna. Miss Brumbaugh, who resigned her position as teacher in the Friends' School Kindergarten, Seventeenth street and Grand avenue, where her popularity with her pupils gained her the name of "Good Fairy," Mr. Lewars is director of the Philadelphia School of Musical Art, 1714 Chestnut street, and his bride was one of his pupils in piano study.

THE LONG-PRICE WEDDING IN CHURCH

MR. AND MRS. HARRY D. LONG.

Miss Anna Elizabeth Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Price, 137 East South street, York, and Harry D. Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Long, 1117 North Sixth street, this city, were united in marriage on Wednesday in the Duke Street Methodist Episcopal church. The Rev. William Willis Sholl officiating. The ring ceremony was used and only the immediate families were present. The bride wore a navy blue traveling suit and a small blue hat to match. Her Dresden corsage bouquet added a pleasing touch to the costume. The church was artistically decorated at the altar and along the main aisles with larkspur and pink roses. Mrs. W. W. Sholl, wife of the officiating pastor, played the wedding music, including the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin. Following a wedding dinner at the home of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Long left for Atlantic City and other eastern points. On their return they will reside in apartments at 513 South George street, York. The bride is a member of the popular younger set at York and also has many friends in Harrisburg. The bridegroom is employed in the office of the division engineer, Pennsylvania railroad station, and is a son of John D. Long, a well-known passenger engineer on the Middle division.

WED IN CHURCH LAST EVENING

Miss Hazel Mae Rosenberger
Becomes Bride of the
Rev. Ray H. Fasick

A pretty church wedding was solemnized last evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Eastman Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church when Miss Hazel Mae Rosenberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Rosenberger, New Cumberland, and the Rev. Ray H. Fasick, son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Fasick, of Tyrone, were united in marriage. The Rev. Dr. A. S. Fasick, assisted by the Rev. W. R. Rice, officiating. The double ring ceremony was used. The church was decorated with palms and ferns, and prior to the ceremony Miss Lillian Grove gave the bride a bouquet of white roses, a briar-organ reciter and Mrs. Russell Kohr sang "Until" and "O Promise Me." The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was played as the procession and the Mendelssohn Wedding March as the recessional. During the ceremony the soft strains of "To a Wild Rose" were heard. The bride wore a gown of white satin with garnitures of seed pearls, and a court train. Her veil of silk net fell from beneath a wreath of white roses, bound in a single red bud in the center and was caught at the wrist with ribbon bracelets. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses.

The bride's attendants The maid of honor, Miss Ruth Haverstick, of Lancaster, was charming in a gown of cream, silk lace with bodices of pink and blue tulle. Her bouquet was of pink roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Fasick, a sister of the bridegroom, who wore a frock of beaded white Georgette crepe and carried an arm bouquet of marigolds and Miss Marguerite Wimpyer, whose frock was of the same material, who also carried marigolds. Charles R. Rosenberger, of Washington, D. C., brother of the bride, was best man, and a sister of the bride, Miss Laura Hill, of this city, played the Mendelssohn Wedding March and after the ceremony selections were played by Miss Mary Lynch of Steer.

CUMBERLAND CO. D. A. R. MEETING

State Regent Greeted by Members and Guests at Home of Mrs. Walter Stuart

There was a notable gathering of Daughters of the American Revolution yesterday at the home of Mrs. Walter Stuart, 251 South Hanover street, Carlisle, when members of Cumberland County Chapter welcomed the State regent, Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, and guests, from several other chapters.

The pleasure of the day began with a buffet luncheon of the regent women. The house and porches were decorated in summer flowers with the American flag in evidence. The closing meeting of Cumberland Chapter began shortly after 2 o'clock with the regent, Mrs. A. D. Bache Smead, presiding. Patriotic music, reports of chapter work and a most interesting letter from the Pine Mountain school, in which the chapter has been especially interested, made up the program prior to a patriotic address by Mrs. Cook, clever and inspiring.

Miss Cora Lee Snyder, regent of Harrisburg Chapter, spoke of the after-war work of the D. A. R. and Miss Christine King, regent of Franklin County Chapter, brought greetings from that body. The new report of chapter work, Mr. Edward Biddle, president of the Civic Club of Philadelphia, spoke delightfully of real Americanization work at the close of the session the Year Books of Cumberland Chapter were distributed.

There was a delightful social time after the luncheon, with the regent remaining for greetings and visits with the out-of-town folks, and on the return home quite a party stopped at the M. H. House, near Balltown, for a late supper out of doors to the accompaniment of the rushing water and gentle winds.

Mrs. Susan F. Dunkle and Miss Snyder, of the Harrisburg Chapter, who made the trip by automobile, brought with them to this city Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, the State regent, who took a midnight train for Meadville, where she was guest of honor to-day at D. A. R. festivities.

Another Stout Woman Appreciates Special Attention

"Really, Miss Sachs, it's a blessing to find a shop where just because a woman is stout they don't assume that she has lost all pride in her appearance."

It was a woman in her late forties who was speaking. "Since I've become stout," she went on, "I've had difficulty in finding salespeople and tailors who would take pains in fitting me or for that matter in selecting the proper colors, patterns and models. Then one day I read your advertisement about fitting stout women. I came in. You fitted me so well that everyone claimed I must be dieting. My husband said I looked as though I'd lost 25 pounds."

"Yes, we make something of a specialty of catering to stout women," I replied. "And all my girls have been trained to select colors and patterns which will suggest slenderness. And they know how to pick models which will give a long, supple line to the stout woman's figure. As a result we have many stout patrons. It's a real pleasure to show them how we can improve their figures through the gent art of camouflage."
