SNODDLES

MONSTER ARENA FOR BIG FIGHT WAS BUILT BY JAMES McLAUGHLIN

Toledo, O., June 28.—Thrusting its raw, yellow skeleton skyward, the huge bowl-shaped arena, costing $150,000 and originally planned to seat 50,000 persons, is rapidly nearing completion for the heavyweight championship contest between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey here July 4.

AMUSEMENTS

MAJESTIC High Class Vaudeville—Arthur Whitehead, monologist; Jones and Greenlee in a bright song and patter skit; Arthur Edwards and Comedian presenting a sketch entitled "Neglect"; two other standard Keith acts.

COLONIAL THEATER To-day—Last showing of Mabel Normand in her great laugh producer, "When Doctors Disagree," Monday and Tuesday—Charming Wednesday—The Spark Divine, Wednesday and Thursday—Viola Dana in "Some Bride."

VICTORIA THEATER To-day—Last showing of Anita Stewart and Larle Williams in "From Headquarters," Also Tom Mix in "The Sheriff's Blunder," Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—The Harvard Prize Play, "Common Clay" featuring Fannie Ward.

REGENT To-day—Douglas Fairbanks in "The Knickerbocker Buckaroo," Monday and Tuesday—Lila Lee in "Puppy Love," Wednesday—Shirley Mason in "The Rescuing Angel," Thursday—Jess Willard in "Challenge of Chance."

PAXTANG Ask anyone of the hundreds of people who thought of Mabel Normand's latest production, "When Doctors Disagree," which plays for the last time to-day at the Colonial theater. See if they won't tell you it's the funniest thing they have seen in a long time.

It's the story of a demure country girl who has a broad streak of mischief. She gets the fever to have a chew, and a chew she gets. She becomes deathly sick. What follows makes this one of the cleverest pictures ever produced.

Monday and Tuesday, Alice Joyce will be shown in her best production, "The Spark Divine," Wednesday and Thursday, Viola Dana, the girl from gay Paris will be featured in "Some Bride."

The never ending story of a girl who was wronged and wanted to be right is to be shown at Stanley's Victoria theater Monday and Tuesday of next week. This is the Harvard Prize Play "Common Clay," featuring the charming dramatic star, Fannie Ward.

This stage success played one solid year in New York, and five months in Chicago to enormous houses. It also played at the Orpheum theater this city as a legitimate play. But the screen version of this wonderful story is far greater than the stage version ever dared be. That is what we predict all house records will be broken in the three days of next week. The admission prices have not been increased. Ten and twenty cents as usual, plus war tax.

To-day brings to a close the four-day engagement of "The Knickerbocker Buckaroo," at the Regent theater. Douglas Fairbanks does many daring stunts which make you hold your breath. It tells the story of young Teddy Drake, New York clubman, who wears of a life of ease and went westward to help his fellow man. As a matter of fact, he spent his time helping a young and beautiful woman. He was glad to go home finally—but he took the young lady with him.

Monday and Tuesday, Lila Lee will appear in "Puppy Love." We've all heard it, and so we can appreciate the feelings of pretty Lila Lee who has a desperate love affair with a young man of her own age.

To-day will be your last opportunity to see the Great Calvert in his thrilling high wire act at Paxtang Park at Paxtang and no one who has seen Calvert need see the performance. This wonderful sight seeing exhibition, which is undoubtedly one of the best free shows the park management has ever staged, will be performed at 4 and 7.30 p. m. today. While out at Paxtang don't overlook the fact that a first class vaudeville bill headed by Francis Earl and Geo. Mullen in "A Little of This and That," is playing at the park theater. Two performances are given at the park theater at 7.45 and 8.45 p. m. respectively.

Sondana, the Tallest Inhabitant of the Herd

A contest was held among some of the school children in New York City while the great, new Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows were exhibiting at Madison Square Garden this spring to determine the different characteristics of the menagerie animals. The result of the vote was as follows:

Tallest animal—Sondana, the giraffe, eldest of the giraffe family. Homeliest animal—Peter, the rhinoceros. Loneliest animal—Cleopatra, the seven-ton hippopotamus. Noisiest animal—Neptune, chief of the sea-lion colony. Most lovable animal—Alice, vet-eran of the elephants. Most beautiful animal—Caliph, the tiger. Funniest animal—Sailor, the baboon. Cutest animal—Fuzzy-Wuzzy, the youngest of the lion cubs. Meanest animal—Poncho, head of the hyena family. To one familiar with menagerie animals many of the above selections will be understandable. But not all are familiar with the fact that the giraffe is indeed the quietest of all quadrupeds. This is because he lacks vocal cords and so never utters a sound. The wonderful herd of giraffes— numbering eight splendid animals—is the greatest zoological feature in America. The herd is valued at more than $100,000. Six specially constructed "houses" are required to care for this remarkable exhibit. Ten keepers are in charge. The great menagerie numbers more than a thousand remarkable specimens. The circus also carries scores of trained animals which are used in the main-tent program. All will be on hand when the circus exhibits here, Friday, July 4.

THINKS DEMPSEY WILL BE BEATEN IN FIVE ROUNDS

Willard's Sparring Partner Predicts Challenger's Defeat on July 4

By Associated Press. Toledo, June 28.—Victory for Jess Willard with a knockout within five rounds in his heavyweight championship contest with Jack Dempsey here July 4, was the prediction to-day of Walter Monahan, chief sparring partner for the champion.

Monahan based his prediction on his close knowledge of Willard's physical condition, gained through several years of work with him. It was Monahan who conditioned Willard for his match with Jack Johnson at Havana.

Monahan asserted the muscles protecting Willard's stomach are like rods of iron and that Dempsey will be unable to hurt him with stomach punches.

"It is my honest opinion Dempsey will wear himself out with his dashing attack within three rounds," said Monahan. "Then he will be ready for whatever Willard wants to hand him. Dempsey will not be able to avoid Willard's right hand, uppercut and left jab. If Jess connects solidly, a knockout surely will result."

Vaudeville—Two shows every evening. Last time for Calvert. There's a show at the Majestic tonight that is claimed vaudeville devotees will not want to miss. Comedy is the predominant feature of the bill. The Romas Troupe inject some splendid comedy into their act while they are going through a routine of clever gymnastic feats. Jones and Greenlee score a big hit with their snappy dialogue and original comedy songs. Arthur Whitehead is a favorite with vaudeville audiences as popular as ever. Mr. Whitehead has a line of good material which he puts over in a way that keeps the audience in continual laughter. One of the most entertaining sketches of the season is that presented by Arthur Edwards and a competent company entitled "Neglect." The playlet is a mixture of comedy and drama. The story is in a novel way which keeps the audience interested until the finish. Burke and Betty are a young couple, pleasing in appearance, who offer a good song and dance turn.

The bill for the first three days of next week includes Grew and Flates offering their lively hokum comedy sketch entitled "The Master's Voice" and the Four Haley Sisters, a quartet of pretty girls who know how to sing; June and Betty Melva, xylophonists; Emily Darrell, dainty comedienne, and the Busch Brothers, trampoline artists.

The All-Star Week program at Stanley's Victoria theater ends to-day. This is the last day of the showing of Anita Stewart and Earle Williams in their great co-starring vehicle "From Headquarters." Coupled with this super-attraction Tom Mix is being shown in "The Sheriff's Blunder."

Will Distribute Land Among Mexican People

Mexico City, June 28.—The government is preparing to distribute among the people approximately 500,000 hectares (of two and one-half acres) of land valued at $2,000,000 to obtain entrance to the land in order to obtain entrance to the concessions given to a comparatively few individuals by several governments previous to the Carranza regime. All these concessions have been cancelled by the present government. The persons to whom the land will be given must agree to cultivate the property. A commission of federal engineers is visiting several states to recommend methods of development.
