

WILKINS ENDS LIFE DECLARING HIS INNOCENCE

Physician Convicted of Wife Murder a Suicide in Jail

Mineola, N. Y., June 30.—Leaving his innocence and declaring his belief that he had not received a fair trial, Dr. Walter Keene Wilkins, who was convicted Friday of the murder of his wife, Julia Wilkins, committed suicide by hanging in the Nassau county jail last night.

The aged physician was still alive when he was cut down by attendants, and physicians worked over him for a half-hour before the death he had sought came to him. Dr. Wilkins' neck was broken.

The doctor had spent the entire afternoon writing his letter of self-vindication and two other letters giving directions for the disposal of his body and the care of several pets

"IT HAS PROVEN A REAL BODY BUILDER" HE TELLS

"It has been proven to me that this new medicine, Natonex, has the real body building powers. I will be glad to tell anybody what it has done for me," declared Charles McCoy, car repairer at the Pennsylvania shops, and who lives in Enola, Pa.

"I suffered from stomach trouble and constipation and in the last few months it got so bad that I could hardly keep at work," Mr. McCoy explained. "I was so constipated and my system so clogged up with poisonous waste that my food would not digest. After eating I would suffer from terrible pains in my side. I always felt weak and run down and some mornings I could hardly get up courage to go to work."

"When I read of Natonex and saw how people were endorsing it I thought it must be just the medicine I was looking for, so I had my wife get a box for me. I have taken two boxes and I am now on my third and Natonex has built me to which he was greatly attached. "Rather than be driven across the State of New York by Carmen Plant (Nassau county detective) and delivered up to Sing Sing prison," he wrote in the first letter, "I prefer to be my own executioner. Besides, I will save Justice Manning from looking into my face when he tells me I have had a fair trial."

"I am absolutely innocent of this crime which the indictment charges me with."

This letter was ten pages long and was addressed to J. P. Healey, of Brooklyn, an acquaintance of Dr. Wilkins. The second letter was addressed to Mrs. Elizabeth Muller, formerly a housekeeper for the Wilkins, who now lives at Monticello, N. Y. Dr. Wilkins requested her to see that his pets were well taken care of. The third letter, addressed to Sheriff Seamen, requested that his body be cremated.

Orderly Who Wrecked Ambulance Disappears

Clarence Himes, orderly at the Harrisburg Hospital, who was operating the ambulance early yesterday morning when it smashed into a pole at Fourth and Market streets, badly wrecking the machine and injuring two occupants, has been missing since the accident, hospital attaches reported today. Himes returned the ambulance to the hospital, and disappeared shortly thereafter.

When a call came early yesterday morning and Walter Bax, regular driver, was not located immediately, Himes, an orderly, is said to have informed the telephone operator that he could operate the ambulance and started off with it. To-day it is said that he has had very little experience operating any machine and does not have a driver's license.

In turning the corner at the high rate of speed, unusual even with the regular driver, the ambulance struck the light pole and was so badly damaged that an entire new body will be necessary to put it in usable condition. Himes and the patient being brought to the hospital, John Daniels, 1203 Monroe street, who had been reported dying, escaped without injury. Howard Jones, another orderly, and James Davis, 1240 North Cameron street, were severely cut about the arms and face by flying glass.

MOTOR TO BERKSHIRES

Mrs. William A. Hiestler, Miss Mary Klester, and Miss Matilda Hiestler, have returned to their home, 1100 N. Front street, after an automobile trip to Narragansett Pier and Newport, returning through the Berkshires and down the Jersey coast. They made brief stops at Lenox and New York City.

Many Detours Ready For State Motorists

In announcing a list of detours now existing on State Highway routes in Pennsylvania, because of the enormous amount of construction now under way, the State Highway Department to-day made a suggestion which it believes will relieve the congestion of traffic on the Lincoln Highway between Philadelphia and Trenton, N. J. Travel on the Lincoln Highway this year is greater than ever before and it is particularly heavy east of Philadelphia.

Among the detours now existing in Pennsylvania are the following: William Penn highway, construction on Route No. 1, the William Penn Highway, between Dauphin and Trenton, N. J. Travel on the Lincoln Highway this year is greater than ever before and it is particularly heavy east of Philadelphia.

From Elmira to Gettysburg, (through Harrisburg, Sunbury and Williamsport). Detours will be found at Conowington, Tiooga county; east of Williamsport; south of Milton; south of Harrisburg; south of Gettysburg.

River Dotted With Small Pleasure Craft

The churches were not as largely attended yesterday as they usually are. The day was an ideal one to spend in the open and many who are accustomed to be in their places in the sanctuary, took advantage of the fine weather and spent the hours in the country. There was a delightful breeze going nearly all day. Automobiles by the hundreds could be seen along the River Drive, Paxtang and Reservoir Parks were filled, as well as the parks along the River Front. Then, too, hundreds of people went out of the city either by rail or trolley. It was the last Sunday prior to the beginning of the church vacation period. Scores of people went to beautiful Wildwood, where they spent the day under the trees. Many of them took lunches and did not return to their homes until cooler weather and darkness drove them away.

The river was dotted with canoes and craft of all descriptions, hundreds of those who are devoted to this pastime spending much of the day on the water. Capitol Park, too, was filled with men, women and children, there being scarcely an unoccupied bench during the hours of light. They shared their luncheon with the squirrels and pigeons. The quite little ones romped on the grass, the watchmen relaxing their vigilance and forgetting for the time being the rules of the State.

RABBI AND SMALL BOY DROWN WHEN CANOE CAPSIZES

Second Youngster Escapes Death by Struggling to Grass Patch

RABBI ABRAMSON

Rabbi Cantor Morris Abramson, 23, 113 Cumberland street, and William Boyer, 11, of Lebanon, were drowned yesterday afternoon when the canoe in which they were riding plunged over the dam at the southern end of the city and capsized.

Charles Rife, 8-year-old son of Mrs. David K. Young, 213 Barbara street, also was in the canoe when it went over the dam, but he struggled to a small grass patch and was rescued by John Keiser, 111 Hanna street. Keiser was an eye witness.

The body of the Boyer boy was recovered about 7:30 o'clock last evening, and about half an hour later the body of Rabbi Abramson was found. Rife was taken to his home in an ambulance. He had gone under twice while trying to get to the grass patch and had swallowed much water. His condition was said to be serious, but it is believed he will recover.

Rabbi Abramson has been in charge temporarily of the Chislik Emuna synagogue. He had been in the city three years. His parents, residing in New York, were notified of the accident and his father, Rabbi S. Abramson, and a sister arrived here this morning. Funeral services were held at the body taken to New York for further services and burial.

Hartley C. Wolle Dies After Airplane Falls

Friends of Dr. F. Fred Wolle and his sister, Mrs. H. C. Jenkins, of this city, will regret to learn the death of their brother Hartley C. Wolle, last week after injuries received in an airplane accident at Detroit, Mich. When about 100 feet above the machine crashed to earth and it is thought someone had tampered with it. Mr. Wolle had three ribs broken, leg hurt, chin cut and internal hemorrhages. He was taken to a Detroit hospital, where he regained consciousness and lived for five days.

Mr. Wolle was connected with the Bethlehem Steel Company for 19 years and General Superintendent of the Cambria Iron and Steel Company at Johnstown, for 12 years.

Besides his widow, Mr. Wolle leaves three sons, Captain Francis Wolle, still in France; private Richard H. Wolle, with the American Army of Occupation and Philip Wolle, of Princess Anne. Two brothers, Robert H. and Dr. J. Fred Wolle, of Bethlehem and three sisters, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. Charles Doolittle. Funeral services were held in Bethlehem.

MRS. ISABEL WHITE

Mrs. Isabel White, age 71 years, died Saturday night at her home, 40 North Tenth street. Four sons survive. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and will be in charge of the Rev. W. H. Worral of the Christian and Missionary Alliance. Burial will be made in East Harrisburg Cemetery.

Details Drawn Up of Appropriation Bills

Sproul who is expected here within a few days. The statement will show the figures approved for each subject last session.

Edward Kahler Charged With Girl's Abduction

Edward Kahler, Christian street, is being held by Harrisburg police as the man who lured Marguerite Bartolet away on Thursday night and abandoned her in Reservoir Park. The man had been pointed out by the girl as he passed her father's store and police authorities were notified. The description of the man who lured away the Bartolet girl and Kahler tally somewhat except that Kahler is not wearing a beard.
