

SELLER OF DRUGS NOT ARRESTED, COURT IS TOLD

Judge Kunkel Censures Police For Failing to Bring in Alleged Peddler

Before sentencing Ollie Carter, colored, pleading guilty to the unlawful possession of drugs, President Judge George Kunkel told him that the penalty for the offense was a fine of not more than $2,000 and not more than five years' imprisonment.

Carter was arrested by Detective Shuler and when searched at police headquarters two capsules containing narcotics were found on him. Carter admitted he had just bought them for his own use, paying $1 each for them.

When asked by Judge Kunkel from whom he purchased the drug, Carter replied that a colored man named "Brookley" had sold them to him. Then Judge Kunkel asked Detective Shuler why that man had not been arrested. Shuler replied that an hour after Carter had been searched he brought "Brookley" to police headquarters and had him searched but found nothing.

"Why didn't you arrest him anyhow? Here you have a man who told you he bought the drug from that fellow, and he says there was a woman present at the time whom you could have used as a witness," Judge Kunkel remarked.

"I couldn't do that," Shuler answered. "My superior officers give me orders and when they tell me I bring information. This evidence was given at headquarters." Carter when further questioned by the court and Assistant District Attorney Robert T. Fox, said he also purchased drugs from William Bradshaw, now under bail in Federal court in connection with recent drug raids.

Judge Kunkel sentenced Carter to pay a $5 fine, costs and serve eight months in the county jail.

George Foster, Clerk, pleading guilty to the larceny of brass from a Pennsylvania railroad car in the yards near Maclay street, and to assaulting an officer who approached him while he was throwing the scrap from the car, was given a sentence of four months in the jail case and two months more in the assault prosecution. Clerk, in 1906 and 1907, had been in juvenile court, and in 1912 was sentenced to three months in jail, all the cases being charges of petty larceny.

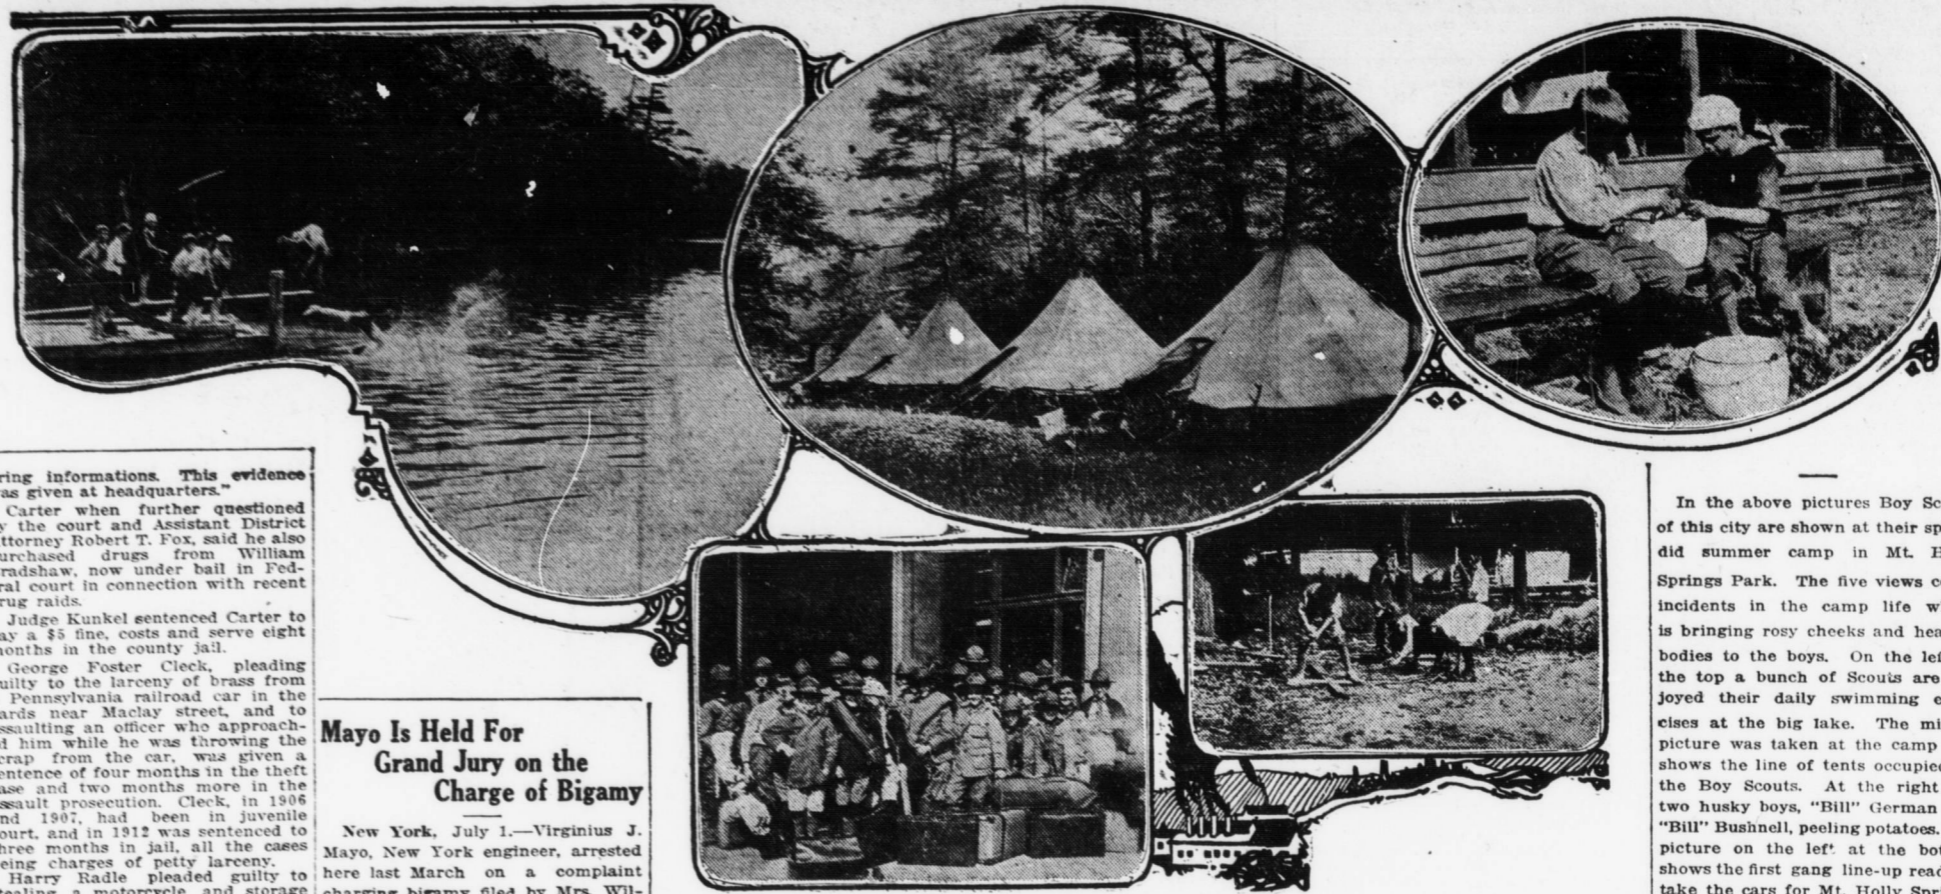

Harry Radle pleaded guilty to stealing a motorcycle and storage batteries from another one. The case was held over pending a further investigation. Radle is only 16 years old.

Frances Jones, charged with the larceny of two dresses, was given a jail sentence of two months. Roy McDowell, held for nonsupport, was ordered to pay his wife $5 a week. Charles Marshall, on parole in a larceny case, was brought before the court on an attachment as he was not present when suspended sentence cases were called June 29. He told the court he "forgot all about it," and was warned by Judge Kunkel that if he did not appear in September on the day fixed he would be given a jail sentence.

"Either you remember to come here or you go to jail," the court warned him as he was renewing his bail.

Army of Fishermen Out For Bass Today; Opening of Season

A familiar sight early to-day was the bass fisher, amateur and professional, with great quota of old-timers, all of whom took advantage of the opening of the season which was formerly set for June 15. Among the early starters were Preston Low, John G. Shupp, John Wagner and Squire Frank Shupp. There was some apprehension that the heavy rains may have made poor water conditions, but the weather was ideal for hooking the great game fish of this neighborhood.

Cumberland and Dauphin county streams were the scene of much activity and trolley cars and motors sped the Izak Waitons to familiar spots where the bass has long been known to thrive. The law ordains that small or large mouth bass must not be less than nine inches long; while black bass, white bass, rock bass, crappie, strawberry and calico bass must not be less than six inches long. Muscalonge, not under twenty-four inches long and yellow perch, not under six inches long, may also be taken. The season also opens to-day on wall-eyed pike, commonly known as Susquehanna salmon and pickerel.

This Is Better Than Laxatives

One NR Tablet Each Night For a Week Will Correct Your Constipation and Make Constant Dosing Unnecessary. Try It.

Poor digestion and assimilation mean a poorly nourished body and low vitality. Poor elimination means clogged bowels, fermentation, putrefaction and the formation of poisonous gases which are absorbed by the blood and carried through the body. The result is weakness, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, inactive liver, bilious attacks, loss of energy, nervousness, poor appetite, impoverished blood, sallow complexion, pimples, skin disease, and often times serious illness.

Ordinary laxatives, purges and cathartics—salts, oils, calomel, and the like—may relieve for a few hours, but real, lasting benefits can only come through use of medicine that tones up and strengthens the digestive as well as the eliminative organs.

Get a box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one tablet each night for a week. Relief will follow the very first dose, but a few days will elapse before you feel and realize the fullest benefit. When you get straightened out and feel just right again you need not take medicine every day—an occasional NR Tablet will then keep your system in good condition and you will always feel your best. Remember, keeping well is easier and cheaper than getting well.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) are sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.
