VANDALS WRECK TWO BUNGALOWS

Destroy Contents of Summer Homes and Damage Machinery of Automobile

Dover, Pa., July 3. — Two bungalows in Dover township, owned by Jacob and Abram Hershey, were entered some time Tuesday night and, although it is not known whether anything was stolen, the intruders virtually destroyed the entire contents of the interior of both summer homes, an ax found in one of the homes playing a prominent part in the vandalism. Every piece of turniture in both places was demolished. This included bads, mirrors, chairs, tables, dressers and other articles. But a few of 100 dishes were unbroken.

The wreckers later attempted to steal an automobile belonging to Allen Sunday, which had been stored in a shed at the rear of the bungalows. Unable to remove the machine from the building, the vandals

Option Taken by Committee With End of Liquor Selling on Plot of Ground For $85,000 Building

Mechanicsburg, Pa., July 3.—That Mechanicsburg will soon have a new enterprise located in the borough is very probable and matter will be consummated this evening at a meeting of a committee. If successful, it will mean the establishment of a branch of the J. H. & C. K. Eagle, Inc., silk mill here, and will be the Throwing Mill.

The local committee has secured an option on the Hays' plot, located on the corner of North York and Green streets, where the first building will be erected at a cost approximately of $85,000. It is for this building that the committee expects to secure the needed funds.

There are only the preliminary plans, and the services of one hundred persons will be required when the plant is in operation in the first building. The mill will be brought to this place and Austin, from Shamokin, where dismantling and shipment of the machinery has begun.

ZION CHURCH FREE OF DEBT

Hummelstown Lutheran Congregation Will Burn Mortgage on Its Property

that is Iound among Litheran churches.

The members of the church council are: Trustees, E. Z. Etter, C. H. Miller, A. H. Hummel; elders, Joseph Burkholder, S. B. Zerfoss, H. M. Wolf, J. B. Nye; deacons, Robert T. Fox, J. K. Louck, Charles J. Wolfe, O. F. Deimler, E. E. Bolton, Adam G. Shope.

The pastor, the Rev. Herbert S. Garnes, will preach his fifth anniversary sermon at the morning service. Under the efficient leadership of the pastors of Zion, the congregation has been developed until it now occupies one of the foremost places among the churches of the East Pennsylvania Synod. Hummelstown, Pa., July 3.-On Sunday morning, July 6, at 10.30 o'clock, the members of Zion Lutheran Church, of Hummelstown, will burn their church mortgage. In Rev. Dr. D. Burt Smith, extensive church properties. The auditorium of the brownstone church was enlarged and beautified by the Lutheran appointments; the old historic limestone church was renovated and made an up-to-date parish house; the church parsonage was remodeled and a sexton's home purchased, entailing an expenditure of approximately $22,000.

Of this amount about half was paid on or shortly after the day of rededication, leaving a mortgage of $12,000, which was covered by pledges. A few months later the Rev. Dr. Smith was called to St. Paul's Lutheran Church, at Easton, and was succeeded by the Rev. Herbert S. Garnes, who is at present the pastor. The larger part of the mortgage has been paid during his pastorate.

Moderate Prices

Every year we receive hundreds of letters from enthusiastic Ruber-oid users. These letters come to us from all over the world; from at home and abroad, from the Arctic and the Tropics; telling us of the magnificent service that Ru-ber-oid roofs are giving under the most exacting conditions.

is particularly adaptable to the roofs of manufacturing plants. Its rugged lasting qualities under all weather conditions have been tested by more than a quarter century of service. Under the severest tests a Ru-beroid roof has for years stood an inside temperature variation of more than 200 degrees fahrenheit and an outside temperature variation of more than 70 degrees without being in any way affected.

Ru-ber-oid is fire-resisting, is unaffected by smoke or acid fumes, and is as nearly wear-proof as a quarter century of experience in the manufacture of roofing can make it. It costs more than any other ready roofing — but Ru-ber-oid service makes it worth more."
