THROUGHS VIEW VICTORY PARADE

Boy Scouts Draw German Machine Gun Captured in France

The Victory parade yesterday morning was voted a success by thousands of people lined along the route.

In addition to numbers of World War veterans marching with fire companies of which they were members more than a hundred veterans marched in solid formation.

Display Hun Machine Gun One of the features was the German machine gun mounted on the new, part and drive of boys of the newly organized troop of scouts of Trinity Episcopal Church.

The national flag decorated with the colors, and bore a sign stating the names of the Machine Gun Company members of the 112th Infantry, sergeant George S. Faulstich, captain of Trinity Troop, captured the gun with its crew.

Four troops of Boy Scouts were in line of march under the leadership of Sgt. Fairall and Scout Company of Sgt. Fairall and Scout Company of Sgt. Fairall.

Burlesque Fire Company A number of members of the West Side Fire Company made up a burlesque company which brought forth rounds of applause as they paraded in the line.

G. A. R. in Machines The members of the local post G. A. R. were in the parade in automobiles. They were given the place of honor in the line.

All of the local fire companies were in line as was also their apparatus.

Croatians and Slovaks Object Among the paraders was supposed to be a division composed of Serbs, Croats and Slovaks.

The banner remained and they left. The sympathy of the general public was with them, and but little applause was given.

The following statement: "The Croats and Slovenians are eager to show their appreciation in every possible way for the fact that America is their liberator, and they will parade only as a loyal American citizen."

Exercises Eliminated Because of the intense heat exercises planned for the lawn immediately after the parade were eliminated.

Two Fires Last Night Caused by Fireworks The local fire companies were called out three times last night.

The first alarm was sounded about 11 o'clock last evening. The roof of a house on the Third street had been set on fire by fireworks.

About 4 o'clock this morning an alarm was sounded from South Harrisburg street.

The fire was found abeam. The fire was put under control by firemen living in the vicinity before the City Fire Company arrived on the scene.

PIG IRON OUTPUT SHOWS INCREASE

Means a Turn in Steel Industry, Declares the Iron Age

New York, July 5.—June pig iron output shows definitely the turn in the industry, according to the Iron Age.

The gain in output last month was 71,700 tons a day for 200 furnaces, as compared with 68,600 tons a day for 195 furnaces on June 1.

The gain in output last month was the first check to a steady decline in the daily average from the high point reached in September, 1918, at 113,942 tons.

Pittsburgh producers estimate that new orders sent to the mills for rolling in June and July specifications against contracts were 50 per cent heavier than in May, while in wire and tubular products they were nearly double.

A shortage of labor is looming up as more than a possibility in the Central West, some producers there questioning whether blast furnaces and steel works forces will be adequate for the scale of operations they consider likely in the fall months.

Many more workers are planning to return to Europe and at some blast furnaces a scarcity of common labor is noticed already.

The demand for oil line pipe is particularly good. The Texas Company has been a free buyer and drilling plans of other companies look a year ahead.

The Sinclair project to parallel the present oil line from Oklahoma to Texas would mean 150 miles of 8-in. and over 300 miles of 6-in. pipe.

One pipe mill sold up for three months had to refuse a 25,000-ton order.

June was the best month in the sheet trade since October. Two mills that have led in cutting prices now have a backlog of orders and something like an oldtime pressure for deliveries is coming from the automobile industry.

BOMBS ABSENT DESPITE THREAT MADE BY REDS

Widespread Publicity Is Believed to Be Responsible For Quietness

New York, July 5.—New York sweltered through the hottest Fourth of July in its history without a sign of the anarchist bomb plot which had been heralded and against which elaborate preparations had been made by Federal agents, police and State guardsmen.

The widespread publicity that attended the city's plans to guard against further bomb outrages was believed to have been largely responsible for the quietness of the day which radical quarters had hinted would be given a "red" tinge.

A sudden burst of "Fourth" patriotism on the part of the owner of a building in which the I. W. W. have maintained headquarters here resulted in the ousting of the organization without notice.

ELKS QUIETLY DID BIT IN WAR

Without Publicity and Without Asking Anybody For a Penny

Atlantic City, July 5.—The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will hold its annual convention at the Hotel Traymore during the week of July 7—a victory and peace convention. While the Elks did their bit in the war, both at home and abroad, they kept out of the light of publicity and asked no one for a penny.

When America entered the war the Elks didn't wait to be asked to help; they presented themselves in any and all capacities in which they could help. They gave up their clubhouses for the needs of the Government. They helped to sell Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps, helped the Red Cross and the Salvation Army, started the first relief committee, built the first reconstruction hospital before any of our boys had been wounded, and 50,000 Elks shouldered rifles and marched to the war, many of them never to return.

RETURN OF PEACE CELEBRATED AT NATION'S CAPITAL

Display of Pageantry and Parade Are Big Features of Day

Washington, July 5.—Return of world peace was the dominating spirit of Washington's celebration of Independence Day. Pageantry in which the calls of industry and other civilian occupations to returning soldiers and sailors were displayed, and a parade in which all of the nations arrayed against Germany and Austria were represented were the features of the observance.

Seven pageants given on the lawns of public buildings, were merged into a great pageant entitled the "Offering of Peace" which showed the people of the world having passed through the horrors of war, returning with courage and anticipation to the pursuits of peace.

Embassies and legations of all the Allied and associated governments had floats in the parade which moved down Pennsylvania avenue from the White House to the capitol. Fireworks on the Washington monument grounds closed the day's celebration which was held under the auspices of the War Camp Community Service.
