POPULAR SINGER TELLS BETROTHAL

Miss Mary Bell Corbett Will Marry Erhardt E. Rider, of Central Valley, N. Y.

MISS MARY BELL CORBETT

"One of the prettiest of summer luncheons was given to-day by Miss Mary Bell Corbett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bell Corbett, at her home in the Locust apartments, North Third street, with appointments of pink and white and sweet-peas prevailing in the flowers. The favors were pink bonbon boxes of nuts.

Rutherford catered, and with the salad course came wafers tied together with pink ribbons. Between them were little hearts bearing the names of Miss Corbett and her fiancé, Erhardt E. Rider, of Central Valley, N. Y. The tidings of the engagement came as a great surprise, and between gales of laughter good wishes were showered on the bride-elect and plans made for pre-nuptial events for her.

Miss Corbett is widely known as a singer and member of the Wednesday Club. She is soprano soloist and director of the First Presbyterian Church choir of Steelton. She was first a pupil of Esther Kendig and later of Mrs. Phillips-Jenkins, of Philadelphia. She is a member of the Philadelphia Operatic Society and has taken leading parts in recitals and operettas in the Quaker City as well as in town.

Mr. Rider who comes of a musical family, was a member of the Six Hundred and Tenth Aero Squadron, in Middletown, and is now located as manager of the Francis Supply Co., at Punksutawney. No date has been set for the wedding.

Among the Guests In the party to-day were: Miss Clara Dempster, Norwood, Pa.; Miss Anna Beidler, Abington, Pa.; Mrs. W. W. Stainton, Chester, Pa.; Miss Margaret Vance, Miss Katharine Bierbower, Miss Margaret Bierbower, Miss Gertrude Wanbaugh, Miss Elita Myers, Miss Ann Baker, Miss Anna Hill, of Milton; Jack Wingert, Kenneth R.
