John E. Phillips Commits Suicide at Waynesoro

Waynesboro, Pa., July 8.-In a fit of melancholia and brooding lips, aged 65, of Waynesboro, committed suicide by hanging himself early yesterday morning at his home Cleveland avenue. His lifeless body was discovered in the cellar a few minutes before 7 o'clock Monday morning by his grandson, Earl

Mr. Phillips used a piece of new sashcord for his act of self-destruction. This he fastened to a beam in the cellar. The ceiling being too low to allow the body to swing, the man simply kneeled on the ground and strangled himself to death, the body being in that position when found

Carlisle Experiences Ice Famine For Several Days

Carlisle, Pa., July 8.-In the midst of the hottest weather of the year, Carlisle is experiencing an ice famine, which seems to be the first of others which may occur. Failure of the United Ice & Coal Company to receive supplies left certain sections of the town without ice all tions of the town without ice all day Saturday and also Sunday. Some relief was given by deliver-ies from the new Cunningham plant at Mount Holly Springs and from other supplies which came in from big users. However, many homes did not get ice yesterday, either. The local company states that the trouble is due to the fact that the natural ice crop was practically negligible last winter and the fact that supplies of artificial ice are supplies of artificial ice are

DECISION RESERVED Judge S. J. M. McCarrell reserved decision late yesterday afternoon af-ter hearing all the evidence in the habeas corpus action brought by Jacob R. Eichinger, New Cumber-land, to secure the custody of his twin 5-year-old grandchildren now in the Sylvan Heights Orphanage. The mother, Mrs. Helen G. Eiching-er, who was deserted by her hus-band, it is alleged, pleaded to the court that a mother who has worked to support her children and is still doing so should have the right to place them where she believed they would have the best care. She said that at the orphanage she can see them at anytime, but if they were sent to the Eichinger home she did not believe she would receive a warm reception if she went there to see the little girls. The Eichingers on the witness stand said that she could come to their home in New Cumber-land to see the children whenever she wanted to do so. old and was a member of Trinity Lutheran Church. Surviving are two sisters, Miss Jennie Major and two sisters, Miss Jennie Major and Miss Gertrude Major, at home, and one brother, Elmer Major, of Me-chanicsburg.
