Who Painted Signs on Lincoln Highway Red, White and Blue?

The most serious question before the public now is: "Who painted the red, white and blue signs on the Lincoln Highway between Easton and Pittsburgh? Mr. Jennings, of Harrisburg and the Lincoln Highway staff, is deeply perplexed as to the origin of the mysterious signs. He has stated that every effort is being made to unravel the knotty problem, but up to the moment of rushing into print, no acceptable solution had been offered.

There was never at any time question of marriage between us. Conditions arose which I did not care to dispute which resulted in my doing everything in my power to make amends to her and her heirs. Whatever I did in that direction was of my own accord and no one else had anything whatever to do with it. Since that time the people of my home city are the best judges of what my life has been. I never have shirked any responsibility that has come to me and I never shall."

Wheat Yield Normal in County, Is Forecast

It is somewhat early to make prediction as to the yield of wheat in the county, Farm Agent H. G. Niesley said to-day. Threshing reports from the several sections of the county must be received, before an intelligent estimate of the yield can be made, he says. He is of the opinion that the acreage yield will be normal if not above normal even though the wheat heads and the kernels themselves are small in many districts.

By Associated Press. London, July 8.—A national tribute of honor was paid to-day to the memory of Captain Charles Fryatt, executed by the Germans in 1916 for attempting to ram a U-boat, by a national memorial service at St. Paul's Cathedral. After lying in state at the Dover station over night, the body arrived at Charing Cross station at 11 o'clock and was placed on a gun carriage drawn by blue jackets. A cortege was formed, headed by relatives and including representatives of the admiralty, war office, other government department and sea farers organization.

Headed by a naval escort and a band, the procession passed slowly through the crowded streets to the cathedral. Only the steady tramp of feet and the solemn strains of funeral music broke the silence as the cortege passed.

At the cathedral the ceremonies were generally a repetition of those in memory of Miss Edith Cavell. The procession then was reformed and marched to the Liverpool street station, where the casket was placed on a train and sent to Dover Court, the home of Captain Fryatt. All flags floating over the public buildings of London in honor of the signing of the treaty of peace were half masted during the ceremonies.

TO GIVE SWIM FOR CITY GIRLS

War Camp Community Service Plans Stunt For Saturday

The next stunt which the War Camp Community Service is going to put over is the swim for the girls and women of Harrisburg, which will take place Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, under the direction of Miss Mary Black, the city swimming instructor.

Cards are being sent out now to everybody who might be interested with the request that they fill out the space for their name, address, occupation, where employed, nationality, church, and society. When all these cards have been returned, and by the way they are coming in now there would seem to be much enthusiasm in the plans, a division will be made to better carry on the work of the service.

Posters also are being printed telling all about the swim and urging everybody to come whether they can swim or not. The party is entirely free for all and the director of the Community Service, Mr. Garvin, is looking for a big crowd on Saturday.

This Actually Removes Superfluous Hair Roots (Entirely New and Instantaneous Method)

By the introduction in this country of what is known as the "phelaetine process," any woman can now rid herself completely of annoying superfluous hair or fuzz. The process is entirely new, different from others, and far better—because it actually removes the roots, as well as the surface hair! It is instantaneous, perfectly harmless, odorless and non-irritating.

Just get a stick of phelaetine from your druggist and follow the simple directions—and see the hair roots come out, with your own eyes! No depilatory or electrical treatment can produce this result. The skin is left soft, smooth and hairless as a child's. Phelaetine can be used with absolute safety—one could even eat it with impunity.
