

LIMIT TAKEN OFF STATES TROUT

Twenty-five a Day Now Limit—Important Bills Approved by Governor

The general amendment to the fish code passed in the closing days of the Legislature has been approved by Governor Sproul and takes the size limit off brook and brown trout and limits the bag to twenty-five in one day. The size limit and season are taken off yellow perch and they may be taken by devices prescribed by the code.

Provision is also made for issuance of special permits by the commissioner of fisheries for devices other than seines for catching of food fish for certain periods. These special permits will be provided for by the Department of Fisheries as soon as possible.

The bill also provides for the use of fines for violation of fish laws by the Department which has authority to make requisition for money as it accumulates in the treasury.

The Governor also signed the non-resident hunters' license bill. It provides a fee of $5 for such licenses.

The bill forbidding children between eight and fourteen years of age unaccompanied by parents or other responsible adult persons from attending moving picture shows without permits during the term of compulsory school attendance has also been approved by the Governor.

Violation is punished by fine of from $10 to $25. The act especially forbids persons in charge of such places from admitting children within the area at the times designated, without permits which are provided for.

The Senate bill restricting the use of tractors with cleats upon any road improved according to State standards, one of the most hotly contested bills in the Legislature was announced as approved by the Governor.

The highway commissioner may forbid operation of a tractor which is doing "unusual damage" to roads and make such regulations as are needed to prevent such damage, as well as to regulate use of caterpillar tractors. The act is to be effective January 1 and fines for violation of regulations ranging from $25 to $100 are provided.

The bill creating a new division of township highways in the State Highway department with broader powers than the former division was also approved together with the bill authorizing county commissioners to repair and maintain abandoned or condemned turnpikes.

Another bill approved provides for instruction in citizenship and principles of government to foreign born residents not required to attend school by persons so designated by the courts upon petition of county superintendents. Authority is also given to appoint interpreters. The cost is to be borne by the county.

Bills were approved allowing self insurers in workmen's compensation liability to insure for amounts in companies beyond the amount they insure themselves, and providing for certification of damage suits to the Compensation board when discovered that suit has been brought wrongfully.

Other bills approved were providing for recovery of municipal claims by assumption against owners of benefitted property.

Authorizing commissioner of fisheries to sell fish hatchery at Cornneut Lake.

Authorizing cities to use abutting property in construction of embankments, fills, etc., and for ascertainment of damages.

Establishing March 1 to November 15 as the closed season for the skunk or muskrat, which have not been protected heretofore; forbidding use of chemicals or smoke or dogs in hunting them and allowing owners of lands to take or kill them at any time.

Providing for appointment by the Governor of nine trustees for the Western Pennsylvania State Hospital at Blairsville to complete the institution and enjoy all powers of the building commission.
