Governor Vetoes a Bill Which Would Have Enlarged Eminent Domain Privileges

Governor Sproul has announced his veto of the proposed amendment of the street railway act of 1901, which he holds left out the provision against transportation lines going through graveyards. The Governor says: "It has been the wise public policy of this State to provide that burying grounds and places of worship shall not be subjects of eminent domain proceedings and I think this policy should be continued. The resting places of the dead and the worshipping places of the living should be free from invasion by private corporations." The Governor also says that the printing of the bill is so bad that one section is unintelligible.

The Governor vetoed as "too broad in scope" the bill regulating erection of buildings along streets which are boundary lines and an amendment to the act of 1890 which would affect a right of way through unimproved woodlands because he finds it drawn for a particular case and is revolutionary in that the owner must sustain burden of proof.

Other bills vetoed were: Authorizing Roy Frush, of Milton, and Edward W. Fenstermacher, of Butler township, Luzerne county, to sue the State, because unconstitutional. Permitting District of Columbia companies and elevator companies to hold real estate, because previously approved act covers the cases. Fixing per diem salaries of court officers in counties having under 75,000 population because the body of the bill refers to those of less than 90,000. Establishing working days for employes of prisons, etc., on the ground that in some institutions the work is very light and that the matter of hours "can safely be left to the good judgment and just instinct of those in charge of the institutions."

Crops Favorable in Western Country

Toronto, Ont.—Generally favorable conditions over territories served by Canadian National Railways between Port Arthur and the Rockies, with the exception of the Prairie district, summarizes a detailed crop report received this morning at the head office of the company here covering the week ending June 14th.

Conditions in the western district which includes territories served by Canadian National lines in Alberta and in western Saskatchewan, appear to be generally satisfactory to the grain growers.

The areas served by lines in the prairie district have been favored by rains of fairly wide extent since last report and where these have occurred, there is decidedly optimistic tone to crop statements. Apparently however, rain is needed in quite a few sections in the prairie district, and the promise is held to be that when the rain does come, satisfactory progress will continue.

The sections served by lines in the central district, including Manitoba and western Ontario areas, like the western district, is generally satisfactory, and there is excellent promise of a splendid yield.

Pearls Now London's Best Evening Jewels

Chicago—Pearls are the most conspicuous evening jewel worn in London at present, according to a fashion authority just back from abroad. Strings of pearls are worn with all costumes from the semi-dress gowns for the play to the more elaborate creations for diplomatic and social functions. Some enormous pearls are mounted in necklaces of medium length with a sautoir finish while smaller pearls are strung in long ropes wound twice around the neck and then fall almost to the knees. Fine diamond-mounted platinum pendants as used with some of these but most of the neck-chains merely fall in a graceful loop.

TYPEWRITER FOR JAPANESE

To memorize 3000 characters on a typewriter before being able to qualify as a proficient stenographer is the task that faces the Japanese girl, according to recent reports from a prominent importing firm that uses one of the new machines. The invention is that of a Japanese engineer who studied for several years in American universities. The type slugs rest in a gridlike frame over which the printing handle and the type-selecting and grip bar move freely in every direction. The type grip is brought to rest over the character desired, then the printing handle is pressed, which causes the movable arm to raise the type out of the frame into the grip, where it is clutched tightly, passed across the face of a small round inking pad and stamped upon a paper.

The Japanese written language is based upon the ideographs of China, but recently was reduced for commercial purposes to a phonetic alphabet consisting of fifty-two letters. These occupy the center row of the type rack from left to right, but they are flanked by scores of ideographs indispensable to the conveying of good sense.

Commercial schools were established last year in Tokio and other Japanese cities for the purpose of teaching how to operate the typewriter. Women are expected to follow the profession, much the same as in this country.—Detroit News.

LOVE AND COMMON SENSE

"No, Herbert," she said in a low tone, "it is impossible. I fear to trust my future with you."
"And why?"
"I have watched your conduct very closely. It lacks the mark of such devotion as my soul craves."
"Do I not come to see you four nights in the week?"
"Yes, but I have detected a calculating selfishness in your nature which I fear."
"What do you mean?"
"You have never yet failed to leave in time to catch the last bus."
"But that is only common sense."
"I know it is, Herbert, and therefore it is not love."
—Chicago Journal.

RUNS IN THE FAMILY

"Jack Craboin says the most valuable thing he acquired at college was a poker face."
"Umph! I happen to know something about old Mr. Craboin's record at the same institution and it's my opinion that Jack didn't acquire a poker face. He inherited it."
