

PRO AND CON ON PRESIDENT'S SENATE SPEECH

Republicans Criticise It And Democrats Say It Was One of Best

(President's Speech on Page 17) Washington, July 11.—President Wilson's address to the Senate transmitting the peace treaty yesterday was praised by Democratic leaders as one of his best state papers, but Republican senators generally were inclined to criticize it. Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, made no comment and Senator Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania, declined to comment. Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, one of the leading opponents in the Senate of the League of Nations, also declined to comment except to say that President Wilson "completely answered" his own argument that the League of Nations is a league for peace by his statement that it is "formed as an alliance of..."

Takes Up Plan to Improve the Cotton Growing in India

London, July 11.—A committee appointed by the government of India to consider how to improve and increase the cotton cultivation of that country, has made its report recommending the appointment of a permanent Central Cotton committee in Bombay, to put into effect a cotton policy of improvement. The survey of American production and increasing consumption, and of the world shortage of cotton makes it desirable, according to the committee, that the Lancashire cotton industry should cease to be so dependent upon the American supply.

PETAINE HONORS HERO WHO LOST LEG TAKING "SMOKES" TO BOYS IN THE FRONT LINES

New York, July 11.—A year ago this time, it was; and midsummer moon flooded the muddy fields of France in brilliant light. Up in the front line in the Fond du Lac woods near Pont a Mousson, the Boche "Minnies" were ripping big holes in the Eighty-second Division positions, and the Three Hundred and Twenty-fifth Regiment was cut off from supplies. In the clear moonlight it was suicide to rush supplies to the upper trenches, and none tried it. Then to the amazement of the Americans, a "Casey," a tremendous big fellow he was, climbed over the parapet, and dragging a huge burlap bag after him, crawled through the grime to bring his boys smokes, chocolate and doughnuts. Within a few yards, the communication trench, the exploding shells closed nearer and nearer to the big fellow, and then he lay flat and still in the shadow of a shellhole. A terrific explosion, the Boche had found the range and they picked up "Casey," his leg blown to bits, but smiling: "I got a few smokes for you kids." That was the way it happened, and yesterday Joseph Patrick Crowe, the fearless man, received word in his home in Binghamton, N. Y., that General Petaine, commander of the French armies, had awarded him the Croix de Guerre with a gold star. The citation was issued May 2, and he was then praised for his bravery on the Arzone when he was wounded again. Shortly after the United States went into the war, "Joe" Crowe tried to enlist in the Army, but was too old. As a "Casey" under his Major Castle, of the Eighty-second Division, says, Crowe was "man clear through."

ITALIAN WRITER FORECASTS GREAT AMERICAN OPERA

Pietro Mascagni Expects It Shall Crystallize Musical Attainments

Rome, July 11.—Pietro Mascagni, composer, expects a great American opera to be produced by an American composer, with an American theme which shall crystallize America's musical attainments. This work, he said, was shaping itself in the efforts America was now making in her music halls and conservatories. "I am looking forward with some amount of anxiety to the production of a great musical work in America in the near future," said Signor Mascagni. "There will certainly be produced soon a great American musical composition. I believe it will reflect the life of America. I feel that it will be built up out of the music of America in all her social, economic and artistic life and will be another step and another contribution to the great musical productions. It will symbolize America, just as Russian music symbolizes Russia, and Italian, Italy. "The music of the negroes is so entrancing," said the Maestro. "I like to hear it so much. I think it, too, will have its part in the musical achievements of America." Ragtime, he said, too would have its great part in American productions.

SEE ROME NOW BY AIR ROUTE

American Tourists Get New Opportunity For Sight-seeing

Rome, July 11.—American tourists may hereafter visit Roman ruins—the Coliseum, Forum, Pantheon, Caracalla baths and the basilica of Constantine, St. Peter's and other Rome gems, hereafter, not in antiquated horse-drawn carriages, but in airplanes. The Italian Navy has established a commercial dirigible service for visiting Rome and its environs from the air. The venture has met with complete success for daily the aircraft are filled to capacity.

The correspondent of the Associated Press viewed Rome from the Italian Navy's dirigible M-1. On board were diplomatic representatives of all the Allied countries to the number of thirty-four, the capacity of the craft. The United States representative was Colonel Buckley, military attache, here. Those in the party of long residence here stated that looking at Rome from the dirigible brought out features of it which went unperceived to the observer below. Historic Roman landmarks viewed from the air gave the eye an entirely different aspect of their beauty and form. The riches of Rome in hidden gardens could only be appreciated from above, it was agreed. Looking out of the Coliseum from the ground, it appears to be a circular mass of ruined grandeur. From the air, the elliptical proportions of the second greatest accumulation of masonry in history are pronounced. The proceeds from the dirigible service are given to the Italian funds for those disabled in the war. Tea is served in midair and letters accepted for postage. Use McNeil's Pain Exterminator—Ad

Motion Pictures Do More Business Since Prohibition Began

Columbus, July 11.—Motion pictures flourish best in States that have had prohibition two or more years," says John C. Finn, director of publicity and advertising for a large movie concern who is visiting the Methodist Centenary at Columbus. "Since Detroit went dry, the attendance at motion picture theaters has steadily increased. Men as well as women and children are going and they demand cleaner pictures than before. "The motion picture is the most logical substitute for the saloon. It furnishes wholesome amusement at little cost. And the churches must support clean pictures and make a better substitute for the saloon. "In answer to 2,000 questionnaires sent out from our office 100 per cent in dry territory reported increased attendance. Of all answers ninety-two per cent of the exhibitors reported themselves in favor of prohibition and that family attendance was noticeably growing as soon as the saloons were closed.

CRITICISE LONDON DRAMA AS ROTTEN

English Actress Declares Such Plays Detrimental to Life of Nation

London, July 11.—"Rotten, low and futile," Miss Lena Ashwell, one of the best-known English actresses, has characterized the drama of today as represented on London's stages. Addressing the inaugural meeting of the British Drama League, she said nothing could be detrimental to the wholesome life of the nation than such plays. "What astounds me," she continued, "is that there is no apprehension in this great country of the power of the drama. "She recalled that during the war Germany sent Shakespearean companies to Switzerland, while English dramatic art was represented in Paris by a revue. At the time of greatest stress none of the men from overseas who came to London had the opportunity of seeing any of the plays which represent England's national ideal, Miss Ashwell declared. The point of view of the church was expressed by the Rev. H. R. L. Sheppard, who declared it to be "quite monstrous that the Christian church does not possess its own theater in London, where it might amplify the message it gives from the pulpit."
