

AIR LINE AFTER STATE CHARTER

First Inquiry of the Kind Ever Made of the State Government

Whether Pennsylvania laws provide for the incorporation and authorization of operation of companies engaged in transportation by means of aircraft is a question which the Public Service Commission will probably have to settle within a short time as the first inquiry as to what steps must be taken to incorporate a real air line transportation company has just been made of Secretary of the Commonwealth Cyrus E. Woods, whose department handles charters. The inquiry was made by a Philadelphia attorney who stated that he desired the information for clients and no information regarding identity of the promoters or the scope of their enterprises was given.

"NO MISTAKE, IT'S A GREAT REMEDY" HE NOW DECLARES

Thomas D. Carl Tells His Splendid Experience With This Nature Medicine

"There is no mistake about it. I want to say that Natonex is a great remedy. I am speaking not only of my own experience, but of several of my neighbors," declared Thomas D. Carl, of 648 Schuyler avenue, Dorrantown, Pa. "One of my neighbors can now go without the support of two canes that he was forced to use before he took the Natonex Nature treatment. In my own case, I was bothered with stomach trouble. I had dizzy spells and rushes of blood to my head. I suffered from a constipated condition and my kidneys were affected. "I read about Natonex, saw how people were endorsing it, and decided it must be good from the Nature remedies it contains, but I regret now that I kept putting off getting Natonex from day to day. Finally I got so I had to get relief, for I felt just about down and out. "Now after my third box of Natonex I feel fine. I have real digestion. The dizzy spells and rushes of blood to the head have stopped. My system has been cleansed and built up. My liver and bowels have been regulated. I never experienced such splendid results from any other medicine. I get my good rest now. "I would advise anyone in need of relief to take Natonex and I am sure they will be glad when they heed my advice. "Any weak, ailing, nervous, run-down man or woman who needs better digestion, purer blood, restful sleep, real nerve vigor and renewed bodily strength, should test Natonex at once. Learn how the 12 famous Nature remedies were combined to purify and regulate the system in Nature's way. Natonex is inexpensive. Start it today and tomorrow you will know relief. "Natonex is especially recommended in Harrisburg by the Gorras Drug Store, 16 North Third street, and is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

case of public service, banking or other companies whose activities fall under supervision of various branches of the government they are passed upon by the proper officials.

Several years ago the late E. M. Bigelow, when Highway Commissioner was asked by an enthusiast to locate landing places along the State highway system then in embryo and had studies made of various spots and of the air currents as far as was then possible.

Danger From Rats—"The greatest wheat crop ever produced in Pennsylvania is now being harvested and grain elevators and bins will soon become veritable treasure places into which rats and mice will try to break," says a bulletin issued by the State Department of Agriculture warning farmers to start killing off rats. Secretary Hageman has issued a statement that farmers are not counting the loss they suffer from rats annually and that the rodents are dangers to the grain crops to be exterminated now.

Ruling on Influenza—The State Compensation Board in an opinion by Commissioner Paul W. Houck in the claim of Pittman vs. Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, has sustained Referee C. W. Cummings that influenza can not be considered on the same plane as other compensation cases. It is stated that while the terms accident and personal injury "have a wide significance if it is very doubtful whether the contraction of influenza which is an acute infectious and moderately contagious disease can be included within those terms." The statement is also made that "it has never been shown that the employment of the person stricken had anything to do with the contraction of the disease." In the case of anthrax or germinitis, says the opinion, the "time and place of the contraction of the disease are known almost positively; on the other hand it can be known with no degree of certainty when or where influenza is contracted." The husband of the claimant, Anna C. Fleam, was employed at the State Arsenal and the claim was made that he contracted influenza while checking material returned from the emergency hospitals which the State established during the epidemic.

Compensation Cases—Recent Compensation Board rulings are that where a claimant is willing to do such work as he is able to perform and the employer does not furnish him with such work the employer is obliged to continue payment of compensation. This was held in Myers vs. Canonsburg Gas Fuel Co., Canonsburg, where the company filed a petition for termination of payments on the ground that the claimant could do light work. In Completa vs. T. A. Gillespie Co., Pittsburgh, in which the Italian Consulate represented the claimant, it is held that where a man meets with an accident in course of employment and is killed and his refusal to submit to an operation before he died could not affect his dependents, the award of the referee should be sustained.

Rehabilitation Soon—Action by Governor William C. Sproul upon the Smith bill establishing a bureau of rehabilitation for persons injured in industry is expected within the next few days and steps to begin the survey required by the provisions of the bill will be taken immediately by the State Department of Labor and Industry. The new bureau will be under that department and the idea is to supplement the information gained the last two years in collecting the character and number of injuries in various industries and the experience of the State Workmen's Compensation Board by new surveys which will include the periods of greatest activity due to the war. The act limits the benefits of the act to persons residing in this State and injured in Pennsylvania industries and provides for special training to fit men for various occupations where their disabilities would permit them to work.

To End Crossings—The Public Service Commission is about to complete an extensive series of hearings on complaints of the State Highway Department against grade crossings on main traveled roads of the State an orders for abolition in the next two years will be issued. Under provisions of orders recently made the railroads and the Federal authorities have agreed to have work started at half a dozen places. Many thousands of dollars will be spent for construction of bridges and subways under these orders.

Laws in Demand—Demands for copies of the edition law and the changes to the edition law and the system, the latter being effective in 1920, have been so great that additional copies of the measures have had to be ordered printed. Except for the Philadelphia charter, no acts have been in such demand.

Despite the rumors of many boys of the 25th Division marrying in France, Lewis came home. The first thing he did was to call up his sweetheart, May Marion of Rossville. SHOOT'S BIG BEAR—Bayfield, Minn., July 14.—H. Flore and Harold Stark, making a trip to Cornetopia, a few nights ago about 8 P. M. were attacked by two large bears, while making repairs on their car. They were surprised by the growl of the male bear, who was standing on its hind legs not over 25 feet away.
