

RIFLE MATCHES SET FOR AUGUST

Arrangements Made For the Reserve Militia to Participate

The State will resume its annual rifle matches at Mt. Gettysburg next month, starting with junior teams on August 13. Four men from each battalion will constitute a junior team according to the regulations arranged by Adjutant General Frank D. Beary and Major W. P. Clark, brigade inspector. These teams will shoot on four days of the week. Two men will be selected from each team and with four men from each regiment in addition will constitute regimental teams of ten men each.

The regimental matches will start Monday, August 18 and shoot on the three following days.

It is announced that the arrangement will give such men as are members of the civilian rifle team and who intend to enter with the civilian team in the national match an opportunity to get to Caldwell, N. J., for practice on August 22.

Up To The Drivers—Motor vehicle drivers who use axes or blocks of wood to hold cars or wagons on grades or hills have been asked "as a matter of ordinary courtesy to other road users to remove these obstructions" by Highway Commissioner Lewis S. Sadler.

Big Plans Made—It is probable that the city of Reading will shortly undertake the improvements to the water system urged by the State Department of Health. The cost will run around $5,000.

Veterans For Police—Everyone of the men enlisted for the new troop of the State Police to be located here at the special examination is a veteran of army or navy service. In the number are Frank G. Mellon, Philadelphia, recently discharged as a captain and nine sergeants, including Wilbert E. Bruder, Allentown; John R. Dixon, Pittsburgh; Lee M. Ellsworth, Wyalaus; Geo. D. Ernstrom, Reading; Robert Fohl, Steelton; William E. Laux, Wilkes-Barre, marine corps; Victor D. Miller, Hazelton; Frank Peterson, Susquehanna; and George G. Smith, Philadelphia. At a previous examination several men who had served in artillery and machine gun battalions were enlisted for the new troop.

Schaffer Against Thaw Requisition

Attorney General Schaffer in an opinion sent to Governor Sprout late yesterday recommended that the requisition of the Governor of New York for return of Harry K. Thaw, now confined in a Philadelphia asylum, be refused on the ground that Thaw is a lunatic.

Mr. Schaffer refers to the refusal of a similar requisition by Governor Brumbaugh in 1917 and to the contention of the New York authorities that Thaw has sufficiently recovered to return for trial and then says "In my opinion the status of Thaw is today just what it was at the time of the prior hearing on the first requisition; that is to say, he is a lunatic without lucid intervals, so determined judicially after inquisition and full hearing as provided by our statutes. The question as to any change in his condition, if a change shall take place, is one for the court having custody of him to determine and not your determination. I am in full agreement with the conclusion of Attorney General Brown that a lunatic, judicially determined so to be, is a ward of the State until his disability is removed by proper proceedings in the court which committed him; that he is not subject to requisition proceedings from another State and could not be lawfully delivered to it."

Demotion Is Rapid Among U. S. Officers

Brest, July 16.—Demotion of officers through the demobilization of the American Expeditionary Forces is working swift changes in the rank held by some of them.

A captain wearing four service stripes disembarked at Brest a few days ago. It was his second trip to France. At the pier he was met by a Lieutenant-Colonel. They were introduced and chatted for a few minutes and then the Lieutenant-Colonel said:

"Jones, why I knew your brother. He was a first class man at West Point when I was a plebe."

"You did not know my brother," responded the captain. "You knew me, I was a first class man at West Point in 1905."

"Impossible," retorted the Lieutenant-Colonel. "Why, the man I know is a brigadier general."

"That was I, two weeks ago," said the captain.
