$2,500,000 IN SIGHT FOR DEVELOPMENT OF PARK AND BRIDGE

Templeton Is Ready to Rush Work on Improvements

WILL CONFER WITH COUNCIL

Street Changes to Be Taken Up Very Soon

Governor Sproul's reduction of the item carried in the general appropriation bill for improvement of Capitol Park from $200,000 to $150,000 will not interfere with the work. It is the plan of State officials to start as soon as possible, commencing with the coping and changes along Third and Walnut streets, in which the city will bear a part, and Superintendent Thomas W. Templeton plans an early conference with the city fathers to obtain some action.

As a matter of fact, the State now has $450,000 for the Capitol Park improvements, exclusive of the office building and the Memorial Bridge, which are carried in special bills, and may have more through contributions which will be made for specific operations by the City of Harrisburg and the Pennsylvania Railroad. This is due to the fact that an appropriation of $300,000 is available, having been made in the sum of $350,000 two years ago. About $50,000 has been spent on the extension preparations and the whole sum is at hand, not having lapsed.

$2,500,000 in All

Taking the $1,250,000 for the new office building and the $750,000 for starting the Memorial Bridge, whose approval is considered likely, as the Governor went over them during the closing days of the Legislature, there will be almost $2,500,000 for the general scheme of Capitol improvement to make the civic center of the Commonwealth in accordance with the Brunner plans. In addition, there will be the $300,000 which it is anticipated the voters of Harrisburg will agree to transfer from the Walnut street bridge fund to the city's share of the Memorial viaduct. The sum that the railroads, the Harrisburg Railways and other public service companies will pay as their shares toward the bridge in return for use and what the Pennsylvania will pay for additional land to straighten tracks at the eastern end of the

CITY PEOPLE TO GET FOOD RIGHT OR NOT AT ALL

Mayor's Committee Meets to Inquire Into Surplus Stock of Government

INSPECTION TO BE MADE

Subcommittee Meets With Lieutenant J. R. Boyle This Afternoon

Government food stuffs will be sold to the people of Harrisburg at a bargain or not at all. This was the decision reached to-day at a meeting of the Mayor's committee. It was decided to inquire into the saleability of the articles of food offered at the Reserve Depot at New Cumberland, the actual cost to be incurred in getting the goods to the people and whether there will be a saving in the cost to the buyers.

It was brought out at the meeting that prices quoted at the Reserve Depot are slightly higher than prices at other depots. It was also said that the meats would be sold under conditions not satisfactory to local buyers; that it would be necessary to purchase cans of meats too large for an ordinary family, and the waste would add to the expense.

Bargains Only

The committee desires to give the people bargains. This fact was made

STATE MOVES TO CHEAPEN FOOD

Following a conference today with James F. Woodward, Secretary of Internal Affairs, James Sweeney, chief of the department's Bureau of Standards, directed letters to all of the Pennsylvania members of Congress, urging them to support an amendment to the agricultural bill, vetoed and being reconsidered, which would require the marking of the net quantity on packages containing meats, hams and bacon. The canvas and burlap in which meats, hams and bacon are wrapped have been found at times to weigh more than half a pound and the purchaser has been required to pay for it at the same rate as for the contents. If the agricultural bill is passed with the amendment, meat purchasers will pay for the [illegible] only and the weight will have to be stamped on the wrapping.

Want to Locate Mr. and Mrs. John H. Fox For Matters of Importance

Matters of importance await the consideration of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Fox, formerly of this city, according to a letter received in this city from G. H. Grasz, Box 206, San Francisco.

The letter, addressed to Mrs. March C. Fox, 130 Broad street, has been turned over to Chief of Police Wetzel, who is endeavoring to locate Mr. Fox and his wife, Mary C. Fox. They are said to have lived "near 1811 Eleventh street," in 1911, by Mr. Grasz.

Steel Plant Employe in Hospital Second Time

In his second accident in recent years at the Steelton plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, Albert Noffsinger, 1262 Miller street, was brought to the Harrisburg Hospital late yesterday with several small bones fractured in his right foot.

Noffsinger is employed as a craneman and was injured in a fall yesterday. In the other accident, which occurred several years ago, it was necessary to amputate a leg at the hospital.

STATE SOLDIERS SWING BY CHIEF IN LAST REVIEW

Governor Sproul Sees Reserve Militia Units on Parade at Mount Gretna

Governor William C. Sproul left Harrisburg to-day to visit the encampment of the Reserve Militia at Mt. Gretna and Capitol Hill was agitated whether the Governor, who has developed a fondness for smashing precedents, would continue to do so and not wear a high hat at the review to be tendered him.

Other governors have "taken the review," as the military expression has it, wearing high hats, although Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker departed from tradition and occupied a barouche instead of sitting on a horse. While the Governor is said to be perfectly at home on a horse, it is not certain just how he regards wearing a high hat on a warm day at a military review. When he left here he was wearing a comfortable straw hat.

Reviewed Last Time

At four o'clock this afternoon, under a perfect sky, the Governor reviewed for the last time the units of the Pennsylvania Militia. The brigade passed before the Governor with the swinging stride of an oldtime outfit.

The Governor arrived about 11:30 and was received on the outskirts of the camp by a delegation of officers. He was escorted to camp by the squadron of cavalry under command of Major Hugh L. Curtin. At luncheon, served at division headquarters, he was greeted by Adjutant General Beary, Senator Horace L. Haldeman, of the Governor's own staff, and others. After luncheon he was driven to the headquarters of Brigadier General Charles T. Cresswell, commander of the camp.

Visits Regimental Commanders

Later the Governor visited in turn the three regimental commanders, Colonel John M. Groff, of the 1st Infantry; Colonel Sterling E. W. Eyer, of the 2nd Infantry; and Colonel Franklin Blackstone of the 3rd Infantry, as well as Major Curtin of the cavalry squadron.

This evening there will be a parade of the 2nd Infantry in front of division headquarters and later a concert by the band of that regiment. The local Company I, commanded by Captain Harms, is in the 2nd. The ceremonies closes with the big military ball to be held at the Hotel Conewago.

Congress Plans Big Reception to Pershing on His Return in August

Washington, July 17.—General Pershing will return to the United States in August, Representative Caldwell, Democrat, New York, told the House rules committee, today, urging early action on his resolution setting aside a day for a joint Congressional session to welcome home the American commander.

"Congress is as anxious to honor General Pershing as the English, the French and the Belgians have been," declared Mr. Caldwell.

Action was deferred by the rules committee.

Ships Collide Driving One Aground on Coast

Philadelphia, July 17.—The Shipping Board steamship Scantic was run into early to-day by a loaded barge and forced aground. The Scantic, with a cargo of coal for Rotterdam, was anchored in the Delaware off Gloucester, N. J., ready to sail when the barge, whose captain lost his bearings in the storm and fog, crashed into its side. Little damage was inflicted and the sailing of the Scantic will not be interfered with. The bow of the barge was smashed.

NEW PLANS FOR DEFENSE

Washington, July 17.—Plans have been prepared by the War Department for extensive tests of new coast defense material in conjunction with the air service. A special squadron of airplanes, including 20 de Havelands, will be used and now are being assembled at Langley Field, Virginia. New railway mounts for heavy ordnance are to be tried out at the Cape Henry fortifications, the maneuvers including the rapid transfer of these pieces to various points along the coast in the vicinity and their use in repelling threatened attacks with airplanes spotting the distant target and reporting results.

DUNCANNON LIVE WIRES COME FOR BIG CITY IDEAS

Headed by Burgess, Council and Band, 300 Citizens Visit State Capital

With the burgess, councilmen, band and 300 citizens, Duncannon's Outing Club to-day held its first annual sociability run. The destination was Hershey Park, over the Elizabethtown route. The first checking station was at the Harrisburg end of the Market street bridge. Dinner was served at Elizabethtown. The remainder of the day was spent at Hershey Park. The pilot car reached Harrisburg shortly before 8 o'clock this morning.

In this car were Dr. Carl Cooper, Ph. D., of the Smith Pharmacy, chairman of the committee on arrangements; B. Styles Duncan and R. Jones Rife, secretaries; John Laura Hess, leader of the Duncannon band; Horace W. McKenzie, president of council; R. M. Barton, editor, and Walter Branyan, associate editor of the Duncannon Record, and Franklin E. Cook, burgess.

With progressive councilmen at the helm, Duncannon has been making strides in the line of municipal improvements. The sociability run to-day was to look over other towns, and for a get-together gathering for the business men and councilmen. Duncannon soon will have better streets, paved highways, parks and other improvements. Burgess Cook has been for a greater borough from the start and has outlined plans for a busy season. These facts will be made known on the trip to-day.

"We are putting Duncannon on the map with other progressive towns," said the burgess to-day.

Visit Masonic Home

At Elizabethtown the tourists visited the Masonic home, where the Duncannon band was scheduled to play several selections. Following dinner the trip to Hershey Park was resumed. Here the band gave a concert. Supper will be served this evening. The route homeward will be through Harrisburg, over the Market street bridge to Wormleysburg and through West Fairview, Enola, Marysville to Duncannon. Included in the party were the following:

Denies That U. S. Is Considering Intervention

Washington, July 17. — Statements appearing in newspapers in Buenos Aires and cabled to this country to the effect that the United States had determined upon armed intervention in Mexico were denied officially yesterday by Breckenridge Long, third assistant secretary of state.

"It has been reported in various publications in South America," the State Department denial read, "That the United States has determined to effect armed intervention in Mexico and to assume control of the Mexican Government.

"There is no foundation for that statement. The United States has not determined upon that policy."

"TREAT 'EM ROUGH" GANG WANTS MEN

Chance to Learn Innermost Secrets of Liberty Motors and Oh, Boy! the Fun the Fellows Had Overseas

Enlistments are still being accepted for the "Treat 'Em Rough" crowd, the American Tank Corps, at the Army recruiting station, 320 Market street. The training school for tanks is located at Camp Meade, Md., and there is an unusual opportunity afforded men to learn skilled trades. The Liberty motor is used in the big tanks and any man interested in that motor and the learning of it, could do no better, it was said at the recruiting office to-day than enlist in the tanks and spend a few years learning how to "treat 'em rough." The following interesting account from the Stars and Stripes, of A. E. F. fame, tells what some tanks did:

"A week ago yesterday morning, when the darkness melted away into a heavy fog that hid even the opposite bank of the narrow, breast-deep river Selle, hid even the railroad bank paralleling the stream behind which German machine gunners waited and hid the bluff a kilometer away where the Germans for two days had been digging in, two American divisions that in nine days had fought their way 32 kilometers past the Hindenburg line found themselves at the zero hour of a new attack. These divisions, fighting with the Fourth British Army, two days before had come to an eager halt on the west bank of the Selle, suth of Le Cateau, in front of the newly-blasted walls of St. Martin Riviere and Molain.

GOVERNOR CUTS APPROPRIATIONS OVER A MILLION

Bill as It Reached Executive Carried $44,500,000 With Which to Meet Expenses For Next Two Years

Governor William C. Sproul has cut $1,007,436.68 from the general appropriation bill of 1919 carrying the funds for the operation of the State government, interest and sinking fund for the road bonds and other expenses for the two years commencing June 1. The bill as it reached the Governor carried over $44,500,000.

The Governor's reductions are the greatest ever made in this piece of biennial legislation. The Department of Public Grounds and Buildings was cut $163,440, Labor and Industry and Public Instruction each over $116,000 and various other departments reduced.

The reductions indicate the veto of the State Salary Board, State Board of Censor Inspectors, mine inspectors' salary, factory inspector salary increase and other bills.

The reductions were certified by the Governor to the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the official officers to-day and the payment of salaries and various expenses will be made at once.

Governor Cuts Own Item

The $24,000 item in the general appropriation bill to cover the traveling and incidental expenses of the Governor, the maintenance of the Executive Mansion, entertainment of official guests and the upkeep of an automobile, has been reduced to $20,000, the figure at which it was during 1917 and 1918, by Governor William C. Sproul in his action on the big bill. During the Brumbaugh administration the Philadelphia Governor found this fund a very convenient thing against which to draw for payment of bills of many kinds and when he went out of office he had made a dent in the share intended to cover the expenses of the Governor and the Mansion between January and June. This led to the fixing of the allowance at $24,000, which some considered about all that a Governor would need, the Brumbaugh expenditures being taken as the peak of the load, so to speak.

The Governor also cut down the $50,360 item for clerk hire in his department to $45,000. The Brumbaugh administration found it hard to get along on $37,500, and had to "borrow" stenographers occasionally. He slashed some of the departments heavily, one of the places where he cut being the Auditor General, who loses $50,000 for employment of extra clerks.

The school reductions do not cut down the $18,000,000 school fund,

$75,000 HEBREW TEMPLE IS TO RISE WITHIN 12 MONTHS

Congregation of Ohev Sholom Will Abandon Present Place of Worship

David Kaufman, president of Ohev Sholom congregation, announced this morning that plans are being considered for a new synagogue to be built on the southeast corner of Front and Seneca streets. The present temple, located at Second and South streets, has been occupied by the congregation for the last sixty-four years.

Frank G. Fahnestock, Jr., has been selected as architect. He is now preparing plans for the new edifice, which will be built on the Front street lot, which has a frontage of 100 feet and is 192 feet deep.

The contract for building has not as yet been given out. As quickly as plans and specifications are finished, bids and estimates on construction will be asked for. The building will be pushed so that it may be occupied by the middle of 1920.

It is estimated the cost will approach $75,000.

The present temple is for sale. The committee in charge of building is constituted of the following churchmen, together with David Kaufman, president of the congregation.

Henry C. Claster, chairman.
Harry Rubin, secretary.
Herman Tausig, treasurer.
Joseph Claster.
David Jacobson.
Samuel Kades.
Jacob Lowengard.
Joseph Nachmann.
William Strouse.
Benjamin Strouse.

ENJOINED FROM MINING

Pottsville, Pa., July 17.—On allegations that the Girard Mammoth Coal Company, which is operating a big colliery in West Mahanoy township, is using improper methods of mining, so that big bodies of coal hereafter will be inaccesable, Judge Koch yesterday issued an injunction against the operators, the hearing to take place Saturday. The lease of the present operators expires in six months and the Raven Run Coal Company which will then take charge is the camplainant. It is closed by present methods of mining.

HARDSCRABBLE TANGLE BEING FAST SOLVED

Believe Next Year Will Witness Elimination of Buildings Along River Front

No pending public improvement in the city outside the Capitol Park changes holds greater public interest than the elimination of the Hardscrabble sector of the River Front treatment. This matter has been held up through many legal entanglements for several years, but it is believed the end now is in sight, and that next year will see the beginning of the actual elimination of buildings on Front street, between Herr and Calder.

Exceptions Overruled

About two years ago exceptions were filed to the report of the board of viewers which raised among other things the question of validity of the whole condemnation proceedings. These exceptions were argued before Judge McCarrell and by him were overruled. Subsequently appeals were taken by certain of the property owners from the report of the board of viewers. These appeals have since all been tried and the amounts fixed on both sides of the street.

Certain legal questions were raised at the trials affecting the east side property owners and these will be argued in October. It is believed that this will about finish the litigation.

The property owners who filed exceptions to the report of viewers and which exceptions were overruled still

To Investigate Expenses of U. S. Shipping Board

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 17.—Without a dissenting vote, the House rules committee to-day decided to recommend that an investigation of the expenses and operations of the Shipping Board and Emergency Fleet Corporation be ordered by the House. Democratic members urged assignment of the task to the committee on merchant marine, but the Republican committeemen insisted on their party leaders' plans for a special committee of six members. Early action in the House was planned.

CUPID LURES RAIL MAN THROUGH NAME

David Brown Henderson Finds Jersey Girl's Card in Handkerchief Box and Betrothal Follows; Had Been in Service of State Constabulary

Dan Cupid is a cunning creature. When he fails to hit the mark with his arrows this capturer of hearts uses other methods. Recently his weapon was a box of silk handkerchiefs, and on August 10, at Passaic, N. J., a well-known Pennsylvania railroad brakeman will wed a comely Polish lass.

Some six or seven months ago, David Brown Henderson, 1933 North Sixth street, employed at Enola, purchased a box of handkerchiefs at a Market street store. Pinned to one of the handkerchiefs was a card inscribed, "Heien Nedensky, Passiac, N. J." The young man carried the handkerchief and card in his pocket for a week. One day a friend suggested that he should write to the girl. He did.

Will Have Sunday Wedding

Letters have been coming and going between Harrisburg and Passaic, N. J., at almost daily intervals ever since and Mr. Henderson has also been a frequent visitor to New Jersey. On Sunday, August 10 a quiet wedding will be solemnized at the home of the prospective bride, and then will come a wedding trip through the east. At home announcements will be sent out later.

The prospective bridegroom has been a Pennsylvania railroad employe for 11 years and is highly popular in railroad circles. He is a member of Blue Mountain Lodge No. 694, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and is known as a live wire. He was at one time a State Policeman with Troop A and has many friends in and about Harrisburg.

Miss Nedensky is a forelady in a large handkerchief manufacturing plant at Passaic, N. J., and popular with the younger set. Her father is a prominent businessman.

His Motive For Junket Across Ocean Explained by Witness in Libel Suit

Education a la Ford Heard in Libel Suit

Henry Ford, who in his testimony yesterday in the Chicago Tribune libel suit first acknowledged and later denied that he was an "ignorant idealist," advanced the following definitions in the course of the day on the witness stand:

Idealist—One who helps make people prosperous.

Anarchist—One who throws bombs.

Bally-hoo—A blackguard.

Benedict Arnold—A writer. (Evidently with Arnold Bennett in mind.)

Treason—Anything against the Government.

Traitor—Any one who advocates overpreparedness or war for aggression.

Mr. Ford also declared he was a "murderer" in advocating preparedness; had forgotten what year the United States was organized as a nation, and "guessed it (the United States) was land" before it became a nation.

By Associated Press.

Mount Clemens, July 17.—Henry Ford at the opening of court to-day had a respite from the witness stand while a magazine article about himself by John Reed, published in 1916, entitled "Industry's Miracle Maker," was read.

When Mr. Ford resumed the stand, examination which began last Monday was continued by Elliott G.

SENATE WANTS PROTESTS FILED BY U. S. PEACE COMMISSIONERS

Ask Wilson For Copy of Objections to Shantung Provision 'if Not Incompatible With Public Interest"

REPUBLICANS CALL AT WHITE HOUSE

President Begins Conferences With Senators Who Are Bitterest Opponents of the League of Nations

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 17. — Without a record vote or debate the Senate to-day adopted the resolution of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, asking the President to send to the Senate, "if not incompatible with the public interest" a copy of the protest said to have been made by some members of the American peace commission against the Shantung provision in the peace treaty.

President Wilson began to have conferences with Republican senators for discussion of the peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant. His first caller was Senator McCumber, f North Dakota, a supporter of the treaty and the covenant.

Three other senators, Jones, of Washington; Colt, of Rhode Island, and Nelson, of Minnesota, had been invited to call at the White House during the day, but Senator Jones was out of the city. The President
