What the Sachs Label Stands For. "I happened to remark to a friend the other day," said a customer recently, "that I liked to have people note the label 'Mary Sachs' in my suits." "I don't approve of that attitude," she replied. "I think it smacks of snobbery. Just because Mary Sachs has such a smart shop you want everyone to know you deal there." "Quite the contrary," I answered indignantly. "It's true that it is a smart shop but that's not my reason for liking the Sachs label. It's because I consider it a tribute to my own good judgment in knowing where to buy." "My experience has convinced me that in the long run Miss Sachs is one of the least expensive stores to patronize. Her goods give such long service. Then too the Sachs label stands for a flawless fit. I have no money to throw away ostentatiously. I deal at Miss Sachs because it saves money and I want people to know that I'm a judge of values."
