HUN BETRAYERS LISTED IN ROSTER

Carelessness of Clerk on Steamer Leads to Identity

By Associated Press.

New York, July 22.—The two German prisoners landed here by the transport Agamemnon, were listed on the steamer's roster as Alfred Scholz and Alvin Grothe, it was learned here. Scholz is said to have been a German infantry officer, who was made prisoner near St. Mihiel on September 2, 1918, and Grothe, an aviator, who was captured in the Argonne region on October 18.

Washington, July 22.—A story of the betrayal of the German high command through the fforts of the American military secret service and of the organization among German officers of a vendetta aimed at the lives of the traitors was brought to light with the arrival at New York yesterday of "two German prisoners of war consigned to the director of military intelligence, Washington.

D. C.
According to information here, the mysterious prisoners who landed from the Agamemnon under heavy guard, formerly were German officers of high rank, occupying positions of great responsibility under Von Hindenburg. Before the inauguration of the American offensive in 1918, operatives of the American military intelligence corps prevailed upon them through inducements which have not been divulged, to deliver plans of the German general staff covering the proposed movements on the western front, probable lines of retreat, points at which stands would be made and other detailed information of, inestimable value.

With these plans before him, General Pershing was able to lay out his campaign with great freedom and it is believed that a result was to cut the cost of the American advance practically in half.

The German officers later surrent According to information here, the

it is believed that a result was to cut the cost of the American advance practically in half.

The German officers later surrendered themselves to the American forces. Certain of their former associates had become suspicious, however and are believd to have banded together to mete out stern justice. Utmost precautions were taken even within the allied lines to protect the informers, but as officials believed that as long as they were kept in France their lives would be in danger, orders were given for their transfer to this country.

Preparations for the moving of the prisoners were kept a close secret and it was only through the carelessness of some clerk that they were included in the roster of the Agamemnon when she left France.

The plan was to send the prisoners to some isolated Army post where they might be given military protection for a time. Eventually, it is supposed they would have been permitted to "escape" to some other country, there to begin their lives anew. Officials will not say whether this plan can be safely followed now.

A Sense of Flying

Breezing along in an Atlantic-fed motor, one is impressed with the marked similarity to the sensation of mechanical flight.

For it seems the wheels must leave the road and carry you Up There on the highway of Hawker and Alcock and Read.

That's because Atlantic Gasoline is packed-to-the-doors with power and push that sweep everything before them. Power that will not be denied. Power that seeks release, like a beast ensnared.

Atlantic Gasoline is the same in all seasons. It is no fair-weather fuel, merely. Once your carbureter is adjusted for the season, you need not change it-IF you use Atlantic Gasoline, and nothing else.

Ask for Atlantic by name. Yes, it does make a difference. A BIG difference.
