

PREDICTS RISE IN FOOD PRICES IN ENGLAND

British Minister of Reconstruction Sees New High Levels

London, July 22.—Prophecy that the price of food next winter will "climb to a level never dreamed of," was uttered by Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Minister of Reconstruction, in an address at Crewe recently. A member of the audience replied that there would be no money to pay wages because it would have to go overseas to pay for food. The Minister sternly told the public that it was squandering its money in a colossal way on things that did not matter. "You cannot live like millionaires," he said. "If you are as poor as a church mouse. This nation is now poor. It is living as if it were wealthy."

More beer was being brewed in Great Britain yet people complain of a shortage. This he attributed to a doubling of the amount of beer consumed because, since the war, there was more time to drink it and more money to pay for it. By sending overseas for beer, silk for stockings and feathers for hats, Sir Auckland said, the people were increasing Britain's debt for things that did not matter. "What you ought to get are food and raw material," he declared.

How Fat Folks May Become Thin

If you are suddenly becoming stout, or if you have been putting on flesh for years, the cause is generally the same—lack of oxygen carrying power of the blood. This trouble occurs mostly in men and women over thirty, but it may be easily treated and without any of the privations most fat people imagine necessary to reduce their weight. Simply go to your druggist and get a box of Phynola. Take the grains after each meal and at bedtime. Wonderful results should be quickly accomplished by this simple treatment. Be sure however you get the genuine Phynola. It is put up in original sealed packages, is pleasant to take and gives prompt results. Gorgas, the druggist, stores 16 N. 3rd St. Third and Walnut Streets and Penna. R. R. Station, can supply you.

Get the Boy or Girl Physically Ready Now For School This Fall

The Tiring Exhausting Effects of Too Much Play in Summer. For Growing Children Will Make Their Child Unfit for School. Is Red and Pleading!

Does your child tire easily after a day's play? Does the child lack youthful plumpness, rosy color and noise? Does the boy lack fighting, snappy and hearty? Does the girl lack pep and vim and sparkle? Does the child seem peevish and sulky about his or her school? This condition so frequent among fat growing children is usually caused by weakened unhealthy blood, due to rapid growth, a strain on the youthful body, or a lack of iron in the blood. Many children experience this yearly—their blood is thin, they lack youthful vigor. Often this happens through too much exertion in play without regard for the possibility of the blood being suddenly lessened and weakened. The child is then removed from school late in the fall because of a run down, weakened condition. Use Novo-San the blood renewer. It creates the quantity and quality of the blood, brings vitality up to normal, increases weight and puts the child's blood in a healthy, powerful condition to allow frequent hard play. Watching out for this important factor in your child's health will make the essential school life and work of your child easy, untiring and pleasant. Novo-San is simply a combination of nature's blood-building elements, and not temporary stimulants like harmful drugs. A summer's use of this food-renewing blood will make your child fit for the school, and costs little and can be obtained from C. C. Kennedy or Geo. A. Gorgas, or any good druggist. Novo-San has brought many back to strength and health. It is probably just what your child needs. Try it now and if it does and your child's health, tell the doctor and parents about it. Those who don't receive the expected health gain, can be refunded by the druggist from whom they obtain it.—Advertisement.

WANT TO KNOW WHY COAL COSTS KEEPS ON JUMP

Investigation of Anthracite and Bituminous Industries May Be Made.

Washington, July 22.—Sweeping investigation in the anthracite and bituminous coal industries, with particular bearing on the prices of fuel to the consumer, is indicated by Congress on the initiative of Representative George Huddleston, of Alabama, and Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, who have prepared resolutions for such an inquiry. Why has the retail price of coal advanced since the signing of the armistice? and why is it still advancing? are the two main questions which these legislators will propound to the trade. As it is considered certain that the Senate will favor and conduct an investigation, it is likely that the house will not act, especially as Huddleston, as a Democrat, cannot get the backing of the house steering committee, while Frelinghuysen is a Republican, and also his resolution is more drastic and far-reaching than Huddleston's. First citing the fact that the price of coal has been rising steadily and that during the war this advance was attributed to "war conditions," but in spite of the fact that since the armistice has been signed the price has continued to mount, apparently without economic or other proper reason," the resolution provides:

"That the committee on Interstate Commerce, or any subcommittee thereof, be instructed to make inquiry into the causes of the enormous increase in the market price of coal, and to that end obtain data regarding freight rates, wages, profits and other matters bearing upon the question under consideration, with a view to ascertaining who or what may be responsible for such increase in price, whether due to economic causes and therefore proper and right, or whether due to manipulation or profiteering on the part of coal miners, shippers or dealers in coal."

The committee is to report its findings and recommendations, with a view to either remedial or executive action, "in order to remedy existing conditions, or the punishment of any individual or corporation deemed guilty of unlawful acts." It may be recalled that similar investigation and report were made by the committee on manufactures, of the Senate, in the last Congress, but no action ever was undertaken as a result of that proceeding. May Extend Federal Control According to men very close to the Wilson administration, "the probable end of this inquiry is a further extension of Government control over the coal industry." It is no secret that this is being urged vigorously by influential leaders in many quarters, and the old fuel administration officials and the Federal Trade Council commission and many others are inclined to such a program. Probability, therefore, prevails, that a tangible movement in the direction of Federal control will materialize from this inquiry in the next few months.

WAS DISGRACEFUL BARGAIN TO STRIP CHINA OF DOMAIN

Senator Norris, of Nebraska, Bitter in Denunciation of Shantung Deal

Washington, July 22.—In a vigorous speech in the Senate Senator Norris, of Nebraska, bitterly assailed that feature of the peace treaty providing for transfer of Shantung Peninsula with nearly 40,000,000 Chinese to Japan. Senator Norris charged that Japan secretly secured pledges from Great Britain, France, Italy and Russia early in 1917 that in the peace settlement Shantung Peninsula should be turned over to the Tokio Government for certain considerations. Senator Norris backed up his statement by producing copies of what he stated was the diplomatic correspondence embodying promises of Great Britain and France.

Ratification of the Shantung transfer, he said, would write "the blackest page in the Nation's history." Senator Norris has repeatedly said that he would not support the treaty with the Shantung provision in it. He pictured leading Governments of Germany as inducing China to go into the war in order to secure her assistance and to get possession of German ships in China's harbors and all the while "secretly" plotting among themselves as to her destruction as soon as she had complied with their wishes and the war was over. "In all the annals of history," said Senator Norris, "I do not believe there is reported an instance of a more disgraceful and dishonorable agreement to carve up the territory, not of an enemy but of an allied friend."

He declared that under Article X of the League of Nations as it stands if the Chinese in Shantung should rebel against Japan and the balance of China should go to the assistance of their own brethren it would be our duty "to contribute American lives and American blood to the battlefield to assist Japan to retain her power."

Lieut. Houtz Elected on School Faculty

Lieut. Robert L. Houtz, bomber in the air service during the war, a graduate of the Central High School, this city, and Pennsylvania State College, has accepted a position as professor of chemistry at the Stevens Institute of Technology at Hoboken. He will begin his duties in September. For the six months after his discharge from Army service, Mr. Houtz has been connected with the county commissioners' office at the courthouse.

Lieutenant Houtz was a graduate of the Central High School in the class of 1913, being enrolled in the Latin scientific course. At Penn State, after specializing in chemistry and almost completing his four-year course, the war broke out and Lieutenant Houtz went to the first officers' training camp, where he was given his commission. After training in Texas as a bomber in the air service he was sent overseas for active duty. He returned early in the year and has been in the county commissioners' office since then. Lieutenant Houtz is a son of former School Director Adam D. Houtz.

Three Held For Robbing Freight Car of Tobacco; One Denies His Guilt

Charged with the attempted robbery of a freight car about two miles from Shippensburg last Wednesday, Taylor, escaped at the Blue street; George Forry, of Hagerstown, Md., and Charles Custus, Charles Town, W. Va., were held under $6,000 bail last evening by United States Commissioner John A. F. Hall. The men will be given hearings at the session of United States District Court, which will open at Scranton on October 20.

Last evening's hearings were held in the Dauphin county prison where the three men have been confined since the robbery. This was made necessary because of the condition of Taylor, who has 89 shots of a shotgun discharge in his body, said to have been received when he attempted to escape after the robbery. Forry and Custus were surprised while at work by railroad detectives and were taken into custody by Lieutenant Cranford and Sergeant Lees. The third man, said to be struck by the shotgun discharge, Taylor, however, denies any connection with the affair.

Senator Norris is said by Captain Paul L. Barclay, of the Pennsylvania Railroad police, to have given signed statements to the police that Taylor was the man who escaped. Captain Barclay also says that he will be able to produce at the proper time, witnesses who will be able to identify Taylor as the man who escaped. Taylor is believed by railroad police to have dragged himself for more than three miles to a farmhouse and then persuaded a farmer to bring him to the home of his parents at 1914 North Seventh street, this city. Taylor was arrested there and lodged in the Dauphin county prison after being treated at the Harrisburg Hospital.

The men are said to have tampered with the airbrake system of the car of cigars which they are charged with robbing, and to have started work on it when it was detached from the train.

British Policemen Lose Their "Pin Money"

London, July 22.—The policemen of the pretty seaside town of Ramsgate are to lose their "pin money." This money has been obtained by waking early risers by a knock at their door or tap at the window.

A "season ticket" system was in force whereby the cost of this service was reduced to two cents a call. The receipts were pooled and shared between the police as "pin money." Instructions have been issued to the effect that the police must discontinue the service. Old residents resent the new order.

PEOPLE STARVE THROUGH RICH FIELDS OF OIL

Rumanian Oil Wells Are in Ruins as Result of War

Buzeu, Rumania, July 22.—Here in the midst of one of the world's richest oil fields, people have been actually starving.

Before the war this part of Rumania produced big fortunes in oil, being one of the greatest sources of European supply. To-day its wells are in ruins and the people are destitute. The invading armies requisitioned everything that could be piled loose and transplanted, paralyzing one of the wealthiest industries in the Balkans.

Workers for the American Red Cross, which is distributing relief in the form of foods and medicines throughout the country, have found people eating bread made of leaves, twigs and bark from trees. People were bartering the coats of their backs for small portions of corn and coarse bran. In one place the relief workers found a small local hospital in which the patients slept on boards with no mattress and little covering. At home they found five fatherless children, the oldest only nine years of age, cooking a meal of tree bark and bran, while the mother was out at work in the fields. "Typhus is prevalent and there is no one American woman's report, an increasing amount of smallpox." "There is no doctor nor medicines in this village and absolutely no way of taking care of the sick. In another village which I visited the entire population of 500 persons was ill with some obscure form of contagious disease."

Hundred Occupations Taught Disabled Men

Washington, July 22.—The question as to where disabled ex-service men are being re-educated is answered by the fact that 5,077 disabled soldiers, sailors and marines under the direction of the Federal Board for Vocational Education are in training in more than seven hundred different institutions throughout the country. Five hundred and forty-six schools and colleges now number wounded soldiers among their students; and one hundred and ninety-eight commercial and industrial establishments have disabled men on their force learning the trade. In order to give the men the kind of courses they want as near their homes as possible, the Federal Board for Vocational Education has selected all types of institutions for their training. Elementary schools and State universities, the small service station, and the manufacturing establishments of the newest type of automobiles, Y. M. C. A. schools, trade schools, big shops and small shops, all vie with each other in giving their best training to these returned soldiers.
