New York, July 25.—The possibility of a strike at iron and steel works has loomed up in the past week, but it has not slowed down shown Mexico City discrete when the meeting of the laymen and clergy of the Harrisburg diocese, held at St. Stephen's Church this morning and afternoon.

The meeting was in the nature of shown Mexico City discrete when the meeting was in the nature of the laymen and clergy of the Harrisburg diocese, held at St. Stephen's Church this morning and afternoon.

By Associated Press.

Reading, Pa., July 24.—This was the second day of the State convention of retail coal dealers' association which has 2,000 members in several states. Dealers from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland are attending. President Frank J. Wallis, of Harrisburg, issued a warning to dealers and consumers in which he says:

"My advice to the public is to buy a full supply for the winter at once. Thousands upon thousands of tons are moving northward and westward from Pennsylvania because the dealers can get better prices, while the local consumers refuse to buy their coal supply early."

Mr. Wallis blamed lack of production as the cause of social unduction as the cause of social un-rest. "Lack of production is the greatest menace our nation faces to-day," he said. "Idleness and discontent will gradually vanish production in every industry in-creases and in the coal industry the situation demands our most earnest attention."

NO EXTRA DIVIDEND New York, July 24.—The Beth them Steel Corporation announced to-day that it had declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. on classes A and B of its common stock, payable September 15, but that the directors had deemed it expedient to make no extra distributions to stockholders at this time.
