Attractive Suburban Homes

ON TWENTY-SEVENTH STREET

BETWEEN DERRY AND WOODLAWN STREETS

These homes are in one of Harrisburg's most beautiful residential sections

Lot 20x100 Feet; Six Rooms and Bath; Ten Feet Between Houses

The above mentioned houses all have cement basements, excavated underneath the front porch for a coal bin, excavated under the rear porch for a fruit cellar, outside cellar ways, inside cellar ways, steam heat, gas heater and boiler attached to the steam boiler in the basement, extra large front porch, hardwood floors in the parlor and dining room, kitchen sink with drain board, large kitchen dresser, large white enamel gas stove, three nice size bed rooms with large balcony, and large bath room. The houses will be supplied with a very select grade of electric fixtures, exceptionally good grade of paper, a ten year guaranteed roof and will be sold with shrubbery, hedging and lawn.

Just a little talk in regard to the construction of these houses which are differently constructed than houses built for the public heretofore in this city, and that they are incased with brick. This construction gives an inch air space between the brick and the inner wall which is quoted by our best architects to be a warmer house in the winter time and a much cooler house in the summer time. Four of the above mentioned houses are sold and if this might interest you, we would advise not to delay as this type of house is too costly for us to continue with and our next group will be of a different construction.
