I could almost visualize what he saw as if it were there before him in my living-room. Worn, matted, blood-stained...

"What do you mean?" Desiree questioned. "Oh, nothing, ma'am," was the cryptic reply.

"How many people know—those you killed her?" I asked. "The sheriff and the coroner and the Demerits," replied Lane.

"What of that?" he demanded. "The wound was in the temple and was burned with powder, because she held the gun right against her head..."

"I would not have lifted a finger to save Val from the penalty she ought to pay. But I knew she'd never pay it..."

"I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using three cakes of Soap and two and a half boxes of Ointment he was fully healed..."

CHAPTER XXXV (Copyright, 1919, Star Company) "What do you mean?" Desiree questioned. "Oh, nothing, ma'am," was the cryptic reply.

"If you refer to a sheet of paper that I picked up from the ground one evening—did give it to Miss Leighton," he replied coldly.

"I don't believe you," Norah retorted. She thought she was driving him into a corner and that he would quail under her scorn.

"A Disappointed Girl" Instead, with a slight lifting of the eyebrows, Smith went on down the steps without another glance in her direction.

She was so angry that her voice meant to "marry well." It means to marry a man with money. And that is, of course, rather shocking, when it's stated plainly.

"Feathering One's Own Nest" This system rather fell to pieces, of course, as soon as girls learned how to support themselves, and to control their own lives.

"An Evil Impulse" "Norah," she said before, the girl could speak "please get a bit of paper and wrap up this box for me."

"Well, ma'am," the girl continued meekly, "even if a body meant to keep it he'd not have the courage to do it when he took time to think about it. He'd sure bring it back then."

Desiree looked at her, puzzled "It was, fortunately, an honest person who found it," she commented. "Norah smiled queerly. It seems kinder queer that it dropped off when it never did before, don't it?"

"Others might have noticed it, too," Norah remarked. "Do you really enjoy being with

AMERICANS AID THE RED CROSS

Eight Surgeons and Physicians at Work in Serbia

Belgrade, Serbia, July 26.—Eighteen surgeons and physicians of the United States Army Medical and Sanitary Corps have cordially aided the Red Cross Commission in medical and general relief work in Serbia.

Major Edward Stuart repaired and established hospitals in Belgrade and fought the typhus there when it threatened to become epidemic.

Captain Fred C. Davis fought typhus at Shabat. Captain Walter E. Fox died of pneumonia at Semendria. Captain Herman Hundling directed relief and dispensary work at Pirost.

Lieutenant D. L. Austin and Roy G. Pfotzer were assigned to the half-wrecked city of Monastir where Pfotzer established a bacteriological laboratory.

Captain Morris R. Bradner, Lieutenant Bernard M. Krug and Lieutenant William B. Aten, of Warwick, N. Y., established at Pristene a hospital, orphanage, dispensaries and soup kitchen.

Mexico City, July 26.—Celebrations of the return of peace have been held within the last few days by nationals of the Allied countries residing here.

On Sunday, July 6, two memorial services were held for Allied soldiers who died during the war. One was conducted by the French colony and the other by English speaking people of the capital.

Advice to the Lovelorn

SHE IS CUTE AND PRETTY

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am eighteen and considered cute and pretty, but am not concerted. I have lots of boy friends and love one very dearly.

It has always seemed rather a foolish policy to hold off and wait for the other to speak first. Usually in the explanation that follows there wasn't anything very much to be "mad" about in the first place.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I have known a girl for the past year and an very much in love with her. In the office where she works she permits several, or I might say all of the young men to put their arms around her.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I agree with you that the young lady's behavior is most undignified.
