POLICE GAIN UPPER HAND IN CHICAGO

The foot of Twenty-ninth street during the race disturbances. Accounts of the origin of the trouble differ, but the version accepted by the police to-day is that the fighting started at the Twenty-ninth street bathing beach, where the whites and colored people are separated by an imaginary line.

ANNOUNCING The August Sale of Furniture Beginning Friday, Aug. 1 With Three Courtesy Days For Inspection and Reservations Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday Various causes are responsible for the most unusual condition of the Furniture market in its history. Strikes and other troubles are responsible for an unprecedented shortage. Comparatively recent orders have no assurance of delivery. Prices have advanced in the last two months 25 per cent.—and are still climbing. Stocks for this August Sale were purchased as far back as last January, and the prices paid were considerably below the prevailing market prices. The advantage of attending this August Furniture Sale and buying liberally for present and future needs is, we think, self-evident in the face of chaotic conditions. Selections may be made during the Three Days of Courtesy, but all transactions will be dated from August 1. Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart, Fourth Floor.
