SNYDER WRITES ON THE REVENUE

Makes Interesting Statement Regarding the Incomeof the Commonwealth

Auditor General Charles A. Snyder has written an interesting state ment on the revenues of the State for the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association bulletin. Mr. Snyder

In the matter of the revenue of "In the matter of the revenue of the State of Pennsylvania it should be borne in mind that since the passage of the act of 1913 the State receives no tax whatever from personal property. Its revenues are in effect derived entirely from its taxes on corporations and on corporate obligations. Aside from the sums which are collected for licenses, writs, collaterat inheritance, direct inheritance, automobiles and foreign insurance premiums the enforeign insurance premiums the en-tire revenue is that which is de-rived from the tax on the capital stock on conporations, corporate loans, gross receipts, gross pre-miums and banks and trust compa-miums and banks and trust companies.

"Under our several acts of Assembly, corporations pay a tax of five mills upon the value of the capital stock as fixed by the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth. Also a tax of four mills upon the bonds, scrip, certificates and evidences of indebtedness issued by corporations. Also a tax of eight-tenths of one percent. upon the gross receipts of all railroads, pipe lines, street passenger railways, etc., derived from the transportation of freight or passengers or oil; and upon the gross receipts from the business of every telephone or telegraph company, express company, electric light company, etc. Also a tax of eight-tenths

"Pennsylvania differs in the method of her collection of revenues and system of taxation from any other State in the Union, and as a matter of fact is the only State which collects no personal property tax.

"The fact should also be borne in mind that under old lows manufacturing corporations are entirely exempt from taxation. That is, no part of their capital stock bears any part of the State tax if it is entirely employed in manufacturing. In this respect we also differ from every other State in the Union, with the exception of California, Delaware, Connecticut and West Virginia. In the formation of our tax laws it has always been borne in mind that the State should encourage the location within her bounds of all manufacturing. State should encourage the location within her bounds of all manufacwithin her bounds of all manutac-turing corporations, recognizing the fact that they brought to us in-creased and added wealth in many ways. The principle of relieving them from taxation was that of en-couraging and fostering their de-velopment.

"Under the now existing tax laws, and by a businesslike and proper administration and application of the same, there has been collected during the first fiscal year of the present Auditor General's administration the sum of $44,165,388.74 as against a collection of $31,700,-489,35 during the previous fiscal year making a net increase of $12,-464,879.30. Total payments of $42,-407,064.30 have been made as against $29,360,493.19 during the last fiscal year of his predecessor, with a balance in the treasury at the end of the fiscal year of $9,-888,988.55.

"In no one year has ever such a large amount of revenue been collected. This was accomplished without the help of any additional revenue measures, excepting that which came from the operation of the direct inheritance tax act of 1917 under which was collected the sum of $2,643,462.13.

"The Auditor General is confident that with a systematic and proper application of the laws now existing and with the approriation of sufficient sums to the Department to permit of the systematic and scientific application of the laws and facilities for the collecting of the State's jaxes and revenues, the collections for the coming year will not only be equal to that of the last fiscal year but will exceed same to some considerable extent. He is assured that the present laws provide ample means for all the State's present purposes and it has been his conscientious endeavor from the time he assumed office to see that the powers and duties of his Department are properly and equitably applied and that the taxes due the State are not only propertly levied and assessed, but also immediately collected. He found upon entering office about $12,000,000 of delinquent taxes and immediately put in operations a system for the collection of these delinquent taxes, and did this at a surprisingly nominal expense to the Commonwealth. He also found hundreds of cases in which the corporations had appealed from the tax settlements made by the fiscal officers. These have been adjusted, with the exception of a very few, either by composition or by final adjudication had in the court of Dauphin county.

"As above stated these revenues of the Commonwealth have all been the condendation of the commonwealth have all been of the Commonwealth have all been of the Commonwealth have all been the condendation of the boys in service.

"As above stated these revenues of the Commonwealth have all been collected without the imposition of any tax whatever upon the manufacturing corporations of the State, and the Auditor General feels confident, that the necessary revenues can continue to be provided under the present laws without any recourse to a tax on our manufacturing industries.
