OLDEST ELK SAYS SECRET OF LIFE

"Don't Hunt Trouble," Advises Old Minstrel Who Has Reached 78

J. M. NORCROSS

"Your city health officer, Dr. J. M. man can be young at 60. But I will go him eighteen better. I will say that with proper living a man can be young at 78."

So declared Joseph M. Norcross, So declared Joseph M. Norcross, the "oldest made" Elk in the world, the oldest singer still on the professional stage and probably the oldest person appearing before the footlights to-day. Mr. Norcross is 78 years old and is appearing in vaudeville at the Paxtang Park Theater with his wife in "Our Golden Wedding," a singing sketch, this week. Mrs. Norcross is 66 years old.

"An opportunity for great service lies before the American Legion, says the legion announcement, "and with your help and the help of the officers of every post in your State, the legion can perform the service and aid in contentment of many persons. It is in the matter of aiding relatives to receive as quickly as possible the effects of soldiers who died in service. There has been long delay in some instances in performing this duty.

"Except in isolated cases, there will not be brought to the attention of officers of posts such cases because of no representation of the families in post membership. So inquiry, energetically conducted, will reveal some instances in which the legion can render help that it should be, and it, sollicitous to give.

"Please make such inquiry, and inform these headquarters of every case in which the legion's help is desired, and the matter will be quickly brought to the attention of the proper officials in Washington and action be procured."

"How do I stay young at 78?" said the aged singer to-day. "It's the simplest thing in the work the simplest thing in the work were will the ago of clean moral life; eat regularly; sleep regularly; so at your work with a smile; rot keep a your work with a smile; rot keep a sunny disposition no matter what turns up; don't hunt trouble but if you meet it face it with a bold front. New York, July 30 .- One of the flight and its progress across the flight and its progress across the ocean.

Navy photographers photographed every interesting phase of the preparations and the trial flights at Rockaway Beach. Later when the course had been selected, other photgraphers were sent to Halifax, N. S.; Trepassy, N. F.; Ponta Delgada, Azores; Usbon, Portugal and Plymouth, England, where landing stations and bases had been established. Several thousand feet of motion picture film and several hundred photographs were taken at these stations and from these a careful selection will be made for the department's permanent pictorial record.

The task of making a pictorial record on canvas was entrusted to Lieutenant C. E. Ruttan, U. S. N. R., of New York, who was designated by the Navy Department as the official artist for the flight. He was temporarily assigned to the U. S. S. Melville, which acted as a supply and repair ship for the seaplanes at Ponta Delgada. Lieutenant Ruttan, who is a qualified pilot, brought to the work a long and valuable experience obtained in painting naval aviation pictures on the western front.

AB. R. H. O. A. Premier Gives Deputies Written Replies Regarding Left Bank Occupation

By Associated Press.

By Associated Press.

Paris, Tuesday, July 29. — Premier Clemenceau, accompanied by Captain Andre Tardieu, attended today's meeting of the committee of the Chamber of Deputies which is considering the peace treaty and brought written replies to questions formulated by the committee regarding the left bank of the Rhine.

Captain Tardieu read the replies, after which there was a lengthy discussion, Mr. Clemenceau amplifying the replies. He recalled that the government had presented a memorandum to the peace conference, setting forth at length the reasons why France should hold the Rhine bridgeheads. The document, presented February 27, was discussed until the middle of March. At that date the French government, in agreement with the Allies combined various military systems which fully assured the safety of France and which, taken one with the other, were equivalent to occupation of the bridgeheads. These measures were accepted by the peace conference and incorporated in the treaty. In addition to them came later treaties with England and the United States, guaranteeing immediate and unlimited military aid.

The Premier and Captain Tardieu, answering various objections raised regarding the rapidity of possible German concentration and the distance of the military help of the Allies, pointed out that it was impossible to admit that an army, reduced to 100,000 men, could, even in the face of the universal indifference of the world in general and France in particular, be raised to several million men armed and equipped, ready for war. The hearing of M. Clemenceau lasted three hours.
