Chickering, of San Francisco, accompanied by twenty Polish young women specially trained as nurses aids in this country, will sail next Wednesday on the Rochambeau enroute to Polund, where they will continue, at the request of Paderewski and the Polish government, the child welfare work already begun in Poland by the American relief administration, of which Herbert Hoover is director general. The young women represent the first unit of the Polish Gray Samaritans, trained in this country under the direction of the Young Women's Christian Association, and the Polish reconstruction committee for this special after-the-war work in Poland. In addition to Miss Chickering, who is the leader of the group, they will be accompanied by four other trained women workers in the journey to Poland. These latter are Miss Emily Graves, of Baltimore, case worker; Miss Pranees West, of North Carolina, recreation director; Stephanie Koslowska, a trained nurse, and a public health worker yet to be named. ers of different nationalities where she could give to the older European countries to assist in their rehabilitation.

As a gift from the Young Women's Christian Association to Poland special nurses' training courses were opened to Polish young women, willing to go later to Poland, in such cities as Milwaukee, Rochester, New York, Trenton, N. J. Cleveland, Ohio; St. Louis, Mo., and Detroit, Michigan. Three hundred young Polish women joined these courses about a year and a half agond were given a special three-menth course in their home cities. At the completion of the preliminary course, ninety out of the original three hundred girls were selected for further training at the Polish Gray Samaritan school in New York. Here they have been for nearly a year, studying dieteties, the principal of case work, family rehabilitation, the care of children and first aid. The twenty young women sailing on the Rochambeau thus represent the first picked unit to be sent abroad out of the original 300 girls who volunteered for the unit will carry clothing and coulpment for a year, its expenses leing shared by the Young Women's Christian Association ond the Polish econstruction committee. The Y. W. C. A. supplies the young women with transportation to Poland and the supervision of the Polish government.

From Warsaw the Polish Gray Semeritans will be sent out into the towns and villages of the country. Their trip may be duplicated by other units from America, but this has not been definitely decided upon.

HE SINGS "YANK, YANK, YANK HE SINGS "YANK, YANK, YANK When the nuthatches call it sounds as if they were saying, "Yank, yank, yank," and this is true both of the white-breasted and the redbreasted birds of this species, says the American Forestry Association, of Washington, which is conducting the national birdhouse building contest for school children that is aroustest for school children that is arousing much interest. These birds have a clever manner of cracking nuts. They will wedge them in the crevices of bark on the tree and then peck at them with their bills until the nut is opened. Woodpeckers use their tails for support as they climb the trunk of a tree but the nuthatches usually climb with their head down and their tail pointed toward the zenith.
