SHOPMEN ARE HOPING FOR NEW SCALE OF WAGES

Delegate Is Sent to Washington to Learn Conditions

Local shopmen were still at work to-day, with their ears to the ground. Yesterday the members of Keystone Lodge No. 1,070, International Association of Machinists, held a meeting in White's Hall.

Noah M. Jones, president of the local system, No. 40, was present and with other officials made addresses. No action was taken regarding the strike.

It was an orderly meeting yesterday and the men at work to-day refrained from any general discussion while on duty.

William B. McNair is chairman of the local advisory board and will confer with President Jones on the latter's return from Washington.

Middle Division Traffic Was Heavy During July

Freight traffic over the Pennsylvania lines is steadily increasing as shown by the Middle Division records for the month of July.

The total movement is now not very far behind the record-breaking war period. In July, 1918, there were 210,575 cars, embracing 2,812 trains, or a daily average of 6,792 cars.

HEAVY TRAINS ON P. AND R. LINES

Moving Coal From Mines to Eastern Markets; New Record Friday

Reading officials report heavy coal traffic along with a very busy season making general freight. Crews are being kept busy moving on Friday 16,000 cars were handled over the Reading and Harrisburg divisions.

The total number of steel cars loaded brought from the mines was 1,125. It is estimated that 45,000 tons of anthracite were taken to the market. The output on Saturday was equally as large and trains were doing a rushing business throughout Saturday and yesterday.

Railroad Notes

James B. Moran, Altoona, passenger car distributor in the office of N. W. Smith, general superintendent, was retired Saturday after fifty-two years service.

Harry Geesey, aged 74 years, a retired Pennsylvania Railroad inspector at Altoona, died Saturday.

A wreck on the Reading last evening at Sheridan blocked three tracks for several hours. A broken drawhead was the cause. Three cars jumped the tracks.

Engines 1826 and 1827, big Mallets, were turned over to the Reading on Saturday. They were built at Baldwin. Four more of these giant locomotives are to be delivered.

SAYS AMERICA'S DAY IN FAR EAST JUST BEGINNING

Golden Field For U. S. Merchants Lies Across the Pacific, Dr. Mullowney Says

Philadelphia, Aug. 4.—A new insight into the complicated Eastern situation was brought to light to-day in an interview by Dr. John J. Mullowney, formerly attached to the State Health Department, at Harrisburg, who has been working in China with the Chinese Red Cross.

He has with him recently, enthused with the prospect of our future trade with China, which totals nearly one billion of dollars each twelve months. Dr. Mullowney believes that America's day in the far East is only beginning and that across the Pacific lies the golden field of opportunity for the American merchant.

One of the points he insists upon is that we should prevent exploitation and we should insist that China should not be made the dumping ground for booze and narcotics that America is trying to rid herself of at the present time.

"China looks to America not only for protection from the greed and ambitions of other nations, but also for leadership and for commercial fellowship and co-operation. God forbid that we should be false to the faith imposed in us; Heaven forbid that we should send over there any narcotic or poison that will mar the mind or the body of China's men and women; in this field more than anywhere else America's business man should take as his motto: 'I will therefore engage in no transaction which does not benefit alike all who participate with me.'"

"Some of the world's farseeing statesmen have said that the world's activities and the political arena of the near future are not to be in Europe, nor in America but in the Orient. And why not? Consider: 'With something over 400,000,000 inhabitants China has only about six thousand miles of railroad; think of the development needed!'"

"With cities like Canton, Peking, Hankow and Tientsin, whose populations range from 500,000 to 1,250,000; these are only a few, with only about six hundred factories in the whole Republic. With unimaginable natural wealth in materials, foodstuffs and raw materials for textile manufacturers; with a bountiful supply of cheap, industrious, teachable and willing labor; with great inland waterways, with long seacoast and with almost every variety of climate—with all these possibilities and advantages, it seems certain that the real development of China must soon begin and that in that development American manufacturers, contractors, engineers, teachers, merchants and bankers must begin now to study how best to approach and please and sell to them by the dozen; the Chinese are beginning to wear leather shoes; they are beginning to use Western medicine. Again I say, America, Wake Up."

much of the soil is virgin, but ere long Europe will be turning her gaze again in this direction. Awake America, be up and doings. China needs, China welcomes you — welcomes all but narcotics and stimulants.

"What will China buy? Well, what did she import? The figures are approximate and for the year 1913—before the great war—in value of the gold dollar: Cotton goods $110,150,000; Sugar 27,000,000; Tea 19,300,000; Rice 13,600,000; Dyes 12,500,000; Cigarets and tobaccos 12,400,000; Fish and fishery products 9,600,000.

With many other articles to the grand total of $422,775,000. "What can China sell? Let us look at the export figures of some of the more important items for the same year—1913: Silk $77,000,000; Beans and cake 31,000,000; Tea 25,000,000; Skins and hides 17,000,000; Cotton 14,000,000; Seeds and cake 13,000,000; Tin 8,000,000; Oil (vegetable) 7,500,000.

Together with many other articles to the value of $290,000,000! "Now, to-day, is the time to act; this is the day of America's opportunity! Such a day will not come again.

"Just a suggestion: when I first went to China in 1908, there were only two automobiles in the great city of Peking; now you can count them by the dozen; the Chinese are beginning to wear leather shoes; they are beginning to use Western medicine. Again I say, America, Wake Up."

Vienna, Saturday, August 2.—Tibor Szamuely, one of the most prominent of the Hungarian communist leaders, was shot and killed last night, while he was crossing the frontier near Fuenstfeld, by a guard whose brother, a farmer Szamuely had been executed.
