No Planes Wantonly Burned, Says A. E. F. Air Service Chief

Washington, Aug. 5.—Denial that any aircraft of the A. E. F. was wantonly destroyed was made yesterday by Colonel Mason M. Patrick, former chief of the Air Service Board, appearing before a House war investigating committee.

"That any planes were burned needlessly or wastefully is incorrect," declared Mr. Patrick, now a colonel of engineers, who, when chief of the American Expeditionary Forces, ranked as major general. "None that it would be economical to keep were destroyed."

Destruction of the machines followed effort to sell them, which, failing, resulted in the salvage as junk of parts. None was offered for sale or destroyed, Colonel Patrick said, until after an inventory had proved their worthlessness.

Red Cross Workers Are Active Despite End of War and Demobilization

In spite of the fact that the war is all over and everyone is trying to forget it as much as possible, the work of the local Red Cross Chapter continues as industriously as it did while the war was going on.

Last month, according to a report made public yesterday, the local canteen women served 19,000 soldiers passing through on troop trains. Many of these boys were wounded, and shell shocked and could not take care of themselves. The booth which the local chapter maintains in the station has also been the means of assisting many a tired and hungry soldier or a soldier's mother or other relatives. Everything that can be done for them is done, from issuing "movie" tickets to those who are here only between trains, to helping those who are tired and hungry and want board and lodging for the night.

The Red Cross magazine devoted to the activities of this district showed that Harrisburg has come out third in amount of donations for the National Children's Fund. It must be remembered that these donations were made from the schools only, and were not a result of a campaign among the businessmen of the town. The Pittsburgh chapter leads, the Southeastern chapter, which included Philadelphia, is second, and this city came third, with $2,933.85.

Yesterday, Major M. J. Shields, field representative of the First Aid Department at Delaware College and Bloomsburg Normal School, was in Harrisburg conferring with local school officials regarding first aid in the local schools. Major Shields is attempting to have this taken up in every school in the country.

Commissioner of Banking John S. Fisher and Deputy Attorney General B. J. Myers left here this afternoon for Philadelphia to meet with Colonel Fred Taylor Pusey in regard to North Penn bank affairs. The Commissioner declined to make any statement whatever regarding the affairs of the bank.

Adjutant General F. D. Beary, Colonel L. A. Waires, of Scranton, and officers of the State Armory Board, leave Harrisburg late to-day for Philadelphia where they will attend a meeting of the State Armory Board with Major General W. G. Price, Jr., tomorrow at the new cavalry armory. New armory construction and National Guard matters will be discussed.

James M. Barnett, of New Bloomfield, to-day filed a petition to be a candidate for judge in the Perry-Juniata district. W. R. Lewis, of Scranton, filed a petition to run for judge in the Lackawanna county district.

The Northern Central Gas Company, of Williamsport, has filed notice with the Public Service Commission of an increase in rates. The McMurray Telephone Company has also filed notice of an increase in rates.

Captains of the five State Police troops have been summoned to meet here on August 11 to discuss ways for laws and the organization of the new bureau of criminal identification. Inquiries into the operation of similar bureaus in other States and various cities have been under way.

Capitol visitors to-day included Representative George W. Williams, of Tioga; S. E. Peale, New Bloomfield; Colonel Edward Martin, of Waynesburg; who commanded a battalion of the 110th; Colonel F. A. Snyder, commander of the Pennsylvania Engineers in France, and Ex-Judge James M. Shull, of Perry county.

Borax Bill, Native Son of Harrisburg, Takes Toe Dancer For His Bride

"Borax Bill" Manning, son of William S. Manning of this city, was married this morning in Lebanon to Miss Stella Rickenberger, a native of York. The Rev. Theodore E. Schmauk, pastor of Salem Lutheran Church, performed the ceremony.

"Borax Bill" has spent his last 25 years in the West, where he holds the titles of Champion Broncho Buster, Champion Bull-dogger, and Champion Rope Spinner. He earned the title of "Borax Bill" as a driver of the well known 20-mule team for the last two years. At various times he has been connected with a dozen different circuses and for a while was in the movies at Los Angeles.

It was at this latter place he met Miss Rickenberger, who was then in stock company. She has been on the stage for more than 15 years, and was famous as a singer and toe dancer.

The newly wedded pair will make their home in Lebanon, but "Bill" does not intend to give up his bucking life and will go West shortly to enter the bucking contest of the year.

Submits Photographs of Burning Planes to House Investigating Committee

Washington, Aug. 5.—Six photographs of parts of airplanes piled up at Colombey-les-Belles, France, waiting to be burned, were submitted to a House war investigating committee to-day by Gutzon Borglum, of Stamford, Conn., who said he paid $500 for them, and that microscopic examination convinced him that good parts had been destroyed.

"They were among the only battle planes the United States had," declared Borglum, whose investigation of aircraft production during the war for President Wilson resulted in something of a sensation.

Three other witnesses—Paul L. Lockwood, of Stamford, a former lieutenant in the Army; John C. McGague, of Brooklyn, and Alfred L. Rora, of Scranton, Pa., identified the photographs and testified the belief the planes were burned in France.

Band and Parade For Editor on Way to Jail

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 5.—Preceded by a band of prominent business men, who paraded the principal streets of the city, Edward T. Leech, editor of the Memphis Press, an afternoon newspaper, entered the Shelby County Jail yesterday, to begin serving a sentence of ten days imposed for contempt of Chancellor Israel Peres' court.

The contempt charges grew out of an editorial written by Leech during a local political campaign last year.

Friends of Leech, who organized the parade yesterday and accompanied him to jail, are planning a mass meeting next week when the editor is released. Former Mayor Lilty, who was a leading figure in the parade, addressed a gathering of several hundred persons at the jail just before Leech was locked up.

WILSON GETS PLAN TO CUT PRICES

whole question finally was referred to a subcommittee consisting of Chairman Cummins and Senators Lafallette, Wisconsin, Republicans, and Wolcott Democrat, Delaware.

Condemns Extravagance

Condemnation of extravagance on the part of the public was heard in several quarters to-day, one high official in close touch with national expenditures declaring no relief from high prices could be expected while "100,000,000 people continued to demand the highest quality of everything and were willing to pay any price to get it."

There still was no indication early to-day of how the conference would view the problem. Director General of Railroads Hines, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Leffingwell and Chairman Colver, of the Federal Trade Commission appointed a committee to present suggestions to the conference, have been engaged in an exchange of memoranda, but it was said authoritatively that they had reached no decision as to what steps should be taken.

Confers With Trade Board

That President Wilson was taking a deep interest in the situation was indicated again yesterday when without announcement he called at the offices of the Federal Trade Commission and held a lengthy conference with Chairman Colver and Commissioner Murdock. Neither of the two commission members would discuss the subjects brought up at the conference but admitted that it dealt with phases of the living cost problem.

Attorney General Palmer has summoned District Attorney Clyne, of Chicago, to report on the progress of investigations which have been under way there. Mr. Clyne's visit was regarded as significant also because an early decision is expected whether information submitted by the Federal Trade ommission warrants prosecutions against the "big five" packing companies. High prices and the rising unrest expressed in strike threats by hundreds of thousands of railroad men occupied much of the time of the Senate yesterday. Senators from wheat growing States asserted that the government guaranteed price of $2.26 a bushel was not responsible for the high cost of bread, declaring that wheat was selling at terminals at higher figures.

Investigation by the Federal Trade Commission of the alleged scarcity of sugar in many parts of the country despite the largest crop in a number of years was recommended yesterday by the House Interstate Commerce Committee in ordering a favorable report on a resolution by Representative Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts. The resolution calls for an inventory of stocks of sugar on hand throughout the country and an inquiry into prices.

Organized labor came out with the unequivocal, formal demand that capital be retired from the railroads.

Labor and Railroads

A tri-partite control composed of the public, the operating management and the employes is demanded instead.

Addressed to the American public and signed by the engineers, the firemen, the conductors and the American Federation of Labor, a formal statement was issued announcing this proposal which will be carried before Congress to-morrow.

"It marks," says the statement, "the step by which organized labor passes from demands for wage increases to demands that the system of profits in industry be overhauled."

This sentence sums up in a few words, the proposal of which there have been hints and indications, but which is now laid before the country for the first time. Everywhere in official Washington it is recognized as the most serious and far-reaching proposition the country will be called on to face.

Characterizing the proposal as "labor's bill," it is put forth as a remedy for the high cost of living, because, the railroads are the key industry of the nation. It demands the "genuine co-operation and partnership based on a real community of interest and participation in control" of which President Wilson spoke to Congress, and which the statement says has been ignored by labor and the private owners of the railroads.

"We ask," it says, "that the railroads of the United States be vested in the public; that those actually engaged in conducting that industry, not from Wall street, but from the railroad offices and yards and out on the railroad lines, shall take charge of this service for the public."

Profiteering

Unless Uncle Sam looks out he may be accused himself as the greatest food profiteer of all. He is suspected of trying to make money on the more than $135,000,000 worth of canned goods and other eats in the military warehouses instead of selling to the people at bargain prices this enormous hoard of food for which as taxpayers and patriotic citizens they have already paid.

"Why doesn't the government sell this stuff to the people without profit?" asked one familiar with the conditions to-day. "It seems to me, that the millions of dollars paid in wartime for this food entitles the people to the benefit of a quick sale at low prices."

One big wholesale concern of Harrisburg has adopted as a fixed policy the selling of goods at a legitimate figure without regard to the unusual conditions which now and then tempt profiteering. During the sugar famine last year, the firm in question is said to have refused to boost prices on the score of supply and demand.

"Foreign buyers are taking over the visible supply of foodstuffs," said a dealer to-day, "and instead of the American consumer getting the benefit, he is up against the stone wall of 45 per cent. commandeered in government storage houses and the other 55 per cent. being shipped to Europe, making a serious shortage, of course." Unless the great quantities of food in warehouses is released there will continue to be a difficult situation.

Frauds Perpetrated by Food Profiteers Revealed in New Jersey

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 5.—Frauds perpetrated by food profiteers were revealed to-day by Frank Wanser, state superintendent of weights and measures, in his annual report submitted to Governor Runyon. Increased fining of coal dealers for short weighting patrons the report said, had greatly diminished this evil.

Cases were cited where merchants cheated customers by attaching bits of fat, metal and foreign matter to the bottom of scales. Other dishonest merchants "tapped" 100-pound sacks of sugar at the bottom and after extracting as much as five pounds, sewed up the hole.

"Petty swindling still continues," said Mr. Wanser, "through the wrapping of meats in cheese cloth and paper which are charged for at the price of the meat. The large packer is the first offender and the consumer, as the result of this practice, has had to pay from 1 to 3 cents a pound more for this commodity. A nation wide crusade has been started towards obtaining legislation that will eliminate this form of profiteering."

Dishonesty in the ice trade has diminished in New Jersey, the report concluded, because a new law provides that all ice sold must first be weighed in the presence of consumers, and, in addition, the dealer must have the tongs that he uses marked with their exact weight, which is deducted from the weight shown on the scales.

Railroad Men's Demand For New Control of Common Carriers

Washington, Aug. 5.—The newest demands made by organized railroad employes and the American Federation of Labor are as follows:

That private capital be eliminated from the railroads.

That the private owners receive for them Government bonds "with a fixed interest return for every honest dollar that they have invested."

That tri-partite control be established in corporations which shall lease the roads and in which the public, the operating managements and labor shall be represented equally.

That the public, the operators and the wage-earners share equally all revenue in excess of the guarantee to private capital, by granting to the operators and the employes one-half the savings which are expected to be made by such a perfected organization, and to the public the other half as consumers, either by increasing service without adding costs or by reducing costs.

H. C. L. in Vladivostok

Lancaster, Aug. 5.—Speaking of the high cost of living, A. J. McConomy has just received a letter from Captain Samuel H. Heller, former head of the sanitary corps of the Fourth Pennsylvania Infantry and now a Regular Army officer, in which he states that fresh eggs are selling in Vladivostok for 9 cents a dozen, butter for 27 cents a pound and the choicest bacon at 23 cents a pound. The finest fowls are quoted at 60 cents each, live weight. "We are buying fresh hearth-baked Vienna style bread," writes Captain Heller, "for 2 ents a pound, and it is the finest that I have ever eaten."

Developments of a Day in Controversy Between R. R. Employes and U. S.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Outstanding developments in the controversy between railroad employes and the government are as follows:

Representatives of six shopmen's unions, headed by B. M. Jewell, acting president of the Railway Employes' Department of the American Federation of Labor, told President Wilson they could not accept his plan of solution of their wage problem and appealed to him to put into immediate effect their request for wage increases made January 7.

Heads of railroad shopmen's unions sent out a call for a strike vote referendum to the membership, returnable not later than midnight Sunday, August 24. This would make possible a "legal strike" of all repair men and construction men, to begin September 2, a month from the date of notice given to the railroad administration. Union officials sent instructions to men now on strike to return to work in order to vote in the referendum called for.

Organized labor's whole strength in the railroad industry, including the brotherhoods and the federated shopmen, addressed a warning to the public that they had started the fight
