

TABLEAUX TO SHOW EARLY CITY SCENES

Big Floats to Take Prominent Part in the Annual Kipona

Events in the life of early Harrisburg will be depicted in a series of tableaux to be presented during the Kipona celebration on Labor Day on ten large floats on the Susquehanna river, as the main feature of the Kipona celebration on that day this year. Decision to this effect was reached last evening at a meeting of the executive committee of the Greater Harrisburg Navy in the offices of the Harrisburg Park department.

Many Old Scenes

- Included among the numbers on the program are: 1.—The Old Oaken Bucket, showing two children leaning over the wall of an old well. 2.—Kipona—An Indian buck and squaw will be presented in a canoe, the buck paddling or poling the canoe, while the squaw will sing the song, "Kipona," written by Dr. Hugh Hamilton, of this city. 3.—Plectan—the capture of an Indian chief. 4.—A scene at Harris' trading house, where a negress has placed a lighted candle in a barrel of powder, mistaking it for a barrel of flaxseed. The whipping of the negress will be shown. 5.—A scene at the Haldeman mansion where an Indian attempts to shoot an English officer. 6.—The attempt to burn John Harris, as shown in one of the paintings in the capitol, will be shown in this scene. 7.—Old Fort Hunter, the John Kelly property above Rockville, will be shown as a quartermaster's store. 8.—An Indian raid at old Paxton Church, with a skirmish in the graveyard. 9.—Washington's visit to Harrisburg at the Whitehorse Inn during the whisky insurrection. The Whitehorse Inn was located at Paxton and South Front streets. 10.—The Blackhorse Inn and the old Red warehouse. 11.—Lafayette's visit to Harrisburg in 1834 and his stopover at the Mansion House, at Second and Mulberry streets. 12.—The shower of stars of 1833, shown with the use of fireworks. 13.—The Buckshot war in the State House in 1833, when troops were called from Carlisle and Philadelphia.

The historical data for the tableaux has been collected by Dr. Hugh Hamilton, of this city, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Historical Societies. He has secured or had prepared a number of drawings which are being used in the preparation of the scenes.

The pictorial representations are being prepared under the direction of theatrical men of the city, who have volunteered their services for the occasion. They will have charge of the complete preparation of the floats. Several hundred persons will participate. Costuming and drill work will be in charge of Mrs. Florence Ackley Ley, of the War Camp Community Service.

The tableaux on the river, which is scheduled to be presented in the evening, is the leading feature on the program, but many other interesting events have been prepared for presentation.

Two thousand feet of underwater lights will add to the evening spectacle. These lights, which proved highly successful in previous celebrations, have been made possible through the assistance of J. H. Thompson, electrical engineer of the Valley Railways. "Flood" lights of great candlepower will light up the River Front between Walnut and South streets, where the events will take place.

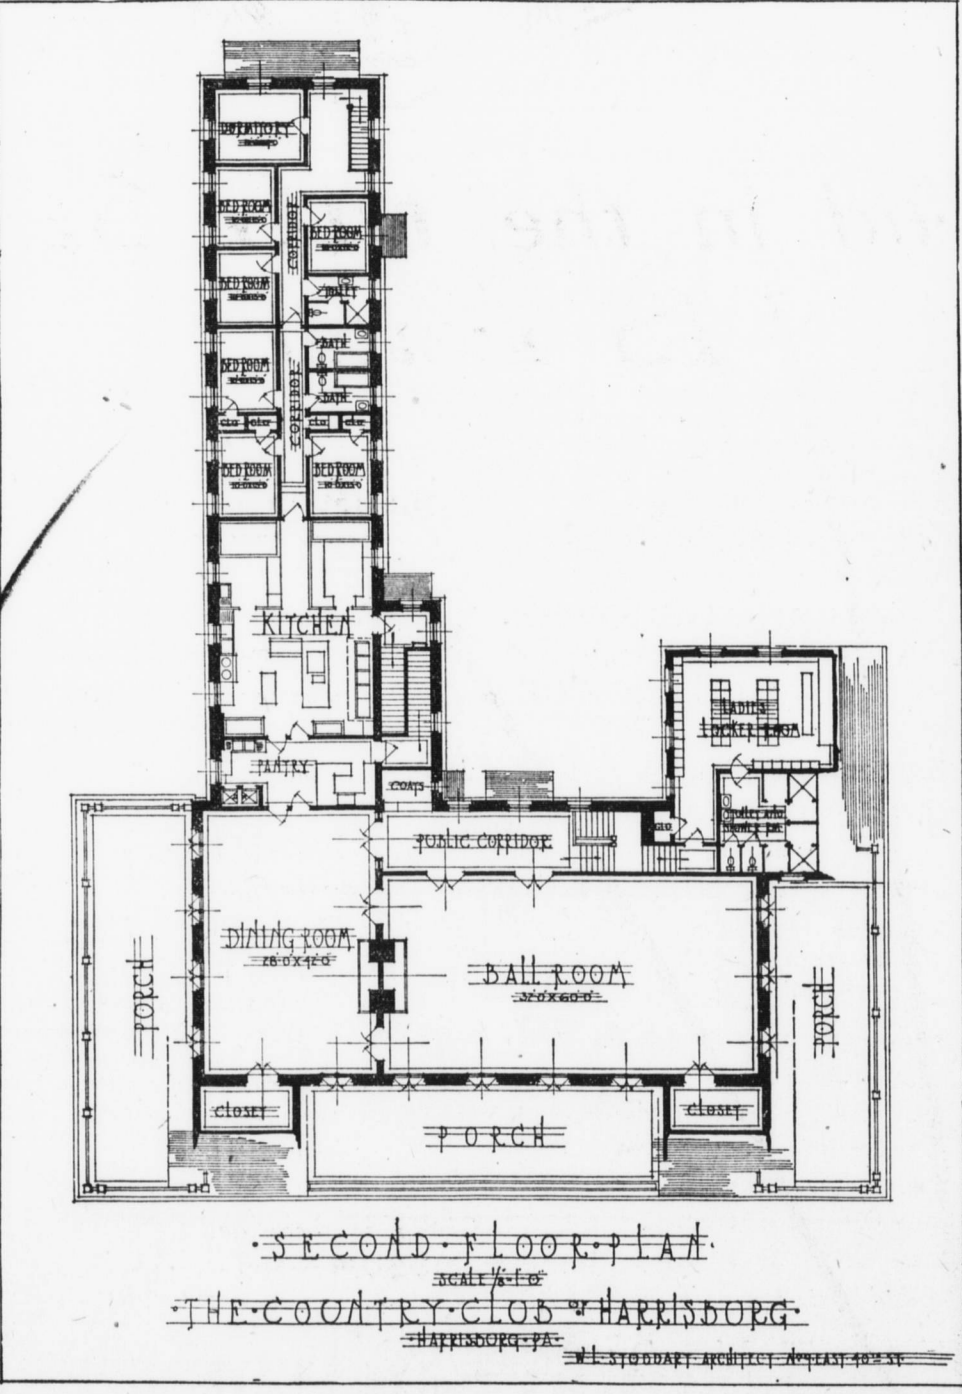

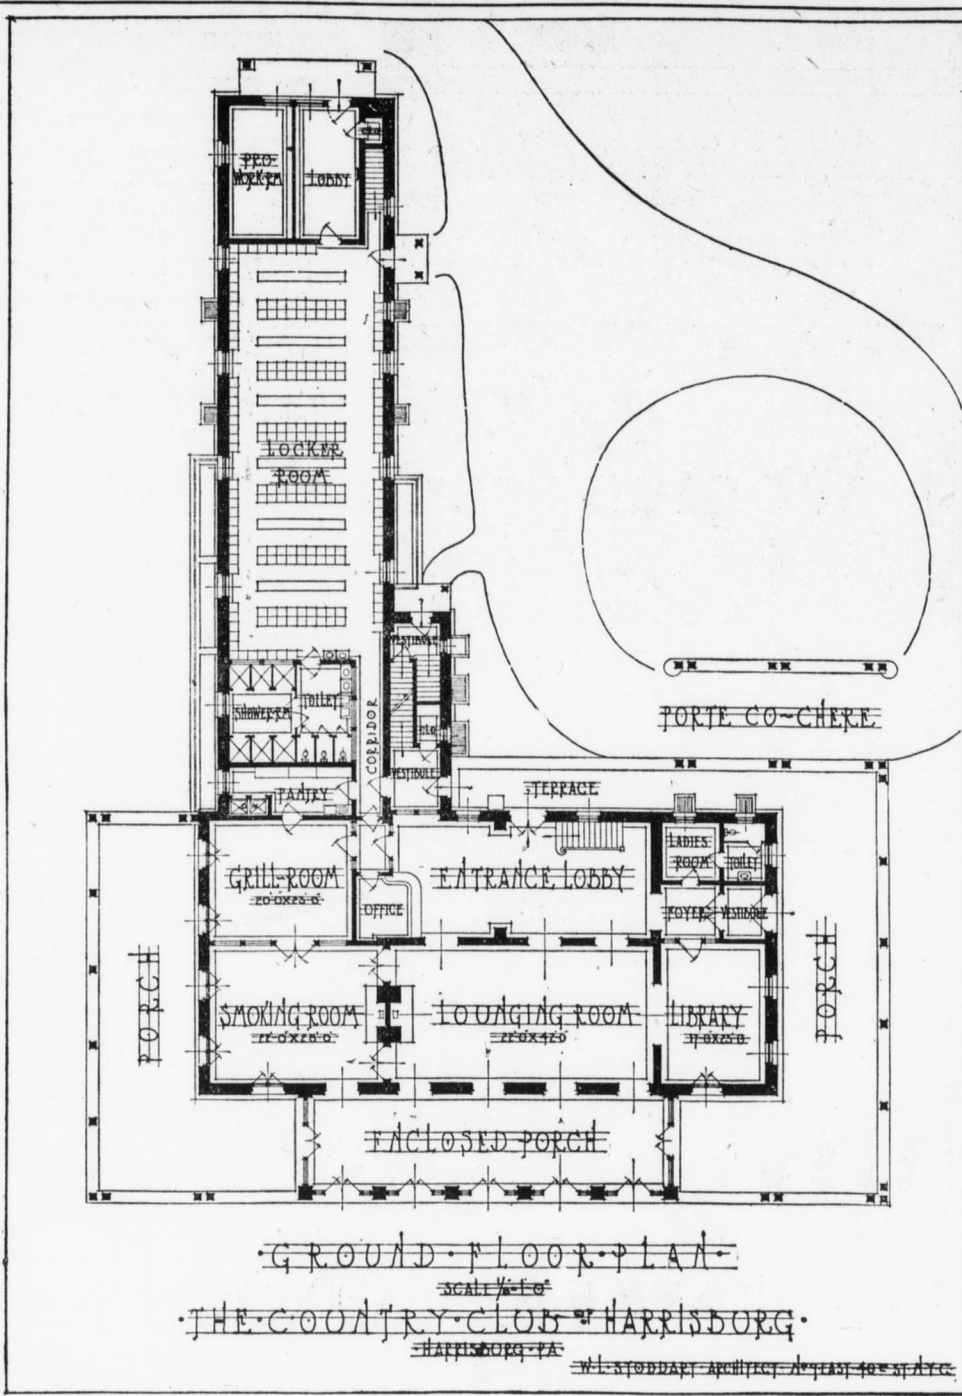

A display of army fireworks, such as were used during the recent hostilities, has been placed on the program through the courtesy of Colonel Kemper, of the Harrisburg recruiting district. Other fireworks likely will be added.

A number of interesting water events are being scheduled for the afternoon. Canoe, motorboat, swimming and other water events are being planned. Aquaplane exhibitions, such as were had during previous celebrations, may be included. A number of band concerts are being planned and community singing will be included.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc. Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things: Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion, or they can, as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the fermentation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarck Magne. There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bismarck Magne and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a cathartic. But a teaspoonful of the powder or couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which is present and prevent further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and is fully digested without need of artificial digestants. Get a few boxes of Bismarck Magne from your reliable drug store. Ask for either powder or tablet. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bismarck form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat." G. A. Gorgas.

CONCH SHELL TO BESOUNDED AGAIN ALONG OLD CANAL

Thousands of Old Boatmen to Meet in Reunion; Name and Bylaws Are Adopted

For the first time in many years the boatmen's conch will be sounded along the old Pennsylvania canal on August 30 when Reese Bortel, of Newport, veteran ex-captain, will call the reunion of the old boatmen of Pennsylvania to order at Rolling Green Park, near Sunbury. More than 3,000 are expected to attend.

The boatmen's conch, in common use during canal days, was a seashell on which the canalboat captains blew mighty blasts as their craft approached a lock in the canal, warning the lockkeepers to make the lock ready to raise or lower the boat to a new level. A number of reunions of canal veterans have been held and last evening William C. Fortney, of Milton, president; Edwin Charles, Middleburg, treasurer and secretary; F. H. Eckelman, Harrisburg; M. L. Harting, Harrisburg, and James Foust, Altoona, executive committee members, at a meeting in the office of the Dairy and Food Commissioner here, framed a constitution and bylaws by which will be the Association of Ex-Canal Boatmen of Pennsylvania, and will have a membership extending from Hollidaysburg to tide water, and from Wilkes-Barre to Harrisburg. Governor William C. Sprout and Lieutenant Governor E. E. Belding have been invited to attend the reunion August 30, which is made the date for the annual reunion.

200 Families Driven From Homes and Heavy Crop Loss in Storm

Cleveland, Aug. 6.—Four persons known to be dead, probably six seriously wounded, property and crop damage estimated at more than two million, and 200 families driven from their homes was the toll early today of an electrical storm which swept northern Ohio late yesterday. Three of the deaths occurred in Youngstown where two persons were killed instantly by lightning and another electrocuted by coming into contact with a live wire. At Bellevue a boy was drowned when he was drawn into a sinkhole while bathing in a flooded street.

At Tiffin more than 250 homes in the Rock creek basin were flooded and abandoned. Ashland county, with estimated damage of $1,000,000 suffered the greatest loss, according to newspaper advices received here. Between forty and sixty bridges and culverts were reported washed out and highways damaged. Scores of farmers lost stock, wheat and oats in the fields, while corn was flattened out and other damage done to orchards and vineyards.

Destruction by lightning of barns, most of which were filled with new crops, were reported from many points. With the exception of the storm of September 2, 1901, it was the heaviest ever recorded, Weather Bureau officials declare and it may be days before the full extent of the ruin wrought can be estimated.
