"When a Girl Marries"

By ANN LITTLE

A New, Romantic Serial Dealing With the Absorbing Problem of a Girl Wife

CHAPTER CCLXVI
(Copyright, 1919, King Features Syndicate Inc.)

Of course I didn't discuss Phoebe and Neal with Val Cosby. It was such a strange, delicate situation that I hardly dared let myself think about it, much less talk it over with anyone. Jim made it evident that he didn't want to go into the matter. I couldn't go to Phoebe and say anything like this: "Now Jim has driven Evvy into throwing Neal over. He's free again. If he wants to come to you I suppose you'll take him back." Yet, what could I say?

No matter how delicately I handled the situation, no matter how gently I approached anything, I ventured to Phoebe would amount to just this declaration. I couldn't go near Phoebe. And when it came to Neal, for once in my life I simply couldn't bring myself to go to my brother and offer advice or comfort unless he asked for it. I couldn't intrude.

Yet I didn't see how they were going to find each other again unless they were helped. Could proud young Neal go to Phoebe and ask her to take back Evelyn Mason's rejected suitor? Would Phoebe make one little gesture to encourage Neal?

I thought in circles for a day or two. And then I decided to go for help to the kindest, sanest person I could reach—Anthony Norcross. If Betty had been in town she would have helped me. Failing Betty, Tony was the one person I could turn to. So I telephoned him and asked him to stop in for a cup of tea in the late afternoon.

It wasn't until he actually arrived that I found out how much I needed him. He was just what I needed. A perfect leaven-er for any flour—it costs no more than the low grade powders and is the best at any price.

GORGAS DRUG STORES

Thin Men and Women Can Put on Flesh
Increase strength, endurance, vitality and greatly improve their health by building up their nervous system and enriching their blood. Undoubtedly one of the best things for this purpose is the great French drug known among druggists as Blood-Ton Phosphate. People who have tried it say that the five-in-tablet taken with each meal quickly restores depleted nervous energy, enriches the blood, increases strength, vitality and endurance, and those who are too thin usually gain ten pounds of solid stay-their weight in a short time. Gorgas and all other druggists are authorized to sell Blood-Ton Phosphate under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back, every thin, weak, nervous or anemic man or woman should give it a trial without delay.

IMPORTANT—Blood-Ton Phosphate is sold only in original packages, containing enough for three weeks' treatment, at $1.50 per package—only 50¢ a week.

At a little after four and I was handing him his sugarless tea, pale with cream, that I realized I had gone around in another circle. I couldn't ask Tony's advice, after all. His friendship I was entitled to, because it was mine whether or not I did anything about it. And however he resented Tony, I felt Jim was beginning to understand that. But I couldn't ask his advice about Jim's little sister. I spoke up honestly—

"I can't straiten it out? You can't ask my help?" asked Tony, his tender smile warning those ice-blue eyes of his.

"Can't do either," I confessed, more and more ruefully.

"And little fairy godmother Anne loves—fixing things," said Tony in a non-committal tone.

It occurred to me suddenly that any other man would have protested that I hadn't dragged him to town on a wild goose chase, but that just seeing me was reason enough for the trip. And I was thinking how much I liked Tony for never even dreaming of saying it, when he startled me by—

"Anne, since this is a matter you can't discuss with a chump like me, perhaps it is a matter you have no right to touch. Sometimes even loving interferences stop a kettle from boiling or a rose from blooming."

"What have you guessed, you wizard?" I demanded.

"Guessed, little kind-heart, that you may be agitating yourself over something that will come right if you just leave it to me—to good Old Dame Nature."

"Meaning, 'Anne, don't butt in on other people's business, as you're altogether too fond of doing?' Of course, you put it very sweetly, Tony. But it comes to this," I said, somewhat flustered.

"Tony's wonderful deep voice soothed me, though again he didn't protest now.

"Words are colorful things, Anne. The wrong ones are hurt. The right ones gentle. You are a kindheart. If it hadn't been for you, probably Tony wouldn't have his Betty to-day. Sometimes I think you're going to help Virginia find happiness again. But don't wear yourself out over other people's problems. Nor over your own—if you have 'em. Remember old Tony will always be happy and proud if you give him a chance to stand by you. Your friendship is a wonderful gift. I'm an old hulk, Anne, but I feel as if there were garlands over the broken timbers when I think I mean something to a beautiful soul—like you."

"Oh, Tony!" I cried, more deeply touched than I dared to show. "Your friendship is a real gift. I'll always cherish it."

Tony laid his left hand over mine for half a second. Then he rose. And I noticed that though his lips smiled his eyes were sad.

"That's the best life can give me, Anne," he said quietly. "Your friendship." After a moment he added, "Your friendship—Betty's, Terry's, Virginia's. Just to think of you—all—pulls me out of the slough of despond whenever I tumble in."

"Are you ever sad, Tony?" I asked in astonishment. "Let me help you when you are, as I know you help me."

"I'll help you whenever you ask, Anne," said Tony in a voice that I knew was a vow, and then he added strangely, "You do help me when I'm sad. Be sure of that. Perhaps you may be helping the people you longed to aid to-day—helping them by your loving thoughts and desires."

"On the very words, and before I could puzzle over Tony's utter solemnity, I heard Bertha opening the front door in answer to a ring of a moment or so before. Then there

BOOZE ADDICTS HAVE NOT TAKEN TO USE OF DOPE

Authorities Say They Have Noticed No Increase Since July 1

Prohibition has not brought the anticipated increase in the use of habit-forming drugs in Harrisburg. Such is the general belief in the city today.

At least, the number of users of narcotics brought to the attention of public authorities within the past several weeks is not in excess of the number reported in the week before July 1. If anything, the number has been smaller in July than before, but authorities are not inclined to believe that a copy might still be in the President's possession.

Discussing the Shantung provision of the treaty, Secretary Lansing said the Lansing-Ishii agreement made to obtain reaffirmation of Japan of the open door policy in China was entered into by the American Government without knowledge of the secret treaty between Japan and the Allies for a transfer of German concessions in Shantung to Japan.

Mr. Lansing said it was true that President Wilson had called to the peace commission, requesting that the confidential minutes of the proceeding be made known to the League of Nations be not furnished to the French Senate.

There has been absolutely no indication of any increase in consumption of narcotics since the prohibition officials stated at Harrisburg Hospital.

Nor has there any increase in dope complaints brought by the police, Chief Wetzel says.

At the Dauphin county jail it was said that fewer "dope" users are being brought in than before. Prohibition has not, however, accounted for the decrease, the official said. He added that all addicts brought in recently had been there before.

The All-American Pageant which the War Camp Community Service is putting on at Island Park next Tuesday evening will be the most spectacular event of its kind ever attempted in Harrisburg.

Every civic organization in town is doing what it can to make the program a success and all members of foreign societies which will take part are putting in their efforts.

The State will be represented by Lieutenant Governor E. E. Beitzman, and the city by Mayor Keister and the Commissioners.

The evening will open with a huge parade through the city playgrounds on the island to the ball ground north of the Walnut street bridge. Mrs. Florence Ackley Ley will lead community singing accompanied by the Municipal Band. Following this, the various national groups in alphabetical order will be introduced to the Harrisburg family, when William Penn, John Harris, and Uncle Sam will make their appearance. It has not yet been announced who will take these parts.

Many to Witness Big Tractor Demonstration
Late reports from the committee in charge of the big tractor demonstration to be held on the Bonny-mead farms next Tuesday and Wednesday indicate that it will surpass anything of the kind ever attempted before in the State. Final entries, just coming in, show there will probably be more than twenty-five tractors on exhibition.

SMOKERS DESTROY PLANE
New York, Aug. 6.—The Caproni airplane, which was destroyed near Verona, Italy, last Saturday, causing the death of all the fifteen persons in it, caught fire through the negligence of passengers who were smoking, it was declared in advice received to-day from the Caproni Company at Milan by representatives of the company here.

LEAGUE PLAN IS NOT PRESSED AT CONFERENCE

Lansing Tells Foreign Relations Committee U. S. Draft Was Never Presented

Washington, Aug. 6.—Secretary Lansing told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to-day that the American plan for a League of Nations was "not pressed" at Versailles and never was presented to the full Peace Conference.

The Secretary, appearing at a public hearing of the committee said, he did not know whether a copy of the American draft was still in existence. He presumed, he said, that the draft was made by President Wilson and added that a copy might still be in the President's possession.

Discussing the Shantung provision of the treaty, Secretary Lansing said the Lansing-Ishii agreement made to obtain reaffirmation of Japan of the open door policy in China was entered into by the American Government without knowledge of the secret treaty between Japan and the Allies for a transfer of German concessions in Shantung to Japan.

Mr. Lansing said it was true that President Wilson had called to the peace commission, requesting that the confidential minutes of the proceeding be made known to the League of Nations be not furnished to the French Senate.

Employees at the Hocking Valley shops did not strike, and it was said they would remain on the job until a vote on the question has been taken in accordance with the instructions from national headquarters.

Other Developments in Food and Wage Situation on Page 16.

DEVELOPMENTS IN FOOD DRIVE

All hoarders and profiteers in foodstuffs will be ferreted out and all violations of the Lever food control act will be reported by agents of the Department of Justice in all parts of the country.

All existing laws will be invoked to run down food criminals and new laws will be made if necessary. President Wilson will send a message to Congress relative to the high cost of living situation "as soon as he has time to write it."

Attorney General Palmer's recommendations to the President will be embodied in the President's message. Director Barnes, of the United States Grain Corporation, held a conference with President Wilson. The Director will issue a statement clearing up public misconceptions on the effect of a free market in grain. He made no suggestions to the President as to this year's crop.

A resolution directing the President to employ means directly within his power "to relieve the people from the high cost of living" was introduced in the House by Representative Riddick. Six primary causes of high cost were given.

The Senate Agricultural Committee voted to begin on August 18 hearings on the Kenyon and Kendrick bills proposing Federal regulation of the meat-packing industry.

Senator Johnson, Democrat, South Dakota, told the Senate Agricultural Committee that drastic action must be taken. "If we don't, we will have a revolution," he said. "It is in the air."

Brooklyn Trolley Strike, Demoralizing Whole Transit System
By Associated Press.
New York, Aug. 6.—Service on the subway, elevated and trolley lines of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit system was demoralized at the rush hour early to-day by the strike of part of the company's 13,900 employees.

The walkout set for 5 a. m. did not assume serious proportions until 8 a. m. when thousands of commuters on their way to work in New York from various boroughs across the river waited in vain for cars.

The East river bridges were soon closed with processions of automobiles, motor trucks and other vehicles pressed into service to carry the throngs to Manhattan. Congestion in the subway trains which were operated on a limited scale, was most marked. The trains on the elevated roads ran desultorily, and the surface car gave only partial service owing to the activity of pickets.

Nuncheon operators began pulling their cars into the barns at 7.30 a. m., saying they were afraid to run their cars because of the threat of violence of the strikers. Meanwhile, the police were on duty while additional police protection was asked for, and while surface cars on a few lines were running about as normal, every car was jammed.

A number of minor disturbances occurred in the early hours, due principally to strikers and pickets boarding cars and urging the crews to quit.

Predicts Labor Will Organize U. S. Steel
By Associated Press.
Washington, Aug. 6.—Prediction that labor would organize the United States Steel Corporation and establish the eight-hour day for its employees was made to-day by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, testifying before a Congressional committee at a railroad bill hearing.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing
Soap should be used very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and thins it. The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and green), and is better than anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky; bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy; it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Jersey Farmers Plow Under Tomatoes Rather Than to Sell Them at Lower Price

Woodbury, N. J., Aug. 6.—A number of farmers around Thoro-fare are plowing under the balance of their early tomato crop, rather than sell them to the canning factories at twenty-five cents a basket. Growers declare they cannot afford to pay high farm wages, haul to the wharves and probably wait the biggest part of the day to get unloaded at twenty-five cents. Considerable of the acreage will be put in red skin potatoes.

This does not mean that all the farmers are plowing under. Scores are still hauling to the wharves and are glad to get even the low price. Hucksters in Woodbury yesterday charged $1.75 a basket for the same kind of tomatoes. At the Tuesday curb market yesterday morning peaches of the better quality sold for $1.75 a basket, while a poorer quality sold for $1.20.

6,000 Standard Steel Employees Are on Strike
By Associated Press.
Butler, Pa., Aug. 6.—Between 5,000 and 6,000 men went on strike at the plant of the Standard Steel Casting Company here at noon to-day to enforce their demands for higher wages. Workmen at the Forge Steel Company, Butler Bolt and Rivet Company and the Butler Car Wheel Company, which voted last night to take similar action, had not joined the movement up to early this afternoon.
