Horse Eats From Garden; Owner Pays Fine and Costs

Isaac Grittlin paid $7.19 in fine and costs for his horse who had been eaten in private gardens. The horse was allowed to roam at large and unattended and was found eating and damaging in a number of South Fourth street gardens. The police were notified and the horse was taken in charge. In the meanwhile Grittlin, grocer at Second and Chestnut streets, was informed by youngsters that his horse had been eating in Grittlin immediately called upon the police and asked for the return of the horse together with bill. The horse was returned only after Grittlin had received a hearing and had paid the fine and costs.

TRACTORS GIVE IDEAS
OF LABOR SAVING

tor has proved. Most of the tractors are of the wheel drive type, only one of them, the Chietra, using the caterpillar drive.
Each demonstrator has been allotted about two acres and when promptly ten o'clock, to the accompanying tractor, the noise and dust, the tractors got away to their first row of plowing. Each tractor was to plow for an hour and after that could use the time as they saw fit. The only other rule to be observed was that which said that depth of seven inches and no more.
At noon all active plowing was stopped for an hour or so and there were talks on lubrication, tractor management and the like. Prof.
R. L. Blainsham and Prof. C. L.
Goodling, of the State College School of Agriculture, made addresses to the farmers on various subjects. Representatives from the larger gas and oil corporations are on the grounds. The majority of the tractors are run by kerosene and are economical in consumption.
The particular virtue of the tractor is that of labor-saving, when it is practically impossible to hire men to take care of your farming with horse methods, one man can do the work of three or four in less than half the time. For example, it is said by representatives of the Dauphin County Farm Bureau that where it will take one man a full eight-hour day to plow three acres of ground with a horse-drawn plow, the tractor will speed this up

French War Veteran
Who at 14 Has Decided to Become An American

Michel Bourdain is a veteran of the United States Army at 14. He was living with his parents in France when American troops were billeted on their farm. He picked up English quickly, soon became an interpreter and was attached to the Fifty-fourth Field Artillery. Of the 250 francs a month he was paid he kept five and gave the remainder to his parents.
One of his many friends in the Fifty-fourth was E. H. Murphy, who in the Army was a sergeant and in civil life a New York business man. Murphy formally adopted him and brought him to the United States. He sees that "Mike" writes regularly to his parents.

to at least eight acres, more thoroughly done and more economically.
Most of the tractors drew the Oliver Chilled Plow this morning in the demonstration, and to those who have been accustomed to watch one or two horses trudging across a field turning up a small furrow, it was a joy to see the tractors rolling steadily along at a good speed and turning up two or three broad, deep furrows.
The Fordson tractor was the center of an interested group of farmers this morning, as it ambled up and down its allotted space. It is a sturdy looking little piece of machinery and seems to be about as simple in construction as the well-known Ford.
The Moline tractors were also getting a good share of interest.
They are larger than the Fordson, but their representative claims that they are just as economical and can do just as much work. The Frick tractor is a local proposition which came in for lots of attention to-day as it worked the two acres given over to its use. In size it resembles the Moline product and seems to compare very favorably with it.

$100,000 NEEDED TO EXTEND CITY SEWERS

crossed over to Perry street reaching a location with many buildings erected on it without sewers, the want of this most necessary facility prevents the erection of homes in this most desirable locality. This sanitary sewer thus constructed will make it possible to drain all land between Twenty-second street, and the eastern city line from Berryhill street to the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, also all land from Twentieth street to the almshouse from the Philadelphia and Reading Railway to Spring creek, and also several hundred acres of land south of Spring creek. This work will greatly help the building construction of many operators.
Drains Big District
A sanitary sewer should be constructed from Paxton creek inter-ceptor along the asylum run, reaching the country east of Fifteenth and Nineteenth street, and north of Walnut street. This land is most desirable for building operations, being comparatively close to the center of the city, and as yet but very few buildings have been erected on it.
This is mainly because sewers are absent. It is almost imperative that sewerage facilities be furnished the proposed police barracks about to be built east of Nineteenth street and of Herr street.
This conduit will also make it possible to sewer Pleasant View, adjoining Harrisburg, whose sewerage causes us more or less annoyance.

Eventually the greater part of Pen-brook can put its sewage into this drain. The money spent on this operation will certainly add greatly to the health and advantage of the city.
"A storm water sewer should be built in Shamokin street for the purpose of taking the rainfall of that part of the city north of Wisconsin street, east of the river, over to the Pennsylvania Railroad. Without this, very little improvement can be made in this section so close to the city proper, and so conveniently situated. This sewer would go away with the swamps that have caused so much annoyance in the neighborhood of Third street above and below In-vision street. It would give the property owners an opportunity to put their lands to grade, and make most desirable building locations. The construction of sanitary sewers, in connection with this storm water main, would furnish drainage to that part of the city east of Fifth street and north to the city line. The buildings now erected upon a part of this

Here are two of the youngest competitors in the blonde beauty contest, held annually at Venice, the California beach resort. They didn't win the prize from the other 88 competitors, but that didn't worry them a bit —as the photograph will show. They were handicapped because the older contestants resorted to cosmetics and wore the latest up-to-date bathing suits. They agree with their mother that the referee robbed them of the decision.

F. B. WICKERSHAM TO RESUME LAW PRACTICE

days the case was fought before the jury, the defense claiming that the man was too drunk at the time he committed the murder to know that he had done it or to form the intent to kill. The jury brought in a verdict of second degree murder and Zorovic was saved from the gallows.
The murder cases of recent years in which Mr. Wickersham appeared as Prosecuting Attorney, were those against Nicholo Kotur and William Evans, colored, the last one pending now on an appeal before the Board of Pardons.
In the Kotur case the defendant was charged with murdering a tellow countryman in a fight in South Third street, Steelton. He was convicted of murder in the first degree at his first trial, but his counsel secured another trial, but Mr. Wickersham again secured a first degree verdict and Kotur paid the death penalty.
In the Evans case, his attorneys attempted to set up the defense used by Mr. Wickersham and Mr. Carter years before in the Zorovic case.
Evans was charged with stabbing Irtus Gilliam, also colored, but his counsel argued to two juries that Evans was too intoxicated to know what he was doing. Both times he was convicted of first degree murder, and the case was sent to the Governor who fixed the date for the electric chair. Counsel for Evans then secured a postponement and have placed the case on the list of appeals to the Board of Pardons. It will be argued in September.
In addition to his legal duties Mr.
Wickersham is an active member of the Royal Arcanum, since 1915 he is Supreme Regent of the order, and he has always been closely identified with the lodge. At present he is chairman of a committee to arrange for a session of the Grand Council of Pennsylvania, Royal Arcanum, which will be held September 17 and 18, at the Penn-Harris hotel. This is the first time in the history of the State Council that it is to meet in Harrisburg. Mrs.
Wickersham is chairman of the committee arranging for the sessions of the Ladies' Auxiliary.
Mr. Wickersham said he will continue practicing law with his associate, Maurice W. Metzger, who has been a member of the firm for more than six years, and has been associated with Mr. Wickersham for more than eight years.
"I want to get around to the other side of the table in quarter sessions court," Mr. Wickersham said. "I have prosecuted so many cases that I will be glad to try the defense once more."

To The Public:

The price of shoes in most stores is becoming more alarming. Recent increases have caused investigations in another city and in many cases it was found that unscrupulous dealers were "profiteering."
THE LEADER BARGAIN STORES will never be accused of profiteering. We depend entirely upon a large volume of business with a small profit rather than a small amount of business and an unfair, unjust profit.
During the past few months our shoe business has about tripled. Why? Because the workingmen are discovering that THE LEADER'S prices are just as low to-day as always. If we desired to take advantage of the people we could add from $1.00 to $1.75 on each pair of shoes we have in stock and still be below market costs.
Our ambition and aim since we established this business is to help reduce the high cost of living and the way men, women and children are flocking to our stores for shoes shows that our efforts in this direction are highly appreciated.
