After a period of training at Kelley Field, Texas, he went overseas with the 158th aero squadron, sailing on the ill-fated Cunard liner Tuscania, which was sunk by a German submarine in Irish water on February 5, 1918. McEnaney jumped into the water when the big ship finally settled, and was afloat for four hours. He was picked up by an English tug, the only survivor to be taken on board by the little craft. From this he was later transferred to a British submarine and the transfer resulted in his being reported among those lost at sea.

An After Inventory Sale

One of the Greatest Clearance Sales Ever Held in This Establishment Beginning Friday, August 15th

Inventory has been completed, and, in accordance with the established policy of this store, which is not to carry over a single garment from one season to another, we will inaugurate the above sale for the absolute and final disposal of our entire remaining stock of exclusive Spring and Summer apparel.

The custom of this establishment of being the first to present the incoming modes of a new season makes it imperative that Spring and Summer stocks quickly make way for new Autumn fashions.

In spite of our big July Clearance Sale, which was considered one of the most successful ever held in Harrisburg, after inventory finds us with hundreds of garments which we as merchants must dispose of, and yet that offer to the individual a wonderful opportunity for advantageous purchasing.

Please bear in mind that this sale is all inclusive—it means every single garment in our cloak and suit department; every coat, every suit, every dress, every skirt, every costume, also every cape and wrap, excepting new Fall merchandise.

Considering the market conditions—the scarcity and increased cost of fabrics and the higher making costs—the garments in this sale represent some of the best values we have ever offered. This statement is made calmly and seriously after due thought of the kind of values offered heretofore.

The Sale Will Begin Friday Morning at 9.00 O'clock

This great event offers you the choice of hundreds of Coats, Capes, Dolmans, Wraps, Suits, Dresses and Skirts, every one of which is a late Spring and Summer style and can be appropriately used for early Fall wear.

All Sales Must Be Final

Details and prices of this important sale will appear in Thursday afternoon's and Friday morning's newspapers
