Janis & Co., spectacular singing and dancing number.

The Colonial management is offering an unusual feature production for the last half of this week, entitled "As a Man Thinks," featuring Leah Baird, considered one of the most graceful actresses on the screen. This production is said to carry an enormous human interest appeal and will undoubtedly play to capacity houses during its three-day run here.

To-morrow and Tuesday of next week Tom Moore will be offered in his latest and greatest photoplay production "Heartease."

To-night will witness the final showings at the Victoria Theater of "The Sneak," a William Fox photoplay, which has had a most successful run. Gladys Brockwell's charm as the gipsy princess is irresistible — a chiasm which renders quite natural the fierce rivalry among her suitors. To-morrow and Saturday of next week Tom Mix will be shown in his latest picture "The Wilderness Trail," a picture that will, it is said, win many more Mix admirers.

Harry Jolson, brother of the famous Al Jolson, is now playing at the Majestic. Harry reminds nearly everyone of his brother. Some people even say he is as good. At any rate he has a line of jokes that is bound to win hearty laughter from anyone.

Arthur Havel & Co. are presenting a clever act entitled "Playmates." It is an act that gets a number of good laughs. Next week the Majestic management is offering an act entitled "Every Sailor." This act is composed of sailors who were aboard the good ship U. S. S. George Washington which took the President, his wife and many other notable and from the Peace Conference to the Philippines on the first trip over this company presented their act. It won hearty laughter for the approval and commendation of the President. Charles Schwab also says it was one of the pleasantest hours he ever spent.

Mary Pickford in wooden shoes and red felt wearing the tulle of a hand organ and Mary Pickford planting tulips in a "Hulda" at the Regent.

Mary Pickford is presenting them to her affection as but two of the many charming incidents in "Hulda from Holland," the Paramount picture which will be shown at the Regent Theater to-day. As the little Dutch maiden in this photoplay, Mary Pickford has done her pictureque characterization of any of the portraiture of other nationalities she has made.

Movie lovers are stamping the Mary Pickford Week at the Regent with their approval and many are delighting to see the well-known successes for the first time. To-day, to-morrow and Saturday the Mack-Sennett Comedy, "Among Those Present" will be an added feature on the elaborate program.

A grand fireworks display outside and a regular big time vaudeville bill in the park will be the feature of the Regent fireworks display certainly cause the amusement seeker to head for Paxtang Park this evening.

The fireworks display will not be given until the last performance in the theater is over. An elaborate pyrotechnical program has been arranged for the park and many are expecting a special attention has been given to the bombs and aerial pieces and some beautiful designs will be shown. The bill at the park theater with "The Adelpi Melody" four as the feature attraction makes a great show. Matinees will be given at the park theater to-day and Saturday.

SCENE FROM MARY PICKFORD'S LATEST FILM, "DADDY LONG LEGS"

Judy Abbott was an orphan in the John Grier Orphanage. She was mothered by an ashen, found by a policeman, named from a telephone directory and later sent to college by a man she knew as "Daddy Long Legs." Just what "Daddy Long Legs" was Mary never knew, but she imagined him to look something like the man in the illustration above. "Daddy Long Legs" is Mary Pickford's latest photoplay, her first to be made by her own company and probably the greatest thing she has ever done. The play is adapted from the famous novel by Jean Webster of the same name. The picture will play at the Victoria Theater all next week.

Pennsylvania Shooters To Leave For Caldwell; Strongest State Team

At 9:15 to-morrow morning the advance guard of the Pennsylvania Civilian Rifle Team will depart for Caldwell, New Jersey, to take part in the National matches. These contests are being held under the direction of the Secretary of War. Local shooters will compete against picked teams of the United States Marine Corps, the finest in the world, the Army and the Navy, as well as teams from almost every State in the Union and her territories, including a team each from Alaska, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands, comprising in all approximately 1,900 expert riflemen.

The big tournament is being held at the Navy Range, located along the Passaic River, about four miles from Caldwell. During the heavy rains recently, a large dam located a short distance north of the range broke and the entire camp was covered with water to a depth of five feet. This left the camp in a filthy unsanitary condition, and resulted in considerable sickness among some of the civilian teams which arrived for the opening day shoot on August 4. Adjutant General Reary and his team captain have been in almost daily communication with the officials at Caldwell, who now report conditions greatly improved, and with the exception of mosquitoes.

The team representing the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was selected by Adjutant General Reary after a number of competitive matches. This was accomplished by the organization of a State League which shot a series of matches, beginning in May. The Clubs comprising the League consisted of the Fort Pitt Rifle Club of Pittsburgh, the University Rifle Club of Reading, the Keystone Club and the Harrisburg Rifle Club. Those members of the League also competed in one or two instances, won the right to a place on the team.

Owing to sickness and business reasons four of the best shots in Pennsylvania, if not in the United States, are not able to go to the National matches. These were Capt. Wade T. Kline, of Greensburg, Paul H. Dillman, of Pittsburgh, Dr. E. A. Waugaman, of Pittsburgh, and E. W. Sweeting, of Warren.

However, and the team that represents Pennsylvania this year is the strongest sent out of this State since the days of the famous old National

Miss Mildred Sheesley Is City Tennis Champion

Miss Mildred Sheesley, of Paxtang, yesterday defeated Miss Marion Black in the final round of the women's singles, score, 6 to 2 and 6 to 0. Miss Sheesley will now meet Mrs. Chris Sauers titleholder for the city championship. This match will be announced later.

The playing of Miss Sheesley yesterday was one of the most attractive features in the Greater Harrisburg tennis tournament. She outclassed her opponent. The winner is a graduate of the Central High school class 1918 and has been prominent in tennis play for several seasons.

Charles Pollock and Mrs. Sauers yesterday defeated Glenwood Beard and Miss Lucile Beard in the semi-finals of the mixed doubles. Pollock and Mrs. Sauers look very much like this year's champion team in this event.

General Reary to Shoot

General Reary is expected to have some voice in the distribution of prizes. A very handsome loving cup is to be contested for by the various Adjutant Generals, and while the General is not boasting, his rifle men who know what the General can do with the Springfield are predicting that this cup will soon adorn the mantel piece on the General's private office in the Capitol. The Adjutant General's final selection of the rifle team to represent this State is as follows:

Cassius A. Dunn, Team Captain, Harrisburg; Dr. D. A. Atkinson, West View, Cochr; Capt. Frederick A. Godshales, Milton, Pa., Team Quartermaster.

G. B. Armstrong, Ambridge; John Bridge, Pittsburgh; W. H. Barr, Reading; H. E. Clearman, Chester; W. E. Lavin, Honesdale; Samuel T. Durborow, Harrisburg; Claude Gerbes, Harrisburg; Charles S. Landis, Harrisburg; William M. Miller, Reading; John G. Robinson, Pittsburgh; V. J. Shepard, Pittsburgh; Granville Teter, Pittsburgh; George W. Thompson, Harrisburg; and F. F. Unger, Harrisburg.
